Schuman Plan Conferees Fail to Agree on Capital Site

County Volunteers To Name Officers

Annual Parade Scheduled at 2 PM Saturday at Saugerties

With approximately 400 firemen from the county in attendance at the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's convention Thursday evening at Saugerties, the evening was spent in entertainment of the delegates and this evening the convention members will get down to the business of election of officers and transaction of business.

Last evening's session was held at the Saugerties municipal auditorium. After the colors had been advanced, the salute to the flag and the invocation followed by singing "The Star Spangled Banner," President George Gardiner presented Mayor George Holmes of Saugerties who welcomed the visiting firemen and told them the village would do its best to entertain them during the convention.

Entertainment Presented

George B. Ohley, chairman of the entertainment committee presented a program of Daley Production entertainment, which included six acts of variety. Refreshments were served in the firemen's quarters on the lower floor of the Municipal building during the evening.

This evening officers will be elected. It is anticipated President George Gardiner will be succeeded by Vice President Percy Bush of Ulster Hose, town of Ulster.

Saturday at 2 o'clock the convention will be brought to a close with the parade which will include three divisions, 31 fire companies with 13 bands and drum corps. Five women's auxiliaries will also participate in the parade and there will be 30 pieces of apparatus. The committee expects about 1,500 marchers in line. A. H. Wicks Company is the only Kingston fire company to participate in the parade.

The line of march will end at Cantine Memorial Field where it will disband and refreshments will be served at the field.

Asks Flags' Display

Stanley J. Matthews, president of the Kingston Tercentenary committee, has issued an appeal to all business people and firms to display the flag in front of their premises, at least over this weekend when the historical pageant is bringing many out of town people to the city. In the business sections provision has been made for displaying the flag at the curb. Matthews asks all merchants and also individuals to display flags during the celebration period, or to put out suitable decorations calling attention to the event.

Clubs Are Closed

Tehran, Iran, July 25 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Wayne Zimmerman, head of the U. S. Army mission in Iran, today ordered the closing of officers' and non-commissioned officers' clubs in the wake of anti-American demonstrations spurred by Communists. The newly opened American club available to all U. S. citizens living in Tehran was also closed. The step was taken to prevent any heavy concentration of Americans in one spot that would make them a target for demonstrators in this tense city.

Asks Votes for Stevenson

Some Institutions Will Begin Work August 10 in Luxembourg

Paris, July 25 (AP) — The six Schuman Plan foreign ministers today put western Europe's steel-coal pool into motion but failed to agree on a capital for their unprecedented experiment in economic unity.

Sitting almost continuously from 9 a. m. yesterday to 5 a. m. today, the ministers agreed that some of the six-nation economic union's institutions will start operations Aug. 10 in temporary quarters in Luxembourg, the capital of the Grand Duchy.

The joint assembly, or legislative branch, will begin work a month later, Sept. 10, at Strasbourg, France, in the chambers of the council of Europe's consultative assembly.

Proposals Shelved

In their hours of sometimes bitter wrangling, the ministers temporarily shelved French and Italian proposals to "Europeanize" the Saar Valley as a permanent home for the plan and use Strasbourg as a provisional capital until the Saar could be internationalized.

This was put aside after France and Germany agreed to direct talks on the Saar's status, long an issue between the two neighbors.

Monnet Is Chairman

Unofficial reports said Jean Monnet, the chief French negotiator in drafting the 50-year treaty which will eventually create a wide free trade area in steel and coal among the six partners, would be the chairman of the executive.

The executive group's first talk will be to open negotiations with the member governments—France, Belgium, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Italy and West Germany — leading to establishment within eight months of a common market for steel and coal.

Child Dies of Injuries

Waldwick, N. J., July 25 (AP)—Five-year-old Patricia Weston of 79 Franklin Turnpike, died yesterday in Good Samaritan Hospital, Suffern, N. Y., of injuries she received Wednesday when she and her younger brother were run over by a car while at play near their home. The brother, George Weston, Jr., 3, is in fair condition in the hospital with multiple bruises and head injuries. Policeman Angelo Biele, who investigated the case, said the children apparently had been lying in the road at play when the car, driven by Enrico La Porta, 56, of 58 Harrison avenue, Waldwick, ran over them. La Porta was free in $500 bail on a charge of causing death by reckless driving.

Woman Is Seized

Ipoh, Malaya, July 25 (AP)—Police today announced the capture of a gun-toting Chinese woman said to be the highest ranking female leader in Communist guerrilla forces. She was identified as Lee Meng, whose activities as a guerrilla leader in the tin mining state of Perak resulted in the government offering $40,000 reward for her arrest. In a post-midnight raid on an Ipoh house, police seized her and three other women and confiscated a number of Communist documents.

Ferry Is Burned

Jersey City, N. J., July 25 (AP)—Fire wrecked a ferryboat in drydock at a shipyard here early today, sending up flames visible for many miles. The ferry, "Catskill," which belongs to the West Shore Railroad of New Jersey, caught fire shortly before 4 a. m. (EDT) at the Rodermond Shipyard. Flames swirled almost a hundred feet high and loosed showers of sparks.

Maines Retirement Revives 50 Years of Firemanic History

Fought Some of City's Top Fires Since 1900; Got Captaincy in 1943; Praises Chief

After 44 years of public service in the urgent world of bell and siren, Capt. E. Wright Maines recently shelved his uniform for well earned retirement.

Left for the records and his memories in this almost half century of active duty are many commendable feats in the safeguarding of life and property against the threat of ravaging fire.

Mindful of his enviable record and regretful of his absence in their ranks, the retired fireman's colleagues recently decided upon a gift that would be just about right for any man with new hours of leisure.

This one, however, is all the more appropriate for Capt. Maines because it was made for him by a fellow firemen, Capt. Edward H. "Yank" Albrecht, who has long been one of the city's top men in the department.

Capt. Albrecht turned to his well exercised craftsmanship to produce for his veteran colleague a 14-foot rowboat which was presented this week with brief and simple ceremony. The craft is 4½ feet wide, 14 inches deep and is seaworthy for eight persons, said its builder, who has produced about 100 of them in the past 38 years.

In the boat on future fishing trips, no doubt, the retired fire captain and his visiting firemen and friends will swap many a tale of fire fighting during the past half century, and the captain may number among them his experiences 15 or 20 of the city's most destructive fires.

One of First Ten

Capt. Maines was one of the city's first 10 "partially paid" firemen. He received a provisional appointment on Jan. 1, 1908 and on Dec. 1 of that year became a regular member of the department. Before that he had eight years of experience as a volunteer having joined Excelsior Hose Company on Oct. 1, 1900. Rodney A. Chipp was the chief when Maines joined the paid department.

Grand Jury Places Charges of Perjury Against Leary

Indictment Follows Probe Into Affairs of Veteran GOP Leader

Ballston Spa., N. Y., July 25 (AP)—The special grand jury investigating gambling and possible political corruption in Saratoga county today indicted Republican Boss James A. Leary on charges of first- and second-degree perjury.

Leary was arrested by state police in Saratoga Springs.

The indictment today came after the jury met yesterday for nine hours—its longest session—in which they delved into the affairs of Saratoga county's veteran GOP chieftain.

The jury's indictment charged that Leary lied in his testimony before the jury July 16, when he denied that he owned 688.8 shares of stock in the Saratoga National Bank.

Prosecution Contention

The prosecution has contended that Leary held controlling stock in the Saratoga National Bank through a dummy.

The alleged dummy was said to be Herbert C. Stone, a Gloversville television repairman.

Leary has denied the contention.

Stone was among the witnesses called yesterday by the jury.

Other witnesses included three officials of the bank.

They were: Dr. Frederick Resseigue, president; Andrey Douglas, cashier, and Douglas Williams, assistant cashier.

Also called were Leary's law partners, Michael E. Sweeney and Walter Fullerton.

Leary was not called before the grand jury yesterday. He has appeared before the jury, however, during the long investigation.

Says Cards Returned

Lawrence J. MacAvery, Chamber of Commerce president said today the post card survey to determine the number of persons in the Kingston area who would be interested in new employment here, showed approximately 3,000 showing interest. A high percentage of these, he said, appear to be persons who live in and near the city and are employed elsewhere. Of the total 1,800 replies were from women and the rest from men. The return to date on the 15,000 cards sent out, has been about ten per cent, he reported, and he described the results of the survey as "very favorable."

Albany, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Seth W. Morton, Albany fuel dealer and a director of the Saratoga Racing Association, died today at his home in suburban Loudonville after a brief illness. He was 70.

Truman Tells of Pact on 'Basic Issues' Between Murray and Fairless—Both Will Talk to Their Groups

Washington, July 25 (AP)—The longest, costliest steel strike in American history in effect is over. Production is expected to resume next week.

The striking CIO Steelworkers Union was considered virtually certain today to ratify a strike-ending agreement reached at the White House after President Truman personally demanded—and got—a settlement.

It was not a clear cut victory for anyone concerned—the union, industry, or the government. There was give and take on all sides.

The end of the crippling, 53-day strike was announced late yesterday by the President himself, with CIO President Philip Murray and U. S. Steel Chairman Benjamin Fairless standing beside him.

Calls Newsmen

Calling newsmen into his own office—a rare occurrence—Truman told them Murray and Fairless "have reached agreement on important basic issues" after day-long conferences, and predicted a "speedy resumption of steel production."

He said Murray would meet today (1 p. m.) with his 175-man Wage-Policy Committee to obtain ratification of the agreement.

Fairless, it was reliably learned, plans to make a personal appearance before this committee in a dramatic move aimed at wiping out any bitterness. The union invited him to make a short talk to the group after a closed session during which actual ratification of the agreement was scheduled.

Must Heat Furnaces

At best it will be four or five days before any substantial production of steel is reached. It takes that long to heat up the banked blast furnaces which stand-by workers have kept alive ever since the strike started June 2.

The new steel which comes out of some 380 struck plants will sell for at least $5.20 a ton more than before the strike started.

A few minutes after Truman's dramatic announcement the government approved a price increase of that amount for raw, or carbon, steel specialized, high-alloy steel will get a boost of $5.65 a ton.

Some officials have predicted that such a boost would increase the cost of living, already at an all-time high.

Price Set by Wilson

The $5 price increase, ironically enough, was the price increase Charles E. Wilson, as defense mobilizer, had said the industry should get to compensate for higher wage costs. Wilson said he thought he had presidential approval for an over-ceiling boost but Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall refused to go along and said that as long as he was price boss the industry would not get more than the $2.84 allowed under the Capehart Amendment to the controls law.

Truman stuck with Arnall, and Wilson resigned, writing the President "you changed the plan we agreed upon."

Some Conditions of Pact

No wage or other terms were announced at yesterday's White House session, but it was reliably

French Hurl Back Communist Push Upon T-Bone Hill

Battalion Attached to U. S. Second Division—Big Guns Punctuate Fighting

Seoul, Korea, July 25 (AP)—French infantrymen today hurled back a 500-man Chinese Communist drive on T-Bone Hill in a bloody opening to the 26th month of the Korean War.

French defenders of the western front hill inflicted heavy losses during two hours of pre-dawn hand-to-hand combat.

Three Red companies advanced at 2 a. m. against the hill west of Chorwon, an old Iron Triangle anchor city.

Artillery bursts punctuated hand-to-hand fighting as the 500 Communists got caught in crossfire of French positions at the bottom end of T-Bone.

A frontline allied officer estimated 56 Chinese were killed and 150 wounded. The cut-up Red forces withdrew at 4 a. m.

The French battalion is attached to the U. S. Second Infantry Division, which has fought the Chinese since July 17 for possession of nearby Old Baldy Hill.

Earlier today the U. S. Eighth Army permitted identification of the Second Division as the unit assigned to hold the series of hills overlooking the main battle front. The U. S. 45th Division last month wrested the heights from the Communists in some of the heaviest fighting of the war this year.

The Chinese regained the crest of Old Baldy Tuesday.

Overcast skies reduced allied air activity to fighter-bomber strikes on the front this morning.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, July 25 (AP)—The position of the treasury July 23: Net budget receipts $123,974,502.35. Budget expenditures $169,521,511.69. Cash balance $8,262,319,309.94. Customs receipts for month $34,964,845.43. Budget receipts fiscal year July 1 $2,597,572,923.81. Budget expenditures fiscal year $5,169,544,646.63. Budget deficit $2,571,971,722.82. Total debt $262,966,459,676.20. Increase over previous day $24,425,374.52. Gold assets $23,349,580,445.17.

Istanbul, Turkey, July 25 (AP)—At least 20 persons were drowned and scores injured in a flood which swept the valley of the Kizil Irmak river following a recent heavy rain, it was reported here today.

Truman Expected To Tell Party He Won Without T-H

President Planning to Say He Will Go on Tour Anywhere in U. S. for Nominee

Washington, July 25 (AP)—President Truman flies to Chicago and what is expected to be the concluding session of the Democratic National Convention today with the air of a happy man.

An agreement pointing to the end of the prolonged steel strike dangled from his belt. He could tell fellow Democrats tonight that the victory was won without use of the Taft-Hartley Act they are pledged to repeal.

And with Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois a heavy favorite for his party's presidential nomination, there were indications Truman may be able to boast he had picked a winner there, too.

The President announced his support of Stevenson through a White House announcement while nominations were underway yesterday. And his aides are saying that Stevenson has been Truman's choice ever since the President removed himself as a possible candidate for re-election.

Leaves This Afternoon

Truman leaves Washington at 1:30 p. m. (EST) aboard the White House plane, The Independence, for the two and a half hour flight to Chicago's municipal airport.

He will go directly to his suite in the Blackstone Hotel, to remain until 6 p. m. when he goes to a private dinner party (Saddle and Sirloin Club). From there he will walk to convention to voice his support of the new ticket.

The White House declined to speculate on the President's speech. Presidential Secretary Joseph Short there would be no advance copies of the notes from which Truman would talk.

Plans Hot Talk

However, he plans a real "give 'em hell" campaign talk to the delegates, with a promise to stump anywhere in the country the new nominee and the National Committee requests his service.

After turning over the Democratic standard to its new bearer he plans to fly to Missouri Saturday to remain at his home in Independence until he votes in the state Democratic primary Aug. 5.

Mrs. Truman is accompanying the President to Chicago.

Gavin Can Remove His Mask, He Has Cast HST Ballot

He can take off his mask and be just plain Thomas J. Gavin, councilman of Kansas City, Mo.

For almost a week he has been acting as two other people.

When it came time for Missouri to ballot, he cast one-half vote for delegate Harry S. Truman of Independence, Mo., President of the United States.

Acheson, Says Badge

His VIP-type badge hung heavily on his chubby chest. It was engraved, "Dean G. Acheson, Secretary of State." That was so he could waltz with ease about the jam-packed convention hall.

Neither the real Truman nor the real Acheson was at the convention. They were in Washington.

Thus, Alternate Delegate Gavin—wearing the official colors of the one and the open-sesame badge of the other—floated on a cloud of glory for four days.

His biggest moment came yesterday. He ended a long guessing game, heightened since the convention opened Monday:

Answers at Caucus

At a Missouri caucus Gavin gave the answer. But not right away. He stalled, talking about other things, when the delega-

Kroll Calls Upon CIO To Aid Him

Choice Expressed

Gavin Tells Convention President's Selection Is Illinoisan

Convention Hall, Chicago, July 25 (AP)—A bandwagon rolled swiftly toward Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois todays as the Democratic convention got down to the job of picking its presidential candidate. It looked like a question only of what ballot would give him the nomination.

Just before Chairman Sam Rayburn banged his gavel to open this climatic session of the party's 31st convention, the CIO grabbed for the tailboard of the wagon.

In a statement, Jack Kroll, CIO Political Action director, asked all CIO member delegates to vote for Stevenson "as soon as they can fulfill their commitments"—that is after they had first honored any promises to give one round of vote to others.

Kroll's move may have been designed as a bid to put a man friendly toward the CIO's views on the ticket as Stevenson's running mate.

Blow to Two

It was a blow, in any event, to Estes Kefauver and Averell Harriman, bidding for the top place.

Whipped in a terrific last night-early today battle over seating southern rebels against a loyalty pledge, they had hoped for a shift of sentiment in the hours between the early morning adjournment and today's assembly for the pay-off session.

They believed they had perhaps slowed a Stevenson steam-roller by delaying tactics which stalled off a presidential ballot last night although leaders kept the convention in session until two o'clock in the morning.

The way the Stevenson forces maneuvered to seat the Virginia, Louisiana and South Carolina delegations, despite their refusal to take a loyalty pledge, pointed toward a southerner as the No. 2 man on the ticket—if Stevenson wins.

Scrap Is Expected

But those northern elements which fly the "liberal" banner indicated they would scrap to get one of their men accepted.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, who has been working with the Kefauver-Harriman combine on test issues, told reporters he personally wouldn't mind seeing Stevenson the party nominee "as long as there's another liberal on the ticket.

"I've been pleading with the Harriman, Kefauver and liberal Stevenson people to get together," Humphrey said.

At a pre-session caucus of the California delegation, John Anson Ford, state national committeeman, told the delegates to stand firm for Kefauver. He said there was a "ruthless" coalition out to put Stevenson over.

Making No Deal

State Assemblyman Robert Condon told the Californians: "We're not making any deal for second choice. We're for Kefauver until he releases us."

The newly-seated Virginia delegates caucused and voted to give their 28 votes to Senator Richard Russell of Georgia on the first ballot. They had been leaning that way but were not formally committed heretofore.

With 10 candidates in the field, it might well take several ballots to shake out the "favorite sons" and get a decision.

Even in this climactic hour, Stevenson still wasn't saying whether he would accept a nomination.

He left his residence for a stroll this morning and news reporters flocked about him. One asked if he would accept a draft.

Stevenson: "I haven't got anything to say."

With the start of balloting only a few hours away, The Associated Press tabulation of known first ballot standings was:

Kefauver 272½.
Stevenson 215.
Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia 207.
Harriman 107½.
Others 247½.
Uncommitted 179½.
Needed to nominate 615½.
Working together in what they

Pro-Harriman Boys in State Get Sound Shellacking

Chicago, July 25 (AP)—New York delegates who followed their pro-Harriman leaders down the rocky "liberal" road to defeat at the Democratic convention last night were licking their wounds today and straining to get on the winning side.

Most of the delegation went along with their trinity of leadership—Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., Sen. Herbert H. Lehman and State Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick—in what developed into a triple trimming.

The delegation voted 87-7 against seating Virginia's delegates, but the convention decided the other way.

Leaders of the New York delegation then made a supposedly strategic move to prevent the collapse of the candidacy of Averell Harriman for the presidential nomination and the possible selection of Gov. Adlai Stevenson on the first ballot.

Adjournment Sought

They sought in a jointly planned move with the backers of Sen. Estes Kefauver to adjourn the convention until today. They figured it would give them a little time to rally the "liberal" forces and maybe unite on Harriman or Kefauver.

The Stevenson crowd, backed by the south, blocked that move with a successful motion to table the adjournment motion. Permanent Chairman Sam Rayburn finally adjourned the session without a ballot on the presidential candidates, but only because it was close to 2 a. m. (EST) and the Harriman-Kefauver forces seemed bent on a filibuster.

The "liberals," with the Roosevelt boys, Franklin and James among the leaders, fell also on the issue of forcing South Carolina out of the convention.

Rally Is Held

Early today, the Harriman and Kefauver forces held a rally in hotel to try to group all the "liberal" elements for a final bid to stop Stevenson.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota told the assemblage of 500 workers and delegates that they had been put through the wringer last night.

Another speaker, who did not identify himself, said:

"Farley and the Dixiecrats gave up a pretty good trouncing."

U.S. Asks Better Treatment For UN Prisoners of War

Washington, July 25 (AP)—The United States has appealed to Russia to ask the Chinese and North Korean Communists to provide better treatment for United Nations prisoners of war in Korea.

The appeal sent also to the International Red Cross, was announced by the State Department yesterday in advance of the opening at Toronto Monday of a world-wide Red Cross conference at which the various Communist regimes will be represented.

The timing was regarded here as significant:

First, if there is any real hope of success in this field, now may be the best time for trying.

Second, the appeal is a good propaganda maneuver to offset an expected Red attempt to use the Red Cross meeting as a forum for attacks on the United States and its Allies.

The plea to the Russians to use their influence with the North Korean and Chinese Communist authorities to get them to carry out the Geneva convention for treatment of prisoners of war was delivered in Moscow Wednesday by Ambassador George F. Kennan. A similar request was presented about the same time to the International Committee of the Red Cross at Geneva.

The note to Russia said that though both the Chinese and Korean Reds had promised to

Woman Is Seized

Ipoh, Malaya, July 25 (AP)—Police today announced the capture of a gun-toting Chinese woman said to be the highest ranking female leader in Communist guerrilla forces. She was identified as Lee Meng, whose activities as a guerrilla leader in the tin mining state of Perak resulted in the government offering $40,000 reward for her arrest. In a post-midnight raid on an Ipoh house, police seized her and three other women and confiscated a number of Communist documents.

Ferry Is Burned

Jersey City, N. J., July 25 (AP)—Fire wrecked a ferryboat in drydock at a shipyard here early today, sending up flames visible for many miles. The ferry, "Catskill," which belongs to the West Shore Railroad of New Jersey, caught fire shortly before 4 a. m. (EDT) at the Rodermond Shipyard. Flames swirled almost a hundred feet high and loosed showers of sparks.

Grand Jury Places Charges of Perjury Against Leary

Indictment Follows Probe Into Affairs of Veteran GOP Leader

Ballston Spa., N. Y., July 25 (AP)—The special grand jury investigating gambling and possible political corruption in Saratoga county today indicted Republican Boss James A. Leary on charges of first- and second-degree perjury.

Leary was arrested by state police in Saratoga Springs.

The indictment today came after the jury met yesterday for nine hours—its longest session—in which they delved into the affairs of Saratoga county's veteran GOP chieftain.

The jury's indictment charged that Leary lied in his testimony before the jury July 16, when he denied that he owned 688.8 shares of stock in the Saratoga National Bank.

Prosecution Contention

The prosecution has contended that Leary held controlling stock in the Saratoga National Bank through a dummy.

The alleged dummy was said to be Herbert C. Stone, a Gloversville television repairman.

Leary has denied the contention.

Stone was among the witnesses called yesterday by the jury.

Other witnesses included three officials of the bank.

They were: Dr. Frederick Resseigue, president; Andrey Douglas, cashier, and Douglas Williams, assistant cashier.

Also called were Leary's law partners, Michael E. Sweeney and Walter Fullerton.

Says Cards Returned

Lawrence J. MacAvery, Chamber of Commerce president said today the post card survey to determine the number of persons in the Kingston area who would be interested in new employment here, showed approximately 3,000 showing interest. A high percentage of these, he said, appear to be persons who live in and near the city and are employed elsewhere. Of the total 1,800 replies were from women and the rest from men. The return to date on the 15,000 cards sent out, has been about ten per cent, he reported, and he described the results of the survey as "very favorable."

Seth Morton Dies

Pro-Harriman Boys in State Get Sound Shellacking

Chicago, July 25 (AP)—New York delegates who followed their pro-Harriman leaders down the rocky "liberal" road to defeat at the Democratic convention last night were licking their wounds today and straining to get on the winning side.

Most of the delegation went along with their trinity of leadership—Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., Sen. Herbert H. Lehman and State Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick—in what developed into a triple trimming.

The delegation voted 87-7 against seating Virginia's delegates, but the convention decided the other way.

Leaders of the New York delegation then made a supposedly strategic move to prevent the collapse of the candidacy of Averell Harriman for the presidential nomination and the possible selection of Gov. Adlai Stevenson on the first ballot.

Adjournment Sought

They sought in a jointly planned move with the backers of Sen. Estes Kefauver to adjourn the convention until today. They figured it would give them a little time to rally the "liberal" forces and maybe unite on Harriman or Kefauver.

The Stevenson crowd, backed by the south, blocked that move with a successful motion to table the adjournment motion. Permanent Chairman Sam Rayburn finally adjourned the session without a ballot on the presidential candidates, but only because it was close to 2 a. m. (EST) and the Harriman-Kefauver forces seemed bent on a filibuster.

The "liberals," with the Roosevelt boys, Franklin and James among the leaders, fell also on the issue of forcing South Carolina out of the convention.

Rally Is Held

Early today, the Harriman and Kefauver forces held a rally in hotel to try to group all the "liberal" elements for a final bid to stop Stevenson.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota told the assemblage of 500 workers and delegates that they had been put through the wringer last night.

Another speaker, who did not identify himself, said:

"Farley and the Dixiecrats gave up a pretty good trouncing."

Farley, who helped put the late

Truman Tells of Pact on 'Basic Issues' Between Murray and Fairless—Both Will Talk to Their Groups

Washington, July 25 (AP)—The longest, costliest steel strike in American history in effect is over. Production is expected to resume next week.

The striking CIO Steelworkers Union was considered virtually certain today to ratify a strike-ending agreement reached at the White House after President Truman personally demanded—and got—a settlement.

It was not a clear cut victory for anyone concerned—the union, industry, or the government. There was give and take on all sides.

The end of the crippling, 53-day strike was announced late yesterday by the President himself, with CIO President Philip Murray and U. S. Steel Chairman Benjamin Fairless standing beside him.

Calls Newsmen

Calling newsmen into his own office—a rare occurrence—Truman told them Murray and Fairless "have reached agreement on important basic issues" after day-long conferences, and predicted a "speedy resumption of steel production."

He said Murray would meet today (1 p. m.) with his 175-man Wage-Policy Committee to obtain ratification of the agreement.

Fairless, it was reliably learned, plans to make a personal appearance before this committee in a dramatic move aimed at wiping out any bitterness. The union invited him to make a short talk to the group after a closed session during which actual ratification of the agreement was scheduled.

Must Heat Furnaces

At best it will be four or five days before any substantial production of steel is reached. It takes that long to heat up the banked blast furnaces which stand-by workers have kept alive ever since the strike started June 2.

The new steel which comes out of some 380 struck plants will sell for at least $5.20 a ton more than before the strike started.

A few minutes after Truman's dramatic announcement the government approved a price increase of that amount for raw, or carbon, steel specialized, high-alloy steel will get a boost of $5.65 a ton.

Some officials have predicted that such a boost would increase the cost of living, already at an all-time high.

Price Set by Wilson

The $5 price increase, ironically enough, was the price increase Charles E. Wilson, as defense mobilizer, had said the industry should get to compensate for higher wage costs. Wilson said he thought he had presidential approval for an over-ceiling boost but Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall refused to go along and said that as long as he was price boss the industry would not get more than the $2.84 allowed under the Capehart Amendment to the controls law.

Truman stuck with Arnall, and Wilson resigned, writing the President "you changed the plan we agreed upon."

Some Conditions of Pact

No wage or other terms were announced at yesterday's White House session, but it was reliably

Battalion Attached to U. S. Second Division—Big Guns Punctuate Fighting

Seoul, Korea, July 25 (AP)—French infantrymen today hurled back a 500-man Chinese Communist drive on T-Bone Hill in a bloody opening to the 26th month of the Korean War.

French defenders of the western front hill inflicted heavy losses during two hours of pre-dawn hand-to-hand combat.

Three Red companies advanced at 2 a. m. against the hill west of Chorwon, an old Iron Triangle anchor city.

Artillery bursts punctuated hand-to-hand fighting as the 500 Communists got caught in crossfire of French positions at the bottom end of T-Bone.

A frontline allied officer estimated 56 Chinese were killed and 150 wounded. The cut-up Red forces withdrew at 4 a. m.

The French battalion is attached to the U. S. Second Infantry Division, which has fought the Chinese since July 17 for possession of nearby Old Baldy Hill.

Earlier today the U. S. Eighth Army permitted identification of the Second Division as the unit assigned to hold the series of hills overlooking the main battle front. The U. S. 45th Division last month wrested the heights from the Communists in some of the heaviest fighting of the war this year.

The Chinese regained the crest of Old Baldy Tuesday.

Overcast skies reduced allied air activity to fighter-bomber strikes on the front this morning.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, July 25 (AP)—The position of the treasury July 23: Net budget receipts $123,974,502.35. Budget expenditures $169,521,511.69. Cash balance $8,262,319,309.94. Customs receipts for month $34,964,845.43. Budget receipts fiscal year July 1 $2,597,572,923.81. Budget expenditures fiscal year $5,169,544,646.63. Budget deficit $2,571,971,722.82. Total debt $262,966,459,676.20. Increase over previous day $24,425,374.52. Gold assets $23,349,580,445.17.

Istanbul, Turkey, July 25 (AP)—At least 20 persons were drowned and scores injured in a flood which swept the valley of the Kizil Irmak river following a recent heavy rain, it was reported here today.

U.S. Asks Better Treatment For UN Prisoners of War

Washington, July 25 (AP)—The United States has appealed to Russia to ask the Chinese and North Korean Communists to provide better treatment for United Nations prisoners of war in Korea.

The appeal sent also to the International Red Cross, was announced by the State Department yesterday in advance of the opening at Toronto Monday of a worldwide Red Cross conference at which the various Communist regimes will be represented.

The timing was regarded here as significant:

First, if there is any real hope of success in this field, now may be the best time for trying.

Second, the appeal is a good propaganda maneuver to offset an expected Red attempt to use the Red Cross meeting as a forum for attacks on the United States and its Allies.

The plea to the Russians to use their influence with the North Korean and Chinese Communist authorities to get them to carry out the Geneva convention for treatment of prisoners of war was delivered in Moscow Wednesday by Ambassador George F. Kennan. A similar request was presented about the same time to the International Committee of the Red Cross at Geneva.

The note to Russia said that though both the Chinese and Korean Reds had promised to

President Planning to Say He Will Go on Tour Anywhere in U. S. for Nominee

Washington, July 25 (AP)—President Truman flies to Chicago and what is expected to be the concluding session of the Democratic National Convention today with the air of a happy man.

An agreement pointing to the end of the prolonged steel strike dangled from his belt. He could tell fellow Democrats tonight that the victory was won without use of the Taft-Hartley Act they are pledged to repeal.

And with Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois a heavy favorite for his party's presidential nomination, there were indications Truman may be able to boast he had picked a winner there, too.

The President announced his support of Stevenson through a White House announcement while nominations were underway yesterday. And his aides are saying that Stevenson has been Truman's choice ever since the President removed himself as a possible candidate for re-election.

Leaves This Afternoon

Truman leaves Washington at 1:30 p. m. (EST) aboard the White House plane, The Independence, for the two and a half hour flight to Chicago's municipal airport.

He will go directly to his suite in the Blackstone Hotel, to remain until 6 p. m. when he goes to a private dinner party (Saddle and Sirloin Club). From there he will walk to convention to voice his support of the new ticket.

The White House declined to speculate on the President's speech. Presidential Secretary Joseph Short there would be no advance copies of the notes from which Truman would talk.

Plans Hot Talk

However, he plans a real "give 'em hell" campaign talk to the delegates, with a promise to stump anywhere in the country the new nominee and the National Committee requests his service.

After turning over the Democratic standard to its new bearer he plans to fly to Missouri Saturday to remain at his home in Independence until he votes in the state Democratic primary Aug. 5.

Mrs. Truman is accompanying the President to Chicago.

Gavin Can Remove His Mask, He Has Cast HST Ballot

Chicago, July 25 (AP)—The ball is over today for the Democratic national convention's political Cinderella.

He can take off his mask and be just plain Thomas J. Gavin, councilman of Kansas City, Mo.

For almost a week he has been acting as two other people.

When it came time for Missouri to ballot, he cast one-half vote for delegate Harry S. Truman of Independence, Mo., President of the United States.

Acheson, Says Badge

His VIP-type badge hung heavily on his chubby chest. It was engraved, "Dean G. Acheson, Secretary of State." That was so he could waltz with ease about the jam-packed convention hall.

Neither the real Truman nor the real Acheson was at the convention. They were in Washington.

Thus, Alternate Delegate Gavin—wearing the official colors of the one and the open-sesame badge of the other—floated on a cloud of glory for four days.

His biggest moment came yesterday. He ended a long guessing game, heightened since the convention opened Monday:

Answers at Caucus

At a Missouri caucus Gavin gave the answer. But not right away. He stalled, talking about other things, when the delega-

Kroll Calls Upon CIO To Aid Him

Choice Expressed

Gavin Tells Convention President's Selection Is Illinoisan

Convention Hall, Chicago, July 25 (AP)—A bandwagon rolled swiftly toward Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois todays as the Democratic convention got down to the job of picking its presidential candidate. It looked like a question only of what ballot would give him the nomination.

Just before Chairman Sam Rayburn banged his gavel to open this climatic session of the party's 31st convention, the CIO grabbed for the tailboard of the wagon.

In a statement, Jack Kroll, CIO Political Action director, asked all CIO member delegates to vote for Stevenson "as soon as they can fulfill their commitments"—that is after they had first honored any promises to give one round of vote to others.

Kroll's move may have been designed as a bid to put a man friendly toward the CIO's views on the ticket as Stevenson's running mate.

Blow to Two

It was a blow, in any event, to Estes Kefauver and Averell Harriman, bidding for the top place.

Whipped in a terrific last night-early today battle over seating southern rebels against a loyalty pledge, they had hoped for a shift of sentiment in the hours between the early morning adjournment and today's assembly for the pay-off session.

They believed they had perhaps slowed a Stevenson steam-roller by delaying tactics which stalled off a presidential ballot last night although leaders kept the convention in session until two o'clock in the morning.

The way the Stevenson forces maneuvered to seat the Virginia, Louisiana and South Carolina delegations, despite their refusal to take a loyalty pledge, pointed toward a southerner as the No. 2 man on the ticket—if Stevenson wins.

Scrap Is Expected

But those northern elements which fly the "liberal" banner indicated they would scrap to get one of their men accepted.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, who has been working with the Kefauver-Harriman combine on test issues, told reporters he personally wouldn't mind seeing Stevenson the party nominee "as long as there's another liberal on the ticket.

"I've been pleading with the Harriman, Kefauver and liberal Stevenson people to get together," Humphrey said.

At a pre-session caucus of the California delegation, John Anson Ford, state national committeeman, told the delegates to stand firm for Kefauver. He said there was a "ruthless" coalition out to put Stevenson over.

Making No Deal

State Assemblyman Robert Condon told the Californians: "We're not making any deal for second choice. We're for Kefauver until he releases us."

The newly-seated Virginia delegates caucused and voted to give their 28 votes to Senator Richard Russell of Georgia on the first ballot. They had been leaning that way but were not formally committed heretofore.

With 10 candidates in the field, it might well take several ballots to shake out the "favorite sons" and get a decision.

Even in this climactic hour, Stevenson still wasn't saying whether he would accept a nomination.

He left his residence for a stroll this morning and news reporters flocked about him. One asked if he would accept a draft.

Stevenson: "I haven't got anything to say."

With the start of balloting only a few hours away, The Associated Press tabulation of known first ballot standings was:

Kefauver 272½.
Stevenson 215.
Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia 207.
Harriman 107½.
Others 247½.
Uncommitted 179½.
Needed to nominate 615½.

Sweptback Wings Coming

Farmingdale, N. Y. (AP)—Sweptback wing effect will be standard for every first-line combat plane in the Air Force by 1955, says Alexander Kartveli, vice-president of Republic Aviation Corp. "It's sweptback wings that help man fly faster than sound," he said. "Sweptback wings cut down on what airmen call drag. For example, a plane with wings swept back 45 degrees flying at the speed of sound (760 miles an hour at sea level) reacts to the pilot's control like a straight-wing plane at only 540 mph. "Thus a plane with sweptback wings is more maneuverable at high speeds, can turn, wheel, climb and dive easier," he said.

First Ballot Voting at Parley

Convention Hall, Chicago, July 25 (AP)—Here is the state-by-state vote at the Democratic national convention today on the first ballot for selection of a presidential nominee:

Alabama 22 votes: Kefauver 8; Russell 13; Stevenson ½; Barkley ½.

Alaska 6 votes: Kefauver 6.

Arizona 12 votes: Kerr 12.

Arkansas 22 votes: Fulbright 22.

California 68 votes: Kefauver 68.

Colorado 16 votes: Harriman 5, Kefauver 2, Russell 8, Stevenson ½, not voting ½.

Connecticut 16 votes: McMahon 16.

Delaware 6 votes: Stevenson 6.

Florida 24 votes: Kefauver 5, Russell 19:

Georgia 28 votes: Russell 28.

Hawaii 6 votes: Harriman 1, Kefauver 1, Stevenson 2, Barkley 2.

Idaho 12 votes: Harriman 3½, Fefauver 3, Kerr 3, Russell 1, Stevenson 1½.

Illinois 60 votes: Harriman 1, Kefauver 3, Stevenson 53, Sen. Douglas 3.

Indiana 26 votes: Kefauver 1, Stevenson 25.

Iowa 24 votes: Harriman ½, Kefauver 8, Kerr 3, Russell 2, Stevenson 8, Barkley 2½.

Stevenson's . . .

have styled a "liberal" combine which has attracted supporters of some other candidates, Kefauver and Harriman took a 615 to 529 licking in efforts to prevent the 28-vote Virginia delegation from balloting on presidential and vice presidential nominees.

First Since FDR

It was the first time such a coalition has been defeated on an important roll call in a Democratic convention since the early days of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The result might presage a swing toward a more conservative type of campaign if Stevenson emerges as the winner—especially if he gets southern support in the nomination drive being put on for him.

The Virginians had refused to subscribe fully to a new loyalty pledge put across by the K-H combine which would require delegates to work to place the convention's nominees on their state's November ballot, under the Democratic label.

In the uproarous two-hour wrangle that followed this test vote, Rep. John McCormack of Massachusetts — filling in temporarily for convention chairman Sam Rayburn of Texas—gavelled the pledge-balking South Carolina and Louisiana delegations back on the roll call from which they had been stricken when they refused to take the loyalty pledge.

The net result was to leave the three delegations in a position to cast a total of 64 convention votes for the south's champion, Sen. Russell.

Could Go Home

Then, if they didn't like the eventual nominee, they could go home and name their own candidate for president in state conventions. All they appeared to be pledged to do, as Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina explained it to the delegates, was to give the national party a place on their state ballots.

Byrnes was in the center of an unscheduled bit of excitement when a newspaper caught fire near him while he was speaking. Television viewers saw Peter J. Cloherty of Boston, an assistant sergeant of arms, seize the microphone from Byrnes and shout: "Don't get panicky. It's only a newspaper. It will be put out in a minute."

It was put out in about a minute, but there was tense anxiety as the milling crowd was admonished not to get panicky.

Assistant Fire Commissioner Anthony J. Millaney said he thought the blaze may have been set deliberately in an effort to force an adjournment of the proceedings.

The Stevenson bandwagon drivers, sensing a gain in momentum, were all for preventing halt.

Backers of the Illinois governor were confident he could hold the south in line and apparently were counting on some of the delegations to go his way if Russell faded.

GAR Veteran Dies

Spokane, Wash., July 25 (AP)—Israel Broadsword, who took up arms at 14 to fight in the Civil War, died today at the age of 105. His death leaves only three living veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic. A resident of Samuels, Idaho, since 1929, he was hospitalized at the Spokane Veterans Hospital ten days ago for diseases of old age. The three other known GAR survivors are: James A. Ward, 110, Rochester, N. Y.; William A. Magee, 105, Van Nuys, Calif., and Albert Woolson, 105, Duluth, Minn.

Brickyarding Not So Hard Now, but They're All Done

Thirty-five years ago these eight were honest-to-goodness brickyarders, but now they just talk about the good old days.

They are in other lines of endeavor now, but can't forget the days when they used to toss up seven bricks at a time making kiln.

At their 35th annual reunion recently, Costello's Rest, Glasco, was a mythical brickyard, where they went through all the routines of their more youthful years.

The boys dug clay, loaded cars, built kilns and burnt them, even loaded river barges by wheelbarrow just as they did in the days of yore.

But, at the end of it all they weren't as tired as they used to get on Washburn Brothers yards, where they toiled turning out bricks for some of the nation's tallest skyscrapers.

Important Event

The annual reunion is always a great event in the life of each old tosser, and attendance is a must. This year, only Milo Greco couldn't make it from Rhinebeck.

Phil Corrado, local tavern operator, pointed out it's easier on the brickyards now. Machinery has done away with many of the laborious chores, like loading barges by wheelbarrow.

"The boys can't fall into the river, 'barrow and all, since gasoline loaders have taken over," he said.

"But, some of the real kick is gone," Corrado mused. "We used to race each other in stints to wind up the day, then dive into the Hudson for a cooling swim."

The oldtimers are glad the pay is better for those who have followed them. And they're satisfied with other ways of making a living.

Instead of that afternoon dip in the river, Corrado, for one, tunes in on the Giants at his Promise Land restaurant. If his team wins, he's happy. If the Giants are behind, he sweats as much as he did on the brickyard.

Corrado credits his success with a bowling ball to the training he got tossing bricks.

Naturally, the oldtimers think they made better bricks than the boys who turn them out today with the help of machinery, but they're satisfied to let the youngsters do it."

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 25 (AP)—Profit-taking in the wake of the steel strike settlement today gave the stock market a gentle set-back.

Prices sagged only fractionally and there were plenty of plus signs scattered throughout the list to mitigate the decline.

Steels themselves were unchanged to down major fractions. They started higher with large blocks changing hands, evidently an accumulation of overnight orders. But within a short time the best gains were swept away and replaced with small minus signs as profit-taking gained the upper hand.

Trading was brisk throughout and was at a rate right around yesterday's 1,270,000 shares.

Railroads were mixed while automobiles held steady. Farm implements clung to small gains. Chemicals were unchanged to lower. Oils were steady.

The stock market advanced each day in the first four sessions this week with volume expanding progressively. Yesterday there was a forward surge in anticipation of a settlement of the long strike. The market in other words discounted the steel peace yesterday, and profit-taking today was therefore not surprising.

Boy Scout News

1,663 Membership In Boy Scouts Is All-Time Record

The regular monthly meeting of the executive board of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, was held Tuesday night at the Council Camp, Camp Tri-Mount in East Jewett. Before the dinner meeting, the entire board inspected the camp and all its facilities, especially the new axe yard, the new rope yard and the new chapel. The enlarged and improved beach was also inspected and heartily approved.

In the organization report, Scout Executive George V. Dennis pointed out that the total boy membership at the end of June of 1,663 boys is the largest membership this Council has ever had in its 37 years of existence. In addition, several new units are in the process of organization and will be added to the Council in early fall. Among these is a new troop in Hunter, a new pack in Catskill, a new troop in Tannersville, a new pack in Marlborough, a new troop in Medway and a new troop in Napanoch.

Walter T. Tremper, Council camp chairman, reported that with the boys who are in camp at the present time, there have been 141 boy-weeks to date. The next three weeks of the camp season are heavily reserved and by all indications, the goal of 400 boy-weeks will be reached, an increase of 100 over last year.

George Sheldon, Jr., health and safety chairman, reported on the inspection of camp his committee conducted Saturday, July 12. He reported that every facility of camp is in the best of condition, that the kitchen, dish washing, shower house, latrines and waterfront have passed the rigid requirements of the Ulster County Health Department and that with minor repairs around camp, the camp is the healthiest and safest place he and his committee could wish for the boys to use.

Ends Within Budget

Lewis Short gave the financial report pointing out that the council had reached the end of its fiscal year within its budget in spite of the fact that an additional man had been added for four months. Maynard Mizel reported on the annual finance campaign saying that most districts have the necessary man power lined up to completely cover their respective district. However, several weak spots were pointed out and board members were assigned to investigate and assist in these various spots. Mizel pointed out that the campaign must be successful this year if the council is to continue to grow and advance as it has in the past 18 months.

Brief reports were given by the scout executive on the meetings the council advancement committee and council leadership training committee held last week. Both these committees are getting their program and schedule of events in readiness for early fall promotion. Harold Van Voorhis of Saugerties is chairman of the leadership training committee and William W. Brady, Jr., of Kingston is chairman of the advancement committee. When plans of these two committees are complete, they will be announced.

Gavin Can Remove

tion was polled. Then he announced:

"I intend to cast Mr. Truman's vote for the governor of Illinois, Mr. Stevenson."

It was, he said, "the President's choice."

At the convention today he gets a chance to carry out his intentions. He—or rather, President Truman—can vote for Adlai E. Stevenson, the draftee who never did say no.

Truman himself comes to the convention tonight, to present to the final session whoever it chooses as 1952 standard bearer.

And pumpkin-shaped Tom Gavin goes back to Kansas City, himself again.

Must Support Child

A hearing was held before County Judge John M. Cashin Thursday on revocation of probation in the case of Alan Hudson, High Falls, who had been on probation from County Court. The probation of Hudson was not revoked but Judge Cashin added to the previous condition of probation and directed that Hudson provide for his infant child and also that he remain away from and cease annoying his wife.

E. N. Mulvey Dies

Albany, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Everett N. Mulvey, deputy director of the State Budget Division since 1948 died unexpectedly today. He was 51.

Worry Secretaries

New York (AP)—If you would like to be considered an ideal boss by your secretary, you should avoid slurring the spirants and fricative consonants when dictating. Alexander L. Sheff, director of the Speedwriting Institute, says such consonants are apt to be in words which give secretaries the most trouble during dictation. These consonants are characterized by a continuable sound such as "th," "f," "s" or "v." Such words as "freeze," "loath," "breath," "clothes" and "disburse" are likely to be confusing to secretaries.

Maines Retirement

at the Weiner station on Hasbrouck avenue he was stationed at Wiltwyck where he served from 1908 until 1914 and then went to the central station. He was appointed captain in 1910 and served until 1914 when on Jan. 1 he was transferred to the Weiner station to drive the horses. The following year the Weiner station was equipped with its first 750-gallon pumper, and Maines drove that until it was replaced by a new one several years later. He was again made captain in 1943, and served at Wiltwyck station.

The first big fire in Maines' early experience was that which wiped out the Mohican Market on Wall street on Dec. 26, 1909. Another, which followed soon, was the Kingston Dairy fire on Downs street on Jan. 3, 1910. That one also is especially remembered by Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, who said, "I had just started on my job then."

Another big one in 1910 was that which destroyed the Deyo cider mill on May 20. Fire again damaged the mill on March 4, 1917.

One of the city's most damaging and spectacular fires remembered by Maines was that on Dec. 10, 1915, when the Teller & Tappen coal sheds on Converse street were destroyed.

Fought City Hall Fire

Others within the memory of Maines were the Terry ice house fire of Dec. 13, 1918, Washington Hall on Abeel street on Jan. 25, 1916, the Leventhal building July 23, 1927, the Binnewater Ice Co., building July 23, 1938, the Kingston Hospital fire of Feb. 20, 1926 and the damaging city hall fire of June 4, 1927, the Turck Lumber yard in 1916.

Still others remembered when Capt. Maines served as a volunteer fireman were the Elting & Schoonmaker fire on Wall street, Marblestones on North Front street, the Hart drygoods store and several others, some of which were out of the city.

Injured in Rescue

Capt. Maines suffered fractures of the ankles in his rush to rescue a child in a fire on Wilbur avenue on Dec. 12, 1924. The mishap forced him to remain off the job until Dec. 7 the following year. He was caught in a backdraft in the rescue attempt and landed with force on his feet. In another rescue attempt he brought a child out of a burning building on German street.

Firemen were a little slower in getting to fires in the early years of Capt Maines' experience, but the race against time was as interesting, and perhaps more so, in the days of the horse-drawn equipment.

One of the first semi-automatic devices in a fire station at that time was the harness drop, which was rigged up near the ceiling so that it could drop at the press of lever or button on the horse or horses on duty for the run.

Maines had several years of experience in the horse and buggy era of fire fighting and he recalls that the first experience at a big fire with a motorized pumper was at the Teller and Tappen coal pocket conflagration in 1915.

Praises Chief

A cheriched memory, the captain said, is the work of Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy during Maines' years in the department.

"I have seen the chief on the job," he said, "side by side with us and doing the same work that any of us firemen did," and similarly in tribute to Capt. Maines, his colleague, Capt. Albrecht of Cornell station said, "I have always found Wright's whole heart and soul with the department."

Albrecht also observed that "a man out in a boat fishing is at peace with the world," and he is hopeful that Capt. Maines will find many hours of peaceful enjoyment with the gift from his fellow firemen.

Two Sons Firemen

The captain has left the department as an active fireman, but his name as well as his memory will linger there, for there are two sons, Alex and Robert Maines, serving in the department, the former at Cornell and the latter at Central station. Clarence Maines, a nephew also serves at Cornell station. Another Maines, Philip, also serving in the department, is not related.

learned the agreement includes these conditions:

A wage boost of 16 cents an hour for 650,000 basic steel workers; a highly modified form of union shop which allows present non-union members to stay out and gives new employes a 15-day escape period during their first month of employment; six paid holidays; three weeks vacation after 15 years' service; a two-year contract dating from last June 30, with a wage reopener next June 30.

These concessions come to a total of just over 21 cents an hour for each worker. Pre-strike pay averaged slightly under $2 an hour.

The strike, longest in the nation's steel history, will have cost more than 21 million tons of the defense-vital metal by the time full production is resumed. It has imperiled the defense program and stopped altogether the production of some high-priority items like 105 mm shells.

These stark facts, which the President presumably pounded home in his 10-minute meeting yesterday with Murray and Fairless, undoubtedly played a large part in the settlement which came seven hours later. Other White House peace efforts, in April, May and June, had collapsed.

Potatoes But No Tops

Centralia, Ill. (AP) — The potato shortage made Ben Buchholz worry about the many vacant spaces in his potato patch. He dug down to see why his seed had not sent up plants. He found many potatoes as large as hen eggs. Now he's wondering if a new topless potato has been developed by a quirk of nature.

Sweptback Wings Coming

Farmingdale, N. Y. (AP)—Sweptback wing effect will be standard for every first-line combat plane in the Air Force by 1955, says Alexander Kartveli, vice-president of Republic Aviation Corp. "It's sweptback wings that help man fly faster than sound," he said. "Sweptback wings cut down on what airmen call drag. For example, a plane with wings swept back 45 degrees flying at the speed of sound (760 miles an hour at sea level) reacts to the pilot's control like a straight-wing plane at only 540 mph. "Thus a plane with sweptback wings is more maneuverable at high speeds, can turn, wheel, climb and dive easier," he said.

First Ballot Voting at Parley

Convention Hall, Chicago, July 25 (AP)—Here is the state-by-state vote at the Democratic national convention today on the first ballot for selection of a presidential nominee:

Alabama 22 votes: Kefauver 8; Russell 13; Stevenson ½; Barkley ½.

Alaska 6 votes: Kefauver 6.

Arizona 12 votes: Kerr 12.

Arkansas 22 votes: Fulbright 22.

California 68 votes: Kefauver 68.

Colorado 16 votes: Harriman 5, Kefauver 2, Russell 8, Stevenson ½, not voting ½.

Connecticut 16 votes: McMahon 16.

Delaware 6 votes: Stevenson 6.

Florida 24 votes: Kefauver 5, Russell 19:

Georgia 28 votes: Russell 28.

Hawaii 6 votes: Harriman 1, Kefauver 1, Stevenson 2, Barkley 2.

Idaho 12 votes: Harriman 3½, Fefauver 3, Kerr 3, Russell 1, Stevenson 1½.

Illinois 60 votes: Harriman 1, Kefauver 3, Stevenson 53, Sen. Douglas 3.

Indiana 26 votes: Kefauver 1, Stevenson 25.

Stevenson's . . .

have styled a "liberal" combine which has attracted supporters of some other candidates, Kefauver and Harriman took a 615 to 529 licking in efforts to prevent the 28-vote Virginia delegation from balloting on presidential and vice presidential nominees.

First Since FDR

It was the first time such a coalition has been defeated on an important roll call in a Democratic convention since the early days of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The result might presage a swing toward a more conservative type of campaign if Stevenson emerges as the winner—especially if he gets southern support in the nomination drive being put on for him.

The Virginians had refused to subscribe fully to a new loyalty pledge put across by the K-H combine which would require delegates to work to place the convention's nominees on their state's November ballot, under the Democratic label.

In the uproarous two-hour wrangle that followed this test vote, Rep. John McCormack of Massachusetts — filling in temporarily for convention chairman Sam Rayburn of Texas—gavelled the pledge-balking South Carolina and Louisiana delegations back on the roll call from which they had been stricken when they refused to take the loyalty pledge.

The net result was to leave the three delegations in a position to cast a total of 64 convention votes for the south's champion, Sen. Russell.

Could Go Home

Then, if they didn't like the eventual nominee, they could go home and name their own candidate for president in state conventions. All they appeared to be pledged to do, as Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina explained it to the delegates, was to give the national party a place on their state ballots.

Byrnes was in the center of an unscheduled bit of excitement when a newspaper caught fire near him while he was speaking. Television viewers saw Peter J. Cloherty of Boston, an assistant sergeant of arms, seize the microphone from Byrnes and shout: "Don't get panicky. It's only a newspaper. It will be put out in a minute."

It was put out in about a minute, but there was tense anxiety as the milling crowd was admonished not to get panicky.

Assistant Fire Commissioner Anthony J. Millaney said he thought the blaze may have been set deliberately in an effort to force an adjournment of the proceedings.

The Stevenson bandwagon drivers, sensing a gain in momentum, were all for preventing halt.

Backers of the Illinois governor were confident he could hold the south in line and apparently were counting on some of the delegations to go his way if Russell faded.

GAR Veteran Dies

Spokane, Wash., July 25 (AP)—Israel Broadsword, who took up arms at 14 to fight in the Civil War, died today at the age of 105. His death leaves only three living veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic. A resident of Samuels, Idaho, since 1929, he was hospitalized at the Spokane Veterans Hospital ten days ago for diseases of old age. The three other known GAR survivors are: James A. Ward, 110, Rochester, N. Y.; William A. Magee, 105, Van Nuys, Calif., and Albert Woolson, 105, Duluth, Minn.

Brickyarding Not So Hard Now, but They're All Done

Thirty-five years ago these eight were honest-to-goodness brickyarders, but now they just talk about the good old days.

They are in other lines of endeavor now, but can't forget the days when they used to toss up seven bricks at a time making kiln.

At their 35th annual reunion recently, Costello's Rest, Glasco, was a mythical brickyard, where they went through all the routines of their more youthful years.

The boys dug clay, loaded cars, built kilns and burnt them, even loaded river barges by wheelbarrow just as they did in the days of yore.

But, at the end of it all they weren't as tired as they used to get on Washburn Brothers yards, where they toiled turning out bricks for some of the nation's tallest skyscrapers.

Important Event

The annual reunion is always a great event in the life of each old tosser, and attendance is a must. This year, only Milo Greco couldn't make it from Rhinebeck.

Phil Corrado, local tavern operator, pointed out it's easier on the brickyards now. Machinery has done away with many of the laborious chores, like loading barges by wheelbarrow.

"The boys can't fall into the river, 'barrow and all, since gasoline loaders have taken over," he said.

"But, some of the real kick is gone," Corrado mused. "We used to race each other in stints to wind up the day, then dive into the Hudson for a cooling swim."

The oldtimers are glad the pay is better for those who have followed them. And they're satisfied with other ways of making a living.

Instead of that afternoon dip in the river, Corrado, for one, tunes in on the Giants at his Promise Land restaurant. If his team wins, he's happy. If the Giants are behind, he sweats as much as he did on the brickyard.

Corrado credits his success with a bowling ball to the training he got tossing bricks.

Naturally, the oldtimers think they made better bricks than the boys who turn them out today with the help of machinery, but they're satisfied to let the youngsters do it."

Think Girl May Be In Catskill Area

Search for Connie Smith, 10, granddaughter of former Governor and Mrs. Nels H. Smith of Wyoming, who disappeared from a girl's camp at Lakeville, Conn., last week turned to the Catskill area yesterday.

Benjamin Rowe, Saugerties attorney, told state police he rode a Mountain View bus from Albany last Sunday and said a girl answering the Smith girl description was a passenger.

Merrill Lampman, operator of the bus, said he "distinctly remembered" the girl. She had a one-way ticket to Catskill and before boarding the bus at 3 p. m. in Albany asked if the bus stopped there.

State police say no trace of the girl has been found in the area. Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Smith live at Sundance, Wyo.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 25 (AP)—Profit-taking in the wake of the steel strike settlement today gave the stock market a gentle set-back.

Prices sagged only fractionally and there were plenty of plus signs scattered throughout the list to mitigate the decline.

Steels themselves were unchanged to down major fractions. They started higher with large blocks changing hands, evidently an accumulation of overnight orders. But within a short time the best gains were swept away and replaced with small minus signs as profit-taking gained the upper hand.

Trading was brisk throughout and was at a rate right around yesterday's 1,270,000 shares.

Railroads were mixed while automobiles held steady. Farm implements clung to small gains. Chemicals were unchanged to lower. Oils were steady.

The stock market advanced each day in the first four sessions this week with volume expanding progressively. Yesterday there was a forward surge in anticipation of a settlement of the long strike. The market in other words discounted the steel peace yesterday, and profit-taking today was therefore not surprising.

Boy Scout News

1,663 Membership In Boy Scouts Is All-Time Record

The regular monthly meeting of the executive board of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, was held Tuesday night at the Council Camp, Camp Tri-Mount in East Jewett. Before the dinner meeting, the entire board inspected the camp and all its facilities, especially the new axe yard, the new rope yard and the new chapel. The enlarged and improved beach was also inspected and heartily approved.

In the organization report, Scout Executive George V. Dennis pointed out that the total boy membership at the end of June of 1,663 boys is the largest membership this Council has ever had in its 37 years of existence. In addition, several new units are in the process of organization and will be added to the Council in early fall. Among these is a new troop in Hunter, a new pack in Catskill, a new troop in Tannersville, a new pack in Marlborough, a new troop in Medway and a new troop in Napanoch.

Walter T. Tremper, Council camp chairman, reported that with the boys who are in camp at the present time, there have been 141 boy-weeks to date. The next three weeks of the camp season are heavily reserved and by all indications, the goal of 400 boy-weeks will be reached, an increase of 100 over last year.

George Sheldon, Jr., health and safety chairman, reported on the inspection of camp his committee conducted Saturday, July 12. He reported that every facility of camp is in the best of condition, that the kitchen, dish washing, shower house, latrines and waterfront have passed the rigid requirements of the Ulster County Health Department and that with minor repairs around camp, the camp is the healthiest and safest place he and his committee could wish for the boys to use.

Ends Within Budget

Lewis Short gave the financial report pointing out that the council had reached the end of its fiscal year within its budget in spite of the fact that an additional man had been added for four months. Maynard Mizel reported on the annual finance campaign saying that most districts have the necessary man power lined up to completely cover their respective district. However, several weak spots were pointed out and board members were assigned to investigate and assist in these various spots. Mizel pointed out that the campaign must be successful this year if the council is to continue to grow and advance as it has in the past 18 months.

Brief reports were given by the scout executive on the meetings the council advancement committee and council leadership training committee held last week. Both these committees are getting their program and schedule of events in readiness for early fall promotion. Harold Van Voorhis of Saugerties is chairman of the leadership training committee and William W. Brady, Jr., of Kingston is chairman of the advancement committee. When plans of these two committees are complete, they will be announced.

Gavin Can Remove

tion was polled. Then he announced:

"I intend to cast Mr. Truman's vote for the governor of Illinois, Mr. Stevenson."

It was, he said, "the President's choice."

At the convention today he gets a chance to carry out his intentions. He—or rather, President Truman—can vote for Adlai E. Stevenson, the draftee who never did say no.

Truman himself comes to the convention tonight, to present to the final session whoever it chooses as 1952 standard bearer.

And pumpkin-shaped Tom Gavin goes back to Kansas City, himself again.

Must Support Child

A hearing was held before County Judge John M. Cashin Thursday on revocation of probation in the case of Alan Hudson, High Falls, who had been on probation from County Court. The probation of Hudson was not revoked but Judge Cashin added to the previous condition of probation and directed that Hudson provide for his infant child and also that he remain away from and cease annoying his wife.

Will Stage Pageant

The pageant will be presented again on Saturday evening.

E. N. Mulvey Dies

Albany, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Everett N. Mulvey, deputy director of the State Budget Division since 1948 died unexpectedly today. He was 51.

Worry Secretaries

New York (AP)—If you would like to be considered an ideal boss by your secretary, you should avoid slurring the spirants and fricative consonants when dictating. Alexander L. Sheff, director of the Speedwriting Institute, says such consonants are apt to be in words which give secretaries the most trouble during dictation. These consonants are characterized by a continuable sound such as "th," "f," "s" or "v." Such words as "freeze," "loath," "breath," "clothes" and "disburse" are likely to be confusing to secretaries.

Maines Retirement

at the Weiner station on Hasbrouck avenue he was stationed at Wiltwyck where he served from 1908 until 1914 and then went to the central station. He was appointed captain in 1910 and served until 1914 when on Jan. 1 he was transferred to the Weiner station to drive the horses. The following year the Weiner station was equipped with its first 750-gallon pumper, and Maines drove that until it was replaced by a new one several years later. He was again made captain in 1943, and served at Wiltwyck station.

The first big fire in Maines' early experience was that which wiped out the Mohican Market on Wall street on Dec. 26, 1909. Another, which followed soon, was the Kingston Dairy fire on Downs street on Jan. 3, 1910. That one also is especially remembered by Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, who said, "I had just started on my job then."

Another big one in 1910 was that which destroyed the Deyo cider mill on May 20. Fire again damaged the mill on March 4, 1917.

One of the city's most damaging and spectacular fires remembered by Maines was that on Dec. 10, 1915, when the Teller & Tappen coal sheds on Converse street were destroyed.

Fought City Hall Fire

Others within the memory of Maines were the Terry ice house fire of Dec. 13, 1918, Washington Hall on Abeel street on Jan. 25, 1916, the Leventhal building July 23, 1927, the Binnewater Ice Co., building July 23, 1938, the Kingston Hospital fire of Feb. 20, 1926 and the damaging city hall fire of June 4, 1927, the Turck Lumber yard in 1916.

Still others remembered when Capt. Maines served as a volunteer fireman were the Elting & Schoonmaker fire on Wall street, Marblestones on North Front street, the Hart drygoods store and several others, some of which were out of the city.

Injured in Rescue

Capt. Maines suffered fractures of the ankles in his rush to rescue a child in a fire on Wilbur avenue on Dec. 12, 1924. The mishap forced him to remain off the job until Dec. 7 the following year. He was caught in a backdraft in the rescue attempt and landed with force on his feet. In another rescue attempt he brought a child out of a burning building on German street.

Firemen were a little slower in getting to fires in the early years of Capt Maines' experience, but the race against time was as interesting, and perhaps more so, in the days of the horse-drawn equipment.

One of the first semi-automatic devices in a fire station at that time was the harness drop, which was rigged up near the ceiling so that it could drop at the press of lever or button on the horse or horses on duty for the run.

Maines had several years of experience in the horse and buggy era of fire fighting and he recalls that the first experience at a big fire with a motorized pumper was at the Teller and Tappen coal pocket conflagration in 1915.

Praises Chief

A cherished memory, the captain said, is the work of Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy during Maines' years in the department.

"I have seen the chief on the job," he said, "side by side with us and doing the same work that any of us firemen did," and similarly in tribute to Capt. Maines, his colleague, Capt. Albrecht of Cornell station said, "I have always found Wright's whole heart and soul with the department."

Albrecht also observed that "a man out in a boat fishing is at peace with the world," and he is hopeful that Capt. Maines will find many hours of peaceful enjoyment with the gift from his fellow firemen.

Two Sons Firemen

The captain has left the department as an active fireman, but his name as well as his memory will linger there, for there are two sons, Alex and Robert Maines, serving in the department, the former at Cornell and the latter at Central station. Clarence Maines, a nephew also serves at Cornell station. Another Maines, Philip, also serving in the department, is not related.

Steel Production

learned the agreement includes these conditions:

A wage boost of 16 cents an hour for 650,000 basic steel workers; a highly modified form of union shop which allows present non-union members to stay out and gives new employes a 15-day escape period during their first month of employment; six paid holidays; three weeks vacation after 15 years' service; a two-year contract dating from last June 30, with a wage reopener next June 30.

These concessions come to a total of just over 21 cents an hour for each worker. Pre-strike pay averaged slightly under $2 an hour.

The strike, longest in the nation's steel history, will have cost more than 21 million tons of the defense-vital metal by the time full production is resumed. It has imperiled the defense program and stopped altogether the production of some high-priority items like 105 mm shells.

These stark facts, which the President presumably pounded home in his 10-minute meeting yesterday with Murray and Fairless, undoubtedly played a large part in the settlement which came seven hours later. Other White House peace efforts, in April, May and June, had collapsed.

Potatoes But No Tops

Centralia, Ill. (AP) — The potato shortage made Ben Buchholz worry about the many vacant spaces in his potato patch. He dug down to see why his seed had not sent up plants. He found many potatoes as large as hen eggs. Now he's wondering if a new topless potato has been developed by a quirk of nature.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Mrs. Hanson of Hurley phoned me that she had an original oil painting of Overlook Mt. by Alton B. Parker. It is about 10 by 14 inches in size. She received it as a gift from the Coykendall family years ago. As far as she knows, this painting seems to be the only one in this vicinity by the late Judge Parker. Perhaps art was his hobby as a young man. Through the some 28 years she has owned it and had it on her wall no one has been able to give her further information on Judge Parker's hobby. She says it is clearly signed with his name, but no date given.

Received a phone call from Mrs. Harry Thorpe from Tannersville, that she has an old Ulster County Gazette of 1800 besides some other old papers. I referred her to Al Kurdt of the Chamber of Commerce in the Governor Clinton building. Although I like to look at old newspapers from any city or state, I am primarily interested in those of Kingston and Ulster county, no matter how old.

The old "999" train is visiting Kingston now but perhaps some readers of this column remember a write-up on the memorable record ride she made in 1893 as written up in this column on March 12, 1951. The item was sent to me by Mrs. Irene K. Blass, from her father's collection, the late John W. Herdman. He was conductor on the Catskill Mt. Division some 52 years. Why her item interests me so much now, is because so little is said of Charles Hogan, the famous engineer of old 999 at this big, big exhibition. Hogan was the crack engineer of the New York Central Empire State Express who had hung up the world speed record on that 999 that lasted 41 years, until the advent of the streamlined Diesel trains.

To those who went up to our Kingston R.R. exhibit and saw the famous 999 may be interested to hear about Charlie Hogan, who is scarcely mentioned there. After the New York Central's pet, 999, had been babied through preliminary tests of 80 miles an hour, President Webb called in three veteran engineers and put it up to them, as to who desired to make a record breaking run. The two younger men hesitated, the third, Charley Hogan, an old timer who had bucked most every thing from snow to old fashioned storms behind the throttle said at once "I can do it!" so he was given the job. The test was to take place between Syracuse and Buffalo."

The train carried four coaches, with many celebrities on board, and three men with stop watches, to check each other on time and records. Hogan started rolling along at a casual 80 miles an hour, slowing down for curves until he passed Rochester and reached Batavia. Here began 36 miles of straightaway track. A few miles ran slightly upgrade, then there was a stretch of dead level. Charley opened the throttle a bit and 999 leaped ahead, 90 miles an hour for one mile, another mile at 95, another at 97 and then 112 and a half miles an hour, thus he broke all records for the coming 41 years."

Folks may say life begins at 40, but Charley Hogan was more than double that age when he made that run for he had reached the age of 89. The coming year the 999 was going to be on exhibition at the Chicago World's Fair, but Charley was not there. He had gone to the great beyond just before his 90th birthday. He died a happy man, knowing he had a chance to forever mark his name in railroad history. So can it be that a photograph of Charley is missing from that exhibition. I cannot believe it.

INSURANCE RATES AND ACCIDENTS

The increase in the cost of driving an automobile resulting from the boost in liability insurance costs is due to the increasing frequency and severity of accidents and the excessive jury awards, the insurance people say.

Insurance rates are determined by the loss experience of the insurance companies and the loss experience is determined by the way drivers operate automobiles. The public could do something about the growing cost of auto liability insurance if it became sufficiently interested.

One way to reduce the accident rate is through driver-training programs, such as the courses being offered by the high school. In an efficient high school driving program, the future driver receives adequate training and learns that there is more to know about handling an automobile than stepping on the starter and shifting the gears.

An automobile can be an efficient servant providing transportation and recreation or it can be an instrument of destruction and death. The skill of the person behind the wheel decides which it will be and skill depends on proper training and practice.

CIVILIAN VOLUNTEERS

Congratulations to the some 200 men and women who have volunteered their services as spotters for the Kingston ground observer post atop the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The local volunteer "skywatchers" are part of the more than 150,000 volunteers throughout the United States who began going on shifts at about 6,000 stations in 27 states stretched across the northern rim of the nation. Spotter posts have been ordered manned on a 24-hour basis.

This cooperation on the part of the local volunteers is an example of patriotic service which others can follow.

REFORM BY SURGERY

A thirty-year-old man, twice convicted of crimes, has been released from Ohio Penitentiary to test the theory that brain surgery can sometimes turn persons with criminal tendencies into useful citizens. The prisoner, convicted of forgery and embezzlement, submitted to a brain operation. His plea for a parole was backed up by the surgeon who performed the operation.

If surgery could alter the twisted minds of criminals and convert them into useful citizens it would be an advancement in the handling of the problem of crime. More and more we are accepting the idea that those who turn to crime may do so because of mental or spiritual illness.

In the last few years quite a little work has been done along the line of curing mental troubles by surgery. This assumes that the causes lie in some abnormality of the brain itself which may yield to the surgeon's knife. Some of the operations have been very successful; some not at all; some have provided partial cures. The forward look on it is hopeful. Perhaps the paroled convict will begin a new and productive life. If so, he sets a precedent for future help for others and adds weight to the hopeful side of these procedures.

Our present system of dealing with those who break the laws of society has not proved particularly successful. It may be that a program of altering physical defects and mending spiritual attitudes will work better.

CHANGED ATTITUDE

Russian athletes have usually been standoffish and sullen in competition with athletes from non-Communist countries. But reports from the Olympic Games at Helsinki say that the Russians are friendlier than they have ever been in the past. Some observers speculate that the changed attitude may be a part of a new Red propaganda drive to confuse the Western nations.

Whatever the cause for the change in Russian deportment, athletes from the rest of the world will be pleased by it. The Olympic Games have traditions, centuries old, of friendly competition and sportsmanship. It would be well if this year's games could be played without some of the unfortunate incidents which have marred competitions between Russian athletes and those from other countries in the past. Perhaps politics can be forgotten on the playing field.

NORTH AND SOUTH

Sectionalism is not unusual in most countries. In the larger ones, geographic differences play an important role in forming varieties of attitudes. In some countries, even small ones, sectionalism is often the product of differing racial and religious origins. Such a small nation as Yugoslavia is so divided; and little Belgium is divided between Flemings and Walloons.

In the United States, sectionalism antedates the Civil War. Even in colonial times, the culture of Virginia and South Carolina, for instance, was different from that of Massachusetts and Connecticut. In the South, land ownership was the mark of wealth; in the North, the possession of money early became a mark of social distinction. The South based its economy to some degree upon indentured white men and Negro slaves; in the North, a free economy early asserted itself.

This generalization is too simple not to call for numerous exceptions of which I am aware, but it does make the basic distinction between a continuing English-style society of landed gentry in the South and a developing bourgeois society of tradesmen and manufacturers in the North. Out of this distinction developed the modern Democratic and Republican parties.

From 1860 to 1932, this additional factor in the North appeared, namely, the farmers were generally Republicans, while the new immigrants in each period tended to be Democrats. The newer immigrants, those, let us say, who came into this country subsequent to 1905, tended also to remain, to a considerable extent, laborers who brought with them European proletarian concepts of the class struggle in distinction to the American concept of equality of opportunity.

The Democratic Party, under Franklin D. Roosevelt, was the first American political party which consciously and even scientifically recognized the nature of the changes which had taken place in the American population.

The Democrats accepted the South as theirs, to be held without effort, because the organization of local power in the Southern states made it difficult, if not impossible, for the politicians to switch to the Republican Party, except on an issue of religious bigotry such as affected Al Smith. The failure of the Jeffersonian Democrats to defeat Roosevelt and the Dixiecrats to defeat Truman was due to this one-party condition in most of the solid South. The fruits in the local elections were too important to sacrifice.

The division between North and South continues among the Democrats in 1952, with this added factor, that the C.I.O. has become a greater power under Truman than it was under Roosevelt. No matter what the situation, Roosevelt managed to be the master of the day and could, if need be, quarrel with so powerful a figure as John L. Lewis. Truman is no such man. The present steel strike, for which Mr. Truman is responsible, establishes the overwhelming authority of Phil Murray. No Democrat will be nominated for the Presidency whom the C.I.O. opposes.

The C.I.O. is the balance of power between the North and the South. And the C.I.O. feeds the national divisive tendency toward fragmentizing the American people, toward breaking us into small racial, religious, occupational groups, tightly propagandized into group consciousness to a degree heretofore unknown in American life. They often coalesce on such questions as FEPC and what they call Civil Rights.

The Democrats are trying to resolve their North-South problem by such a compromise as a liberal Northerner for President and a conservative Southerner for Vice President. Such a candidature as Stevenson and Russell would, it would seem, please most Democrats and might even win in November.

But it would solve no American problem. Rather, it would intensify the rising opposition to the political authority of the C.I.O. among conservatives, who are still in the majority in this country. It would not answer the question of the advent of Fabian Socialism in America in the form of the A.D.A. It would not solve the Negro problem.

What does winning, for either party, in November mean other than the elevation of a man to the Presidency and the satisfaction of his ego and perhaps his wife's ambitions?

We are at war with a mighty foe who has demonstrated unusual abilities in devising new, unorthodox methods for our destruction. With national survival the realistic stake, our political parties act as they might have in 1932, namely, that all that matters is to win an election, no matter what happens to the country.

HEADACHES

I have written before about the magazine article on headache in which a lay investigator stated that he had visited about eight physicians in a certain city. He told them he had a headache and the gist of the story was that the physicians had all given him a different prescription of medicine for the headache. According to the writer, they should all have given him the same prescription, as a headache is a headache.

As a matter of fact, I once counted up the various causes of headache and found 150 while another investigator found over 200.

Iu Medical Clinics of North America, Drs. L. S. Meriwether, W. S. Culpepper and S. W. Tuthill describe 10 different varieties of headache, the final one being headache from nervous tension.

"Nervous tension headache deserves special attention not only because it alone is probably the most frequent cause of headache but it occupies a most significant position in the aggravation and precipitation of many other kinds of headache. Emotional tension and situational troubles can easily be uncovered in most patients suffering unusually frequent attacks of migraine (one-sided headache) and only through management of these problems can the patient be expected to space out his attacks to the point where they are no longer of great significance."

I have written several times about headache and neck pain and how tenseness of mind and body, holding the head in a tensed position for long periods of time brings on this ache. This tenseness causes contraction of the muscles holding up the head which have their lower attachment on bones of shoulder. These Tulane physicians stated that "pain arising anywhere in the head and neck also can lead to excessive contraction of the muscles and hence produce the type of headache as an accompanying symptom when the primary or underlying trouble lies in the eyes, the nose structures or the skull itself."

These physicians suggest careful study of the nervous element in these headaches due to tension. This study will be found most worthwhile in many types of headache including headaches due to high blood pressure, headache following head injuries, sinus disturbanaces and other headaches.

Y'Know, Pal, It's Fantastic the Way We Always Win!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Chicago—Politics can be a cruel business. The cruelist blows dealt in the current race for the Democratic presidential nomination were to Vice President Alben Barkley and Averell Harriman. Undoubtedly, they were not meant to be cruel, for in Barkley's case they came from those who love him most—his wife, Leslie Biffle, and the President. However, it will probably embitter him for the remainder of his life.

The stage was set for Barkley to enter the presidentail race on July 5, the last day Congress was supposed to meet, at a luncheon given by Senate Secretary Biffle, the Veep's close personal and political friend. Since Congress was supposed to close that day, President Truman returned to his old stamping ground, attended the lunch, had a couple of bourbons and was pulled to one side for a conference with Biffle.

Biffle is the man who put Barkley across as vice president at the Philadelphia convention in 1948; also the man who, posing as a chicken salesman, toured the country taking political soundings that summer and predicted Truman could win. He has long wanted the Veep to become President; likewise the new Mrs. Barkley.

So, at this luncheon, Biffle urged Truman to switch his support from Harriman, then his No. 1 choice, to the much-loved, elderly Veep.

Truman agreed.

The very next day Barkley, buoyed up by hope and spurred on by his wife, made a formal announcement that he would actively push his campaign. That was why, on arriving in Chicago, he walked from the railroad station to the hotel. That was also why the party bosses passed out word that it's "Barkley the White House wants."

However, the days when the President can hand down orders on his successor and get them obeyed are past. When George Harrison, head of the AFL Railroad Clerks, heard this from Bill Boyle, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, he phoned the White House, insisted on talking to the President direct, and the following conversation took place:

"Mr. President, Bill Boyle tells me you have selected Barkley."

"That's right," replied the President.

"Well, that puts me on an awfully long limb because I have been pushing Harriman as you indicated 10 days ago," responded Harrison.

"Well, stay out on the limb for a little while longer," was Truman's cryptic reply.

Whether the President meant by this that he was merely using Barkley as a stalking horse to stop Kefauver is not known. However, the much-loved and now embittered Veep will never recover from that political blow.

Harriman a Future Power

The blow at Averell Harriman was not quite so brutal, chiefly because he is a younger man.

What happened was that Paul Fitzpatrick, top Democratic leader of New York, wanted a "holding candidate" a man who could hold New York's big block of delegates together thus permitting Fitzpatrick to trade at the convention and throw the New York delegates at the right time.

First Fitzpatrick approached New York's Sen. Herbert Lehman. Lehman, past 70, ridiculed the idea. He said he had no chance to become president and didn't want the New York delegates piedged to him.

Next Fitzpatrick went to Harriman, urged him to run for president. Harriman took him seriously, jumped in with all his energy, plus considerable money, and proceeded to put on a bang-up campaign. In fact he put on such a good campaign that even his best friends were surprised.

Fitzpatrick has stuck with him, but doesn't look happy about it. He wears a little Harriman button, sits back, goes through the motions of steering the Harriman campaign, but there is no passion in his drive, no optimism in his voice. He is merely paying lip service to a commitment he made.

For Novice Harriman, however, this has been an experience. He has found himself able to make better speeches than the old-timers, he has snapped out of his habitual shyness, and he will be a politician to be reckoned with in future administrations.

Chicago Merry-Go-Round

Sad sights at the Democratic convention include: Former White House general counsel Clark Clifford, now playing would-be kingmaker for Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma. Clifford, whose law practice benefited considerably from his White House contacts, now realizes he has pulled a bull, can't get off the hook. . . . Three other former White House advisers are also riding the losers' train. They are gracious Grace Tully, former secretary to Franklin D. Roosevelt and FDR's two top ghost writers, Judge Sam Rosenman and Robert E. Sherwood. The trio worked hard in Averell Harriman's corner. . . . The Roosevelt family is well represented at the convention. In addition to Mrs. Roosevelt, there is Franklin, Jr., who spearheaded the Harriman forces, while Jimmy Roosevelt beat the brush for Kefauver. Mrs. Roosevelt's private favorite is Governor Stevenson, with whom she served at the United Nations. However, the former first lady, an invited speaker at the convention carefully avoided showing any partisanship. Two of her sons Elliott and John, are backing General Eisenhower. . . . Secretary of Interior Chapman, only cabinet member present with a direct phone to the White House, had to lace Democratic Chairman Frank McKinney down for using Chapman's name as part of the Barkley boom. Chapman couldn't deny it publicly, but sent his aides scurrying through the lobbies to squelch the rumor.

CIO and AFL leaders present at the Democratic convention decided to by-pass Presidential Secretary Matt Connelly in getting word to Truman when they found that Connelly was pigeonholing their views. They will talk through Presidential Counsel Charles Murphy, whom they consider less biased and more "accurate."

Did Delegates Cheer Truman Ineptitude in Handling Steel Strike?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Chicago, Ill., July 25 — When Speaker Rayburn, chairman of the Democratic National Convention, stepped forward to read a statement from the White House that the steel strike had been settled, a loud cheer swept the hall.

But what were the delegates cheering? Were they cheering President Truman, whose inepititude and lack of leadership allowed the strike to go on for 53 days, thus subjecting the nation to its most serious economic loss in a generation?

Were they cheering the Democratic administration, whose bungling kept the controversy from being handled long ago by collective bargaining?

When the terms of the settlement are examined, it will be found that on the issue of compulsory unionization, the labor leaders lost. On the matter of wages, the unions got about what they wanted. and the industry got approximately the price increase they sought as a means of offsetting the increased costs due to the higher wages.

Everybody got something—and the public lost on all counts except one. That was in demonstrating an important point: When the parties at interest know they must settle and no special privilege or partisianship or help to either side is given by the government by a political president—the issues are usually settled promptly.

Last April the industry wanted assurance of a price increase to meet wage costs. The administration's price administrator stubbornly refused. Mr. Truman upheld him. Today the price chief was ordered to permit an increase of $5.20 per ton.

All this could have been done weeks ago when Charles E. Wilson, former defense mobilizer, told the President that such a compromise was possible. He got the presidential approval only to run up against a clique of labor partisans inside the government who torpedoed the proposed settlement and caused Mr. Truman to welch on his instructions to Mr. Wilson.

Nearly 20 millions of tons of steel—about a fifth of a year's production—was lost and will not be replenished. The defense program suffered. American interests in the cold war suffered. Actual money losses were in excess of a billion dollars.

But they'll cheer Harry Truman just the same and, as is natural in these hypocritical speeches at the convention, they'll extoll the Democratic administration and its "great record."

Maybe Governor Stevenson, who has had some reservations about taking over the liabilities of the Truman administration, will frankly admit to the American people on the stump that he would have handled the steel problem differently. Maybe he will remain silent and shift his argument to other issues. But certainly the country will not soon forget this high cost of presidential stupidity.

Here at the Democratic National Convention, all the speeches simply ignore the serious mistakes that have been made by the administration. The platform glosses over them. The selection of Governor Stevenson is designed to furnish a new personality for the White House who, because he has been brought to party leadership by the "draft," would presumably bring a "change."

When the mistakes of the Truman Administration are appraised it will take a good deal of intellectual flexibility for Governor Stevenson to make a case for a new administration while applauding the "great record" of the preceding administration.

This convention made up its collective mind to pick Governor Stevenson because he stands head and shoulders above all other candidates. Yet the "draft" had to start not from his own state of Illinois but from other states—Indiana and Pennsylvania — in order not to seem to tie in the Stevenson candidacy with boss rule in Chicago, where the Democratic machine is allied with the same selfish interests that have in other populous areas allowed vice and gambling to flourish.

Governor Stevenson is a strong enough man to take on a national campaign and make the best of it, but he will find that the issue in 1952 is not Stevenson's ability or personality or record, but the Democratic record in Washington. Unless he repudiates a considerable portion of it, he will wish they had not drafted him in 1952.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Chicago, July 23—Like good deeds in a sordid world, the young ushers who herded the mobs at the Democratic party's repulsive rites of nomination and the Republican travesty of two weeks before, shone above this rabble with a mien of unmistakable character and class. The Chicago policeman also were several cuts above their wards with the badges and fool's caps and far superior to the porcine dignitaries of both sexes on the high altar of democracy.

The Chicago cop is a victim of his own slouchy dress and bearing which give him a superficial seeming of indiscipline and unreadiness for come-whatever. Like the American generals in WW 2, who designed their own costumes, often, it seemed, with chic suggestions from some winsome chauffeuse, these fellows seem to dress according to whim rather than formal regulation. One cult among them wore the standard blue, with blouse, but traffic men wore long pants and gray shirts, while another sect, the noisy motorcycle corps, went shuffling with a cowboy gait in cavalry bloomers and sweaty shirts, their accoutrements clanking like jallopies on a railroad crossing.

The habits of this gendarmerie permit smoking on patrol in the streets and gossip with comrades and civilians in startling violation of police and military tradition. They were, nevertheless, surprisingly polite, eager to please and highly efficient in their management of traffic.

This convention and the preceding spectacle offered strong professional temptations to pickpockets who abound in Chicago, although, the plain fact, the sort of people who attend such things are conspicuously frugal by comparison with an equal number of salesmen, dentists or even managing editors. But a pickpocket detail of 50 men under Lieut. Frank O'Sullivan, himself in plain clothes, gathered in all known dips orn sight anywhere in town as a preventive measure to the number of nine by Wednesday night and there was no complaint of any snatch of poke, roll or turnip except one jewelled watch seemed likely to have just come loose and been lost with honor.

The gismo of the whole command of all habits and specialties was Capt. Redmond Gibbons, whose job beset him with poignant social and diplomatic problems.

Thus it is not by choice but by force of circumstances that motorcycle escorts have been shrilling through the streets at mad speed delivering impudent swine of the payroll hierarchy to the hall and their hotels, to the swillings and smoke-filled rooms, to the peril and smoldering indignation of the faceless American.

After all, this is a democratic town and when a gang of bums suddenly showed up in a dirty alley alongside the hall in a spontaneous noble inspiration to draft Harry S. Truman, bearing lettered placards to that effect, Capt. Gibbons could not find it in him to chase them off. The custom of hiring mildewed alcoholics from the dumps to form ragged ranks outside the building and troop through on signal acclaiming the people's choice has made it difficult to maintain order.

In fact, Andy Frain, the contracting chief usher and marshal of the famous elite corps which now ennobles his name at many American galas, was jabbed stoutly in the diaphragm with a rolled newspaper in the meaty hand of a determined lady Democrat and horizontalized briefly when he tried to repel a wave of crashers on opening night. Mr. Frain had orders to admit only 150 head for each spontaneous popular demand but when he tried to stem the rush the stampede overran him.

Mr. Frain is a phenomenal specialist. In 1926 he went to Jim Mullen, long since gone to his reward, who was promoting a fight between Mickey Walker and the sad and gentle Negro deacon, Tiger Flowers, in the coliseum and offered to put each customer in the very seat that his ticket called for. This was foul heresy at any sport event and even in theatres and churches, but Mr. Mullen thought his clients might like it so he made a deal.

Andy Frain showed up with 45 young men of Irish persuasion from his old neighborhood back of the yards. Custom was till then, and still is in some New York festivities, for the ushers to sell off the first five rows at private venture and push the patrons around in cynical violation of their lawful rights. Having been an usher, Mr. Frain knew that, and some of the patrons on this first occasion tried to bribe him anyway even when he explained that they were sitting in their own seats already paid for.

Thereafter the Frain usher service developed into the remarkable staff which at these two conventions included 25 young men who are taking preliminary studies for the Catholic priesthood at Quigley Seminary. The rest were all either college students or advanced high school men and most of the corps were over six feet tall. They were clean, alert, polite, highly respectable and unmistakably superior as a group to the specimens gathered here with the effrontery to try to impose a president on the United States.

A small group of these youths, in varying stages of disattire during a change of shifts, fell to examining the constitutional provisions for the election of presidents and were far better versed in the basic facts than any orator from the podium had been.

One of them asked why social security was unconstitutional. I asked him to cite to me that portion of the constitution which gave the national government authority to make a citizen buy

INSURANCE RATES AND ACCIDENTS

The increase in the cost of driving an automobile resulting from the boost in liability insurance costs is due to the increasing frequency and severity of accidents and the excessive jury awards, the insurance people say.

Insurance rates are determined by the loss experience of the insurance companies and the loss experience is determined by the way drivers operate automobiles. The public could do something about the growing cost of auto liability insurance if it became sufficiently interested.

One way to reduce the accident rate is through driver-training programs, such as the courses being offered by the high school. In an efficient high school driving program, the future driver receives adequate training and learns that there is more to know about handling an automobile than stepping on the starter and shifting the gears.

An automobile can be an efficient servant providing transportation and recreation or it can be an instrument of destruction and death. The skill of the person behind the wheel decides which it will be and skill depends on proper training and practice.

CIVILIAN VOLUNTEERS

Congratulations to the some 200 men and women who have volunteered their services as spotters for the Kingston ground observer post atop the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The local volunteer "skywatchers" are part of the more than 150,000 volunteers throughout the United States who began going on shifts at about 6,000 stations in 27 states stretched across the northern rim of the nation. Spotter posts have been ordered manned on a 24-hour basis.

This cooperation on the part of the local volunteers is an example of patriotic service which others can follow.

REFORM BY SURGERY

A thirty-year-old man, twice convicted of crimes, has been released from Ohio Penitentiary to test the theory that brain surgery can sometimes turn persons with criminal tendencies into useful citizens. The prisoner, convicted of forgery and embezzlement, submitted to a brain operation. His plea for a parole was backed up by the surgeon who performed the operation.

If surgery could alter the twisted minds of criminals and convert them into useful citizens it would be an advancement in the handling of the problem of crime. More and more we are accepting the idea that those who turn to crime may do so because of mental or spiritual illness.

In the last few years quite a little work has been done along the line of curing mental troubles by surgery. This assumes that the causes lie in some abnormality of the brain itself which may yield to the surgeon's knife. Some of the operations have been very successful; some not at all; some have provided partial cures. The forward look on it is hopeful. Perhaps the paroled convict will begin a new and productive life. If so, he sets a precedent for future help for others and adds weight to the hopeful side of these procedures.

Our present system of dealing with those who break the laws of society has not proved particularly successful. It may be that a program of altering physical defects and mending spiritual attitudes will work better.

HEADACHES

I have written before about the magazine article on headache in which a lay investigator stated that he had visited about eight physicians in a certain city. He told them he had a headache and the gist of the story was that the physicians had all given him a different prescription of medicine for the headache. According to the writer, they should all have given him the same prescription, as a headache is a headache.

As a matter of fact, I once counted up the various causes of headache and found 150 while another investigator found over 200.

In Medical Clinics of North America, Drs. L. S. Meriwether, W. S. Culpepper and S. W. Tuthill describe 10 different varieties of headache, the final one being headache from nervous tension.

"Nervous tension headache deserves special attention not only because it alone is probably the most frequent cause of headache but it occupies a most significant position in the aggravation and precipitation of many other kinds of headache. Emotional tension and situational troubles can easily be uncovered in most patients suffering unusually frequent attacks of migraine (one-sided headache) and only through management of these problems can the patient be expected to space out his attacks to the point where they are no longer of great significance."

I have written several times about headache and neck pain and how tenseness of mind and body, holding the head in a tensed position for long periods of time brings on this ache. This tenseness causes contraction of the muscles holding up the head which have their lower attachment on bones of shoulder. These Tulane physicians stated that "pain arising anywhere in the head and neck also can lead to excessive contraction of the muscles and hence produce the type of headache as an accompanying symptom when the primary or underlying trouble lies in the eyes, the nose structures or the skull itself."

These physicians suggest careful study of the nervous element in these headaches due to tension. This study will be found most worthwhile in many types of headache including headaches due to high blood pressure, headache following head injuries, sinus disturbanaces and other headaches.

Y'Know, Pal, It's Fantastic the Way We Always Win!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Chicago—Politics can be a cruel business. The cruelist blows dealt in the current race for the Democratic presidential nomination were to Vice President Alben Barkley and Averell Harriman. Undoubtedly, they were not meant to be cruel, for in Barkley's case they came from those who love him most—his wife, Leslie Biffle, and the President. However, it will probably embitter him for the remainder of his life.

The stage was set for Barkley to enter the presidentail race on July 5, the last day Congress was supposed to meet, at a luncheon given by Senate Secretary Biffle, the Veep's close personal and political friend. Since Congress was supposed to close that day, President Truman returned to his old stamping ground, attended the lunch, had a couple of bourbons and was pulled to one side for a conference with Biffle.

Biffle is the man who put Barkley across as vice president at the Philadelphia convention in 1948; also the man who, posing as a chicken salesman, toured the country taking political soundings that summer and predicted Truman could win. He has long wanted the Veep to become President; likewise the new Mrs. Barkley.

So, at this luncheon, Biffle urged Truman to switch his support from Harriman, then his No. 1 choice, to the much-loved, elderly Veep.

Truman agreed.

The very next day Barkley, buoyed up by hope and spurred on by his wife, made a formal announcement that he would actively push his campaign. That was why, on arriving in Chicago, he walked from the railroad station to the hotel. That was also why the party bosses passed out word that it's "Barkley the White House wants."

However, the days when the President can hand down orders on his successor and get them obeyed are past. When George Harrison, head of the AFL Railroad Clerks, heard this from Bill Boyle, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, he phoned the White House, insisted on talking to the President direct, and the following conversation took place:

"Mr. President, Bill Boyle tells me you have selected Barkley."

"That's right," replied the President.

"Well, that puts me on an awfully long limb because I have been pushing Harriman as you indicated 10 days ago," responded Harrison.

"Well, stay out on the limb for a little while longer," was Truman's cryptic reply.

Whether the President meant by this that he was merely using Barkley as a stalking horse to stop Kefauver is not known. However, the much-loved and now embittered Veep will never recover from that political blow.

Harriman a Future Power

The blow at Averell Harriman was not quite so brutal, chiefly because he is a younger man.

First Fitzpatrick approached New York's Sen. Herbert Lehman. Lehman, past 70, ridiculed the idea. He said he had no chance to become president and didn't want the New York delegates pledged to him.

Next Fitzpatrick went to Harriman, urged him to run for president. Harriman took him seriously, jumped in with all his energy, plus considerable money, and proceeded to put on a bang-up campaign. In fact he put on such a good campaign that even his best friends were surprised.

Fitzpatrick has stuck with him, but doesn't look happy about it. He wears a little Harriman button, sits back, goes through the motions of steering the Harriman campaign, but there is no passion in his drive, no optimism in his voice. He is merely paying lip service to a commitment he made.

For Novice Harriman, however, this has been an experience. He has found himself able to make better speeches than the old-timers, he has snapped out of his habitual shyness, and he will be a politician to be reckoned with in future administrations.

Chicago Merry-Go-Round

Sad sights at the Democratic convention include: Former White House general counsel Clark Clifford, now playing would-be kingmaker for Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma. Clifford, whose law practice benefited considerably from his White House contacts, now realizes he has pulled a bull, can't get off the hook. . . . Three other former White House advisers are also riding the losers' train. They are gracious Grace Tully, former secretary to Franklin D. Roosevelt and FDR's two top ghost writers, Judge Sam Rosenman and Robert E. Sherwood. The trio worked hard in Averell Harriman's corner. . . . The Roosevelt family is well represented at the convention. In addition to Mrs. Roosevelt, there is Franklin, Jr., who spearheaded the Harriman forces, while Jimmy Roosevelt beat the brush for Kefauver. Mrs. Roosevelt's private favorite is Governor Stevenson, with whom she served at the United Nations. However, the former first lady, an invited speaker at the convention carefully avoided showing any partisanship. Two of her sons Elliott and John, are backing General Eisenhower. . . . Secretary of Interior Chapman, only cabinet member present with a direct phone to the White House, had to lace Democratic Chairman Frank McKinney down for using Chapman's name as part of the Barkley boom. Chapman couldn't deny it publicly, but sent his aides scurrying through the lobbies to squelch the rumor.

CIO and AFL leaders present at the Democratic convention decided to by-pass Presidential Secretary Matt Connelly in getting word to Truman when they found that Connelly was pigeonholing their views. They will talk through Presidential Counsel Charles Murphy, whom they consider less biased and more "accurate."

Did Delegates Cheer Truman Ineptitude in Handling Steel Strike?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Chicago, Ill., July 25 — When Speaker Rayburn, chairman of the Democratic National Convention, stepped forward to read a statement from the White House that the steel strike had been settled, a loud cheer swept the hall.

But what were the delegates cheering? Were they cheering President Truman, whose inepititude and lack of leadership allowed the strike to go on for 53 days, thus subjecting the nation to its most serious economic loss in a generation?

Were they cheering the Democratic administration, whose bungling kept the controversy from being handled long ago by collective bargaining?

When the terms of the settlement are examined, it will be found that on the issue of compulsory unionization, the labor leaders lost. On the matter of wages, the unions got about what they wanted, and the industry got approximately the price increase they sought as a means of offsetting the increased costs due to the higher wages.

Everybody got something—and the public lost on all counts except one. That was in demonstrating an important point: When the parties at interest know they must settle and no special privilege or partisianship or help to either side is given by the government by a political president—the issues are usually settled promptly.

Last April the industry wanted assurance of a price increase to meet wage costs. The administration's price administrator stubbornly refused. Mr. Truman upheld him. Today the price chief was ordered to permit an increase of $5.20 per ton.

All this could have been done weeks ago when Charles E. Wilson, former defense mobilizer, told the President that such a compromise was possible. He got the presidential approval only to run up against a clique of labor partisans inside the government who torpedoed the proposed settlement and caused Mr. Truman to welch on his instructions to Mr. Wilson.

Nearly 20 millions of tons of steel—about a fifth of a year's production—was lost and will not be replenished. The defense program suffered. American interests in the cold war suffered. Actual money losses were in excess of a billion dollars.

But they'll cheer Harry Truman just the same and, as is natural in these hypocritical speeches at the convention, they'll extoll the Democratic administration and its "great record."

Maybe Governor Stevenson, who has had some reservations about taking over the liabilities of the Truman administration, will frankly admit to the American people on the stump that he would have handled the steel problem differently. Maybe he will remain silent and shift his argument to other issues. But certainly the country will not soon forget this high cost of presidential stupidity.

Here at the Democratic National Convention, all the speeches simply ignore the serious mistakes that have been made by the administration. The platform glosses over them. The selection of Governor Stevenson is designed to furnish a new personality for the White House who, because he has been brought to party leadership by the "draft," would presumably bring a "change."

When the mistakes of the Truman Administration are appraised it will take a good deal of intellectual flexibility for Governor Stevenson to make a case for a new administration while applauding the "great record" of the preceding administration.

This convention made up its collective mind to pick Governor Stevenson because he stands head and shoulders above all other candidates. Yet the "draft" had to start not from his own state of Illinois but from other states—Indiana and Pennsylvania — in order not to seem to tie in the Stevenson candidacy with boss rule in Chicago, where the Democratic machine is allied with the same selfish interests that have in other populous areas allowed vice and gambling to flourish.

Governor Stevenson is a strong enough man to take on a national campaign and make the best of it, but he will find that the issue in 1952 is not Stevenson's ability or personality or record, but the Democratic record in Washington. Unless he repudiates a considerable portion of it, he will wish they had not drafted him in 1952.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Chicago, July 23—Like good deeds in a sordid world, the young ushers who herded the mobs at the Democratic party's repulsive rites of nomination and the Republican travesty of two weeks before, shone above this rabble with a mien of unmistakable character and class. The Chicago policeman also were several cuts above their wards with the badges and fool's caps and far superior to the porcine dignitaries of both sexes on the high altar of democracy.

The Chicago cop is a victim of his own slouchy dress and bearing which give him a superficial seeming of indiscipline and unreadiness for come-whatever. Like the American generals in WW 2, who designed their own costumes, often, it seemed, with chic suggestions from some winsome chauffeuse, these fellows seem to dress according to whim rather than formal regulation. One cult among them wore the standard blue, with blouse, but traffic men wore long pants and gray shirts, while another sect, the noisy motorcycle corps, went shuffling with a cowboy gait in cavalry bloomers and sweaty shirts, their accoutrements clanking like jallopies on a railroad crossing.

The habits of this gendarmerie permit smoking on patrol in the streets and gossip with comrades and civilians in startling violation of police and military tradition. They were, nevertheless, surprisingly polite, eager to please and highly efficient in their management of traffic.

This convention and the preceding spectacle offered strong professional temptations to pickpockets who abound in Chicago, although, the plain fact, the sort of people who attend such things are conspicuously frugal by comparison with an equal number of salesmen, dentists or even managing editors. But a pickpocket detail of 50 men under Lieut. Frank O'Sullivan, himself in plain clothes, gathered in all known dips orn sight anywhere in town as a preventive measure to the number of nine by Wednesday night and there was no complaint of any snatch of poke, roll or turnip except one jewelled watch seemed likely to have just come loose and been lost with honor.

The gismo of the whole command of all habits and specialties was Capt. Redmond Gibbons, whose job beset him with poignant social and diplomatic problems.

Thus it is not by choice but by force of circumstances that motorcycle escorts have been shrilling through the streets at mad speed delivering impudent swine of the payroll hierarchy to the hall and their hotels, to the swillings and smoke-filled rooms, to the peril and smoldering indignation of the faceless American.

After all, this is a democratic town and when a gang of bums suddenly showed up in a dirty alley alongside the hall in a spontaneous noble inspiration to draft Harry S. Truman, bearing lettered placards to that effect, Capt. Gibbons could not find it in him to chase them off. The custom of hiring mildewed alcoholics from the dumps to form ragged ranks outside the building and troop through on signal acclaiming the people's choice has made it difficult to maintain order.

In fact, Andy Frain, the contracting chief usher and marshal of the famous elite corps which now ennobles his name at many American galas, was jabbed stoutly in the diaphragm with a rolled newspaper in the meaty hand of a determined lady Democrat and horizontalized briefly when he tried to repel a wave of crashers on opening night. Mr. Frain had orders to admit only 150 head for each spontaneous popular demand but when he tried to stem the rush the stampede overran him.

Mr. Frain is a phenomenal specialist. In 1926 he went to Jim Mullen, long since gone to his reward, who was promoting a fight between Mickey Walker and the sad and gentle Negro deacon, Tiger Flowers, in the coliseum and offered to put each customer in the very seat that his ticket called for. This was foul heresy at any sport event and even in theatres and churches, but Mr. Mullen thought his clients might like it so he made a deal.

Andy Frain showed up with 45 young men of Irish persuasion from his old neighborhood back of the yards. Custom was till then, and still is in some New York festivities, for the ushers to sell off the first five rows at private venture and push the patrons around in cynical violation of their lawful rights. Having been an usher, Mr. Frain knew that, and some of the patrons on this first occasion tried to bribe him anyway even when he explained that they were sitting in their own seats already paid for.

Thereafter the Frain usher service developed into the remarkable staff which at these two conventions included 25 young men who are taking preliminary studies for the Catholic priesthood at Quigley Seminary. The rest were all either college students or advanced high school men and most of the corps were over six feet tall. They were clean, alert, polite, highly respectable and unmistakably superior as a group to the specimens gathered here with the effrontery to try to impose a president on the United States.

A small group of these youths, in varying stages of disattire during a change of shifts, fell to examining the constitutional provisions for the election of presidents and were far better versed in the basic facts than any orator from the podium had been.

One of them asked why social security was unconstitutional. I asked him to cite to me that portion of the constitution which gave the national government authority to make a citizen buy an insurance policy which he didn't want at a price arbitrarily fixed by the vendor, he said he would think it over, which will be a feat of cerebration beyond the powers and the morals of any delegate then howling in the current spontaneous popular demand.

Mr. Frain's alumni have gone into the FBI, the clergy and the law, and he permits only a few selected fellows to stay on beyond a limited term, and those few only as executives.

He was born back of the yards in 1904, one of 17 children of a Roscommon hodcarrier and, in preparation for his present assignment, first worked in the stockyards herding swine into the chutes for slaughter. He provides ushers in plug hats for high-toned weddings, pallbearers and parade marshals as organized specialties of his general practice at ballyards, horse-yards and conventions.

His father once drove him off with orders never to darken his door again when Andy, in sharp necessity, marshaled a Masonic parade.

He is now contempiating an offer, probably fictitious and the work of some Orangeman, to take a staff of Frain ushers, all of Irish strain and 80 per cent of them Catholics, to do a job at the coronation of Queen Elizabeth.

Wike Heads Chiefs

Utica, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Leroy E. Wike of Endicott is the new president of the New York State Association of Chiefs of Police. Wike was elected yesterday as the chiefs ended their three-day annual conference. He succeeds Martin J. Considine of Niagara Falls. Other officers elected were: Thomas A. Eibler of Rockville Centre, first vice president; John C. Hergenhan of Armonk, second vice president, and Edward J. Curtin of Watertown, third vice president.

Vogeler Will Teach

Peekskill, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Peekskill Military Academy, a prep school, will offer a new course, "Techniques of Espionage," in the fall. One of the lecturers will be Robert A. Vogeler, who spent 17 months in a Hungarian prison as an accused spy. Vogeler is an alumnus and a trustee of the school. School officials said the course will be offered to seniors and it will stress foreign policy and orientation.

Iron Ore Tax Higher

St. Paul, Minn. (AP)—Iron ore occupation taxes to be collected by Minnesota this year will total $26,275,375, a 40 per cent hike over the $18,822,662 paid last year. The tax is to be paid by 40 companies operating 107 mines. Nearly 39 per cent of the total is assessed against the Oliver Iron Mining Co. The assessment was based on a net marketable 77,165,584 tons of iron ore.

New Yorkers Are Told To Beware of Sunday

New York, July 25 (AP)—New Yorkers, happy with the weather yesterday, can expect more of the same today and tomorrow.

But the weather man says look out for Sunday, because a damp, hot air current is seeping up from the south.

Yesterday's high was 81.6 in mid-afternoon with low humidity. The weather bureau predicted today's highest temperatures in the lower 80's with the mercury dipping to the 60's tonight.

The Canadian cool air mass which broke the back of the 13-day heat wave, was accompanied by strong wind gusts which played a little havoc with small sailboats in Long Island sound. However, no serious injuries or damage were reported.

ACCORD

Accord, July 25 — The annual picnic of the Sunday school of the Rochester Reformed Church will be held at the church grounds Monday, July 28, beginning at 4 p. m. There will be games and a covered dish supper. All friends and members of the Sunday school are invited. Each family is requested to bring a covered dish and sandwiches. The picnic will be held rain or shine. Mrs. Edward Kelder is the general chairman.

Mrs. Golden Lyons and children spent Friday with her mother in Gardiner and enjoyed a picnic.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Henderson and family entertained at dinner Sunday for Dr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson of North Adams, Mass., and Mrs. C. W. Henderson of Accord.

Miss Arlene K. Henderson is spending two weeks on vacation with Dr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson at North Adams, Mass.

Miss Edna Wood is spending some time at her home in Accord.

Editor Dies Suddenly

Amsterdam, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—CIO textile workers today continued their nearly eight-week-old strike against the Mohawk Carpet Co. after rejecting a second proposal for settlement. Local 489 of the Textile Workers Union announced last night that two-day balloting on the peace plan showed: 1,629 against, 676 for. The agreement, drafted by the union negotiating committee and company officials, would have provided a 7-cent hourly pay increase and compromises on other issues. The local voted down a similar proposal July 12.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., July 25—Mother Nature surely smiles on the Democrats by giving the U. S. good crops for 1952. This total crop production now promises to be second only to the record of 1948. Here are a few highlights.

Billion-bushel-plus wheat crops have been almost taken for granted in recent years. With the exception of 1951, they have been the rule since 1943 . This year's indicated total outturn of 1,249,019,000 bushels is the third largest crop of record. Despite its size, it should not cause any trouble. Farmers have more storage space available this year; and can take advantage of Government loans if necessary.

In Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, as well as in California, rice growers are producing an indicated record crop of well over 45,000,000 bags of 100 pounds each. But I guess it will not prove burdensome marketwise. Although a relatively small buckwheat crop is likely, I do not forecast a shortage of pancakes on the American Sunday breakfast table! The smallest rye crop outlook in over 80 years, plus the low carryover, may well mean considerable stringency.

Bumper Corn Crop—If

Barring unfavorbale weather from now on, the nation's 1952 corn outturn may reach the huge figure of 3,365,089,000 bushels—the second largest corn crop on record. This should be good news to livestock producers, since it points to more favorable feeding ratios this fall and winter. The barley crop probably will be the smallest since 1936, in contrast to an indicated oats crop well above the ten-year average. A large total hay crop, of good quality, also is in the cards.

Bean eaters—and they are by no means all in Boston—will draw on a smaller total crop of dry edible beans this year than last. The indicated outturn of 15,747,000 bags (100 pounds each) is down materially from 1951 as well as the ten-year average production. The much-loved Irish potato, which recently has been spotlighted because of Government maneuverings, will be somewhat more plentiful this year than last. The indicated national potato outturn of 339,048,000 bushels is 4% larger than the short crop of 1951, but 18% below the 1941-1950 average. It should suffice, although the margin may be none too wide. I expect about an average production of commercial truck crops, and a slightly below-average outturn of deciduous fruits in 1952.

Cotton and Oilseed Prospects

Although it is too early to forecast as to the probable size of the 1952 U. S. cotton crop, it is likely to fall short of the 1951 outturn of 15,068,000 running bales. I base this forecast solely on the fact that indicated acreage now in cultivation is 7% under that of a year ago. Weather and insect damage between now and harvest time could further cut yields; but otherwise the cotton crop and the financial returns therefrom will be satisfactory.

Another oilseed crop also promises to be large. I refer to the versatile soy bean. But here, again, I have nothing to go on but the expected 4.2% indicated increase in acreage. This could result in topping last year's 280,512,000 bushels — the second largest crop on record. Although flaxseed and peanut prospects are materially under 1951, total supplies of oilseeds and their products will again be sufficient.

Another Good Year For Farmers

America—the Bountiful as well as the Beautiful—should thank God and her farmers for the munificence of her harvests—past, present, and currently indicated. There has never been a real famine in the land, and I pray that there never will be. From present prospects, 1952 will be another good year for the farmers, despite the rising trend of production costs. Prices, for the most part, should be well maintained, allowing for the usual seasonal variations. Sales opportunities in the farming areas should continue excellent, provided sellers stress quality and price their goods fairly.

Mr. and Mrs. James Forster celebrated their wedding anniversary July 17. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boice's wedding anniversary was celebrated on July 22.

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. S. Myers had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. W. Griffin of Newark, N. J., Mr. and Mrs Roy Myers, Joseph Myers, and Ralph Bouer, of Kingston.

Miss Gertrude Ritzhaupt spent a recent weekend with Miss Evelyn Ruhman and Mr. and Mrs. John Ruhman in Woodstock.

Master Sgt. William Ferguson, of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion A., New York National Guard, Kingston State Armory, is spending two weeks training at Camp Drum in Watertown. Mrs. Ferguson, president of the Women's Auxiliary, and son, William, are at the guest house at Camp Drum with a number of other Auxiliary members.

Peter Leahy, Jr., of Kingston is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Joy, on Hallahan's Hill.

On Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. O. Grefe of New York visited Mr. and Mrs. Fidel Hugger on the way home from a trip through Canada. They also visited Miss Irene Hugger at a camp in Phoenicia.

John Duffy, Sr., returned home from the Benedictine Hospital Wednesday.

Religious Attendance Gains

New Rochelle, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Army Secretary Frank Pace, Jr., says military attendance at religious services now is greater than at any time in U. S. peacetime history. Pace, speaking last night at the 21st annual convention of the Military Chaplains Association, added: "I have the honest feeling that the young men and women who are in the army today recognize the importance of the spiritual in their operations."

Girl Returns Home

New York, July 25 (AP)—Missing from home in Huntington, N. Y., since Tuesday, 17-year-old Adele Ida Walters, was found in Philadelphia yesterday and was returning home with a family physician, it was announced here by a friend of the girl's father, Harold J. Walters, real estate dealer. Walters said Wednesday that his daughter was missed by him and his wife Tuesday afternoon.

Dutch Get Tanks

Rotterdam, The Netherlands, July 25 (AP)—An American freighter arrived here today with 22 Sherman tanks aboard for the Dutch army. It was the largest shipment since last December, when 44 tanks were delivered. Today's cargo made a total of 131 Sherman tanks delivered to the Dutch army under the U. S. military aid program.

6-passenger Roadmaster Convertible.

It saves your strength - and it might save your life

CAN you imagine parking a car as easily as you steer it on a straightaway?

You twirl the steering wheel with one hand—turn the front wheels until you get the last inch of advantage from Buick's short "turning radius"—spot the car in a tight spot at the curb—or swing out when the car parked in front of you seems impossibly close.

For this alone a lot of people—women especially—are saying that Buick's Power Steering is the biggest advance since Dynaflow Drive.*

But you're going to find out something more as you pile up the miles.

You're going to feel the same confident and thrilling sense of command you have always felt in a Buick, because Power Steering only goes into action when extra effort is needed to turn the wheels.

You're going to find that your front wheels track just as they always have—that they automatically swing back on course, after you've made a turn, when you ease your grip on the steering wheel.

You're also going to find that Power Steering takes over when your front wheels hit loose dirt or sand—road irregularities and chuckholes—and smooths down their jerk or tug on the wheel in your hands.

All this adds to the ease and pleasure of driving. But it adds to the safety, too, because, in the rare event of a blowout, Power Steering helps you keep control. There's no sudden and violent jerk ever when this helping hand's on the job.

Add to this the level-gaited serenity of Buick's Million Dollar Ride—the "rarin' to go" exuberance of its Fireball 8 Engine—the spread-out room, the luxurious fabrics—the way this great performer can turn up its nose at gas stations—and there's only one smart thing for you to do:

Drop in—or pick up your phone—and arrange to give this marvel a tryout. Even the price says, Better buy Buick now.

an insurance policy which he didn't want at a price arbitrarily fixed by the vendor, he said he would think it over, which will be a feat of cerebration beyond the powers and the morals of any delegate then howling in the current spontaneous popular demand.

Mr. Frain's alumni have gone into the FBI, the clergy and the law, and he permits only a few selected fellows to stay on beyond a limited term, and those few only as executives.

He was born back of the yards in 1904, one of 17 children of a Roscommon hodcarrier and, in preparation for his present assignment, first worked in the stockyards herding swine into the chutes for slaughter. He provides ushers in plug hats for high-toned weddings, pallbearers and parade marshals as organized specialties of his general practice at ballyards, horse-yards and conventions.

His father once drove him off with orders never to darken his door again when Andy, in sharp necessity, marshaled a Masonic parade.

He is now contempiating an offer, probably fictitious and the work of some Orangeman, to take a staff of Frain ushers, all of Irish strain and 80 per cent of them Catholics, to do a job at the coronation of Queen Elizabeth.

Wike Heads Chiefs

Utica, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Leroy E. Wike of Endicott is the new president of the New York State Association of Chiefs of Police. Wike was elected yesterday as the chiefs ended their three-day annual conference. He succeeds Martin J. Considine of Niagara Falls. Other officers elected were: Thomas A. Eibler of Rockville Centre, first vice president; John C. Hergenhan of Armonk, second vice president, and Edward J. Curtin of Watertown, third vice president.

Vogeler Will Teach

Peekskill, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Peekskill Military Academy, a prep school, will offer a new course, "Techniques of Espionage," in the fall. One of the lecturers will be Robert A. Vogeler, who spent 17 months in a Hungarian prison as an accused spy. Vogeler is an alumnus and a trustee of the school. School officials said the course will be offered to seniors and it will stress foreign policy and orientation.

Iron Ore Tax Higher

St. Paul, Minn. (AP)—Iron ore occupation taxes to be collected by Minnesota this year will total $26,275,375, a 40 per cent hike over the $18,822,662 paid last year. The tax is to be paid by 40 companies operating 107 mines. Nearly 39 per cent of the total is assessed against the Oliver Iron Mining Co. The assessment was based on a net marketable 77,165,584 tons of iron ore.

New Yorkers Are Told To Beware of Sunday

New York, July 25 (AP)—New Yorkers, happy with the weather yesterday, can expect more of the same today and tomorrow.

But the weather man says look out for Sunday, because a damp, hot air current is seeping up from the south.

Yesterday's high was 81.6 in mid-afternoon with low humidity. The weather bureau predicted today's highest temperatures in the lower 80's with the mercury dipping to the 60's tonight.

The Canadian cool air mass which broke the back of the 13-day heat wave, was accompanied by strong wind gusts which played a little havoc with small sailboats in Long Island sound. However, no serious injuries or damage were reported.

ACCORD

Accord, July 25 — The annual picnic of the Sunday school of the Rochester Reformed Church will be held at the church grounds Monday, July 28, beginning at 4 p. m. There will be games and a covered dish supper. All friends and members of the Sunday school are invited. Each family is requested to bring a covered dish and sandwiches. The picnic will be held rain or shine. Mrs. Edward Kelder is the general chairman.

Mrs. Golden Lyons and children spent Friday with her mother in Gardiner and enjoyed a picnic.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Henderson and family entertained at dinner Sunday for Dr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson of North Adams, Mass., and Mrs. C. W. Henderson of Accord.

Miss Arlene K. Henderson is spending two weeks on vacation with Dr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson at North Adams, Mass.

Miss Edna Wood is spending some time at her home in Accord.

Mrs. Esther Markle is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Markle in Poughkeepsie.

Gary Johnson spent a few days on vacation last week with Ronald Roosa in Lyonsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Barley spent Saturday night with Jacob H. Barley and daughter.

Mrs. Edward Groves and sons of Jersey City, N. J., are spending their vacation with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Joy and daughter.

Rochester Reformed Church, the Rev. George D. Wood, pastor—Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Church service at 11 a. m.

Accord Methodist Church, the Rev. Malcolm Shattuck, pastor—Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. and church service at 10 a. m.

Editor Dies Suddenly

Amsterdam, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—CIO textile workers today continued their nearly eight-week-old strike against the Mohawk Carpet Co. after rejecting a second proposal for settlement. Local 489 of the Textile Workers Union announced last night that two-day balloting on the peace plan showed: 1,629 against, 676 for. The agreement, drafted by the union negotiating committee and company officials, would have provided a 7-cent hourly pay increase and compromises on other issues. The local voted down a similar proposal July 12.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., July 25—Mother Nature surely smiles on the Democrats by giving the U. S. good crops for 1952. This total crop production now promises to be second only to the record of 1948. Here are a few highlights.

Billion-bushel-plus wheat crops have been almost taken for granted in recent years. With the exception of 1951, they have been the rule since 1943 . This year's indicated total outturn of 1,249,019,000 bushels is the third largest crop of record. Despite its size, it should not cause any trouble. Farmers have more storage space available this year; and can take advantage of Government loans if necessary.

In Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, as well as in California, rice growers are producing an indicated record crop of well over 45,000,000 bags of 100 pounds each. But I guess it will not prove burdensome marketwise. Although a relatively small buckwheat crop is likely, I do not forecast a shortage of pancakes on the American Sunday breakfast table! The smallest rye crop outlook in over 80 years, plus the low carryover, may well mean considerable stringency.

Bumper Corn Crop—If

Barring unfavorbale weather from now on, the nation's 1952 corn outturn may reach the huge figure of 3,365,089,000 bushels—the second largest corn crop on record. This should be good news to livestock producers, since it points to more favorable feeding ratios this fall and winter. The barley crop probably will be the smallest since 1936, in contrast to an indicated oats crop well above the ten-year average. A large total hay crop, of good quality, also is in the cards.

Bean eaters—and they are by no means all in Boston—will draw on a smaller total crop of dry edible beans this year than last. The indicated outturn of 15,747,000 bags (100 pounds each) is down materially from 1951 as well as the ten-year average production. The much-loved Irish potato, which recently has been spotlighted because of Government maneuverings, will be somewhat more plentiful this year than last. The indicated national potato outturn of 339,048,000 bushels is 4% larger than the short crop of 1951, but 18% below the 1941-1950 average. It should suffice, although the margin may be none too wide. I expect about an average production of commercial truck crops, and a slightly below-average outturn of deciduous fruits in 1952.

Cotton and Oilseed Prospects

Although it is too early to forecast as to the probable size of the 1952 U. S. cotton crop, it is likely to fall short of the 1951 outturn of 15,068,000 running bales. I base this forecast solely on the fact that indicated acreage now in cultivation is 7% under that of a year ago. Weather and insect damage between now and harvest time could further cut yields; but otherwise the cotton crop and the financial returns therefrom will be satisfactory.

Another oilseed crop also promises to be large. I refer to the versatile soy bean. But here, again, I have nothing to go on but the expected 4.2% indicated increase in acreage. This could result in topping last year's 280,512,000 bushels — the second largest crop on record. Although flaxseed and peanut prospects are materially under 1951, total supplies of oilseeds and their products will again be sufficient.

Another Good Year For Farmers

America—the Bountiful as well as the Beautiful—should thank God and her farmers for the munificence of her harvests—past, present, and currently indicated. There has never been a real famine in the land, and I pray that there never will be. From present prospects, 1952 will be another good year for the farmers, despite the rising trend of production costs. Prices, for the most part, should be well maintained, allowing for the usual seasonal variations. Sales opportunities in the farming areas should continue excellent, provided sellers stress quality and price their goods fairly.

Mettacahonts

Mettacahonts, July 25—Mr. and Mrs. William Bartlett of Connecticut visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Osterhoudt on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Speers, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Churchwell, Jr., and Bob Scarett were Thursday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kelder.

Mrs. William Treadway has returned to her home after spending two weeks in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Anderson of Gardiner spent Sunday at the home of their uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kelder.

Mrs. Henry Sherman and daughter visited her sister Mrs. Jansen Osterhoudt on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Gates are entertaining friends from Newark, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harper of Kingston were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rowe at a picnic supper at the Ashokan Reservoir Sunday night.

Mrs. Charles Kissinger and son, Charles, Jr., of Philadelphia, Pa., are spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. Anton Hormann. Their sister, Mrs. V. Kastner of Brooklyn spent the weekend here.

Mrs. Daniel Linden, and Mr. and Mrs. L. Canale of Brooklyn spent the weekend at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Strobel and daughter Marlene, of New York, spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. F. Hugger. While here, Miss Marlene Strobel celebrated her 18th birthday with the Huggers and several other guests, including Mrs. McGuckin and Mrs. C. Degnar of the village.

On Saturday, Mrs. Rowe's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harper Bonebrake, of Waynesboro, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hochensmith of Hagerstown, Md., visited Mr. and Mrs. Rowe en route to Nova Scotia.

Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. John Frain and family of Kingston were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Rowe.

John Kemp of New York spent a few days last week with his sister, Mrs. James Wrynn, Sr., and family, at their home on Hallahan's Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Brown and family of Kingston visited Mr. and Mrs. Francis Joy and family, Hallahan's Hill, Saturday night.

Current birthdays include those of Mrs. L. Hulsair, July 19, Douglas Kirchner, July 21, and Mrs. M. Dale, July 25.

Mr. and Mrs. James Forster celebrated their wedding anniversary July 17. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boice's wedding anniversary was celebrated on July 22.

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. S. Myers had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. W. Griffin of Newark, N. J., Mr. and Mrs Roy Myers, Joseph Myers, and Ralph Bouer, of Kingston.

Miss Gertrude Ritzhaupt spent a recent weekend with Miss Evelyn Ruhman and Mr. and Mrs. John Ruhman in Woodstock.

Master Sgt. William Ferguson, of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion A., New York National Guard, Kingston State Armory, is spending two weeks training at Camp Drum in Watertown. Mrs. Ferguson, president of the Women's Auxiliary, and son, William, are at the guest house at Camp Drum with a number of other Auxiliary members.

Turko-Yugoslav Markets

Belgrade (AP)—Hungry for new markets and new sources of raw material, Yugoslavia has been developing in recent months closer trade relations with Turkey in a move which may strengthen relations between the two southeast European countries. This country, woefully short of textiles, is dickering with Turkey for large scale purchases of cotton. For its part, Turkey wants wheat, dried fruit, cement, some finished goods and maganese. Business between the two countries so far has largely been carried out on a barter basis. For example, Yugoslavia recently signed a contract for 5,000 tons of wheat to be paid for in cement and wood products.

By HAL BOYLE

Chicago, July 25 (AP) — Dear Wilbur,

There is only one thing to be done with the 31st national Democratic convention.

It ought to be stuffed—delegates and all—then covered with wax and put on permanent exhibit in the American Museum of Natural History. Otherwise, posterity will never believe it really existed.

I guess I should have stood in bedlam yesterday. And that is what I did do, dear darling, for some 14 mad nightmare hours while the donkey delegates brayed for 11 leaders—including shy Adlai ("we're madly for Adlai") Stevenson—then tried to kick each other to pieces.

Stage Set Properly

The program, bearing a secret White House seal, called for the nomination of Stevenson for the presidency after decent funeral sermons for the other candidates. The stage had been properly set for the weather effects Gov. Stevenson had demanded — a strong and irresistible draft.

"The galleries are full of Illinois state employes blowing as hard as they can," said a cynical Kefauver supporter. "If Adlai wants a draft—well, Jake Arvey will give him a hurricane."

For your information, dear, Jake Arvey is a local Chicago statesman — ranking somewhere between George Washington and Tom Pendergast.

I was escorted to the convention hall by my new beau—Mr. Petrol, the Texas oilionaire delegate. He sent me a corsage, and it was so big the bellboy had to saw it in half and bring it up in two freight elevators. When Mr. Petrol takes a girl out he likes to make her feel she has just won the Kentucky Derby.

Everybody Nominated

Well, Wilbur, the delegates began nominating every Democrat for the presidency who had contributed to the last election. They even sort of put up Harry S. Truman, just to surprise him. And then they pulled his name back real fast—no point in carrying a surprise too far.

A dozing elderly delegate from Nebraska rose to his feet and said: "I nominate William Jennings Bryan. They shall not press down upon the brow of labor this crown of * * *" Somebody shook him fully awake then, showed him a calendar, and he subsided.

But instead of saddling Stevenson with the unwanted burden his enemies say he has been impatiently waiting for, the delegates went back to their favorite sport—fighting the Civil War all over.

Got Scared of Idea

They started voting to throw Virginia out of the convention, but when they found they had enough votes to do it, they got scared and started voting against the idea. After deciding to keep Virginia, they started to throw away South Carolina and Louisiana.

Wilbur, it was just like your relatives at a family reunion—everybody screaming and nobody listening. Then, in the midst of a flaming speech by Gov. Jimmy Byrnes, a nearby newspaper caught fire. Nobody got excited at all until some fellow began screaming into a microphone:

"Don't get panicky! Don't get panicky!"

Everybody Excited

Everybody got excited. The firemen came then. They didn't have so much trouble putting out the blaze as they did pushing back some Michigan Democrats who were huffing and puffing like mad trying to spread the flames and set fire to the South Carolina delegates, thus hoping to save further voting.

Well, Wilbur, it was then that I sat down—kerplunk—on the point of a big Harriman button somebody had tossed on my chair. I need not tell you how painful it was—and is.

Mr. Petrol gallantly helped me from the hall as the dazed delegates finally voted to keep South Carolina and Louisiana in the tribe. What nonsense all around!

As I say, Wilbur, as far as I am concerned they ought to take the entire Democratic National Convention—and stuff it.

West Park Youngsters Enjoy Annual Picnic

The 175 children at the Mother Cabrini School in West Park had a memorable day on the occasion of their annual outing sponsored by the Knights of Columbus 275. The youngsters were called for, in cars provided by members and friends, and beginning at 10 o'clock their fun day started with a tour including DD's Drive Inn, Ashokan Reservoir and Forsyth Park where they had a picnic, refreshments and games. The Catholic Daughters of America provided and dispensed a hearty picnic lunch. Jack Hoffman and Barney O'Neill, above, gave each child a special gift. (Freeman photo)

Kingston Academy Class of 1915 Will Hold Tercentennial Old Home Week Reunion

As an appropriate observance of Old Home Week being celebrated this week in conjunction with the city's tercentennial, the 1915 class of Kingston Academy will hold a luncheon reunion at the YWCA tomorrow at 12:30 p. m.

This class was the final one at the academy, the oldest preparatory school in the state. The committee in charge has done a magnificent job in contacting class members. Of the original group of 50, all but four of those living have been located and at least 27, with their respective spouses, are planning to be present, many of whom will arrive from far distant points for the much anticipated event.

Nostalgic Flavor

An interview with some of the planners who, for months, have been contributing their efforts to the interest and success of the reunion, disclosed many nostalgic surprises for those who will attend. They have gone to great lengths to recapture, in reunion, the spirit of graduation experienced by class members who may or may not at the time, have realized the historic value their class would assume.

The luncheon committee comprises Mrs. Raymond Craft, Mrs. Clifford DuMond, Mrs. W. Lee Partlan, Mrs. Parker Brinnier, Mrs. Charles Arnold, and W. Anderson Carl, class president; Harry duBois Frey and Willys Ryder.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. David N. Stoller of 222 Elmendorf street, had as their weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Schwartz and Mrs. Irene Gottesman of Bronx, and Gerald Dicken of Washington, D. C. The Stollers entertained for their guests at a dinner party at Lake Mohonk.

Miss Mary Ann Qualtere was the guest of Mrs. Freda Struble of Hurley on Thursday.

PIPE BY NO MEANS A PARIAH!

A man writes: "I am a pipe smoker and do not like cigarettes. At social gatherings, such as a dinner where women are present, when others light up cigars and cigarettes, I take out my pipe. It is not a smelly old thing, I keep it sweet and clean. But I am told by my wife that a pipe is a definite social pariah. If it is, I'd like to have you say so!"

At a formal dinner (meaning actually a dinner of ceremony) a pipe would be as unthinkable as appearing in country sports clothes, but, at any friendly, informal dinner, a sweet clean pipe would be entirely permissible and, to many of us, preferred to the smell of a cigar.

Flowers Alone

Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening my sister went to a dance and received a very pretty corsage from her "date." The next day she went shopping and pinned the corsage on her suit. I told her that a corsage was very unsuitable to wear while shopping but she disagreed with me, and so I said I would write you for the correct answer. Will you please give your opinion?

Answer: It is all right if you take off its trimmings and wear the flowers alone.

Napkins Not Necessary

Wear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to provide napkins of any kind at a large wedding reception where the refreshments will be nothing but party sandwiches and cookies and punch, and wedding cake in boxes for the guests to take home? If napkins have to be put out, will pretty paper ones be acceptable? We are wondering where in the world we could find as many as three hundred linen ones.

Answer: Napkins are necessary only when guests are seated at tables.

Do Not Stoop

Dear Mrs. Post: Should an ice cream soda, or any cold drink served with a straw, be lifted up and over to the mouth, or is it proper to lean over and drink from where the glass stands?

Answer: Lift it!

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Real Answer Isn't Always Easily Found

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

How would you play the South hand at six hearts against the opening lead of the three of diamonds? Suppose you try it with all of the cards in sight. The answer will not be easy to find.

When this hand was actually played, Ruth Sherman, one of the country's great bridge stars, managed to make her contract even though she could see only her own hand and the dummy. The bidding and the opening lead, however, located all the important cards for her.

It was clear, to begin with, that West had led a singleton diamond. This meant that East had three diamonds in addition to a seven-card or longer spade suit.

Armed with this information Miss Sherman managed to find the winning line of play. She won the first trick in dummy with the ace of diamonds and drew trumps with the ace and queen.

She continued by cashing the top spades and ruffing a spade, after which she cashed the ace and king of clubs, followed by a low club.

Dummy discarded the six of diamonds on the second round of clubs, and the seven of diamonds on the third round of clubs.

West had to win this trick and had to lead another club for lack of anything else. This enabled dummy to discard the last diamond, while declared ruffed. The rest was, of course, very easy.

Prisoner Issue Is Still Unchanged In Korean Talks

Munsan, Korea, July 25 (AP)—The three-week news blackout was lifted from the Korean armistice talks today, showing the deadlock over prisoner exchange—final issue blocking a truce—still unbroken.

Despite a United Nations offer to return an additional 13,000 captives to the Communists, 18 off-the-record meetings since July 4 proved "completely fruitless," said Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr.

"We are no nearer a solution of the problem today than we were on July 4," the chief allied delegate said, but added:

"As long as we continue negotiations there is always hope, when the enemy proposed this morning that we go back into open sessions, I agreed heartily."

Starting tomorrow proceedings will be made public daily as formerly. Tomorrow's session is set for 11 a. m. (9 a. m.,) Friday, EST).

Wouldn't Back Down

The UN command said it refused to back down on its decision not to return forcibly any prisoner to the Communists. Only 83,000 of 170,000 allied-held POWs want to be repatriated, Harrison said. This is an increase of 13,000 over the figure submitted to the Reds earlier, before screening of POWs was completed.

The allies said the Communists insisted on the return of 116,000 prisoners, these include 20,000 Chinese captives of whom only 6,400 will return voluntarily.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, the senior Red negotiator, conceded the prisoner exchange issue had become not a matter of principle, but of "lists and numbers." He urged the UN to present a figure "approaching reality." But the allies said Nam never reconciled his statements and proposals with the allied report that almost three fourths of the Chinese in allied prisoner camps would resist repatriation.

The Communists today proposed a meeting of staff officers to discuss "details" of the wording of an armistice agreement.

"We are going to consider the matter," Harrison said. All matters in agreement have been drafted, but approval of the wording has been held up for solution of the prisoner issue.

Air Guard to Begin Summer Training

White Plains, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—About 1,000 officers and airmen of the New York National Guard will leave this Sunday for two weeks training at Spaatz Field, Reading, Pa., it was announced today.

Col. Robert J. Kirsch, NYANG commanding officer and commander of the 107th Fighter Wing, Niagara Falls, N. Y., said the organization includes three fighter squadrons equipped with F-51 "Mustang" aircraft and their support units.

Units moving July 27 to Spaatz Field include:

Niagara Falls: 107th Fighter Wing, 107th Maintenance and Supply Group, 107th Air Base Group; 107th Medical Group, all from Niagara Falls Municipal Airport.

White Plains: Headquarters, NYANG; 137th Fighter Squadron 274th Communications Operating Squadron, all from Westchester county airport.

Syracuse: 107th Fighter Group and 138th Fighter Squadron, both from Hancock Field.

Sparkman Likely Choice on Ticket

Chicago, July 25 (AP)—Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, 52-year-old lawyer, emerged today as one of the likeliest prospects for the Democratic vice presidential nomination if Gov. Adlai Stevenson is named to head the ticket.

While the nomination is to be voted on by the national convention after the party's presidential contender is named, the practice is for the delegates to accept the choise of the standard bearer. And nobody seems to know for sure whom Stevenson would favor.

Other possibilities include Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, who wants the No. 1 spot himself, and Sen. William Fulbright of Arkansas.

Sparkman has been in Congress since 1936, in the Senate since 1946.

Pastor-Carpenter

Chadron, Neb. (AP)—The versatility of its pastor is giving a boost to the Church of the Nazarene here. The Rev. Ralph Myers, 70, is a combination minister and master carpenter. He serves not only as the pastor, he also is building a new church structure for the congregation.

Rides Horse to Church

Centralia, Ill. (AP) — A Creal Springs, Ill. groceryman, owns two cars but prefers to ride to church Sundays on his horse, "Sweetheart." "I just feel more at home on the horse," W. H. Holmes explained. "Besides, my wife and children like to use the cars."

SHOKAN

Shokan, July 25—August 6 is the date for the Glenford Methodist Church fair and supper. Saturday afternoon, July 26, the WSG of the West Hurley Church of the Ashokan Charge will have a picnic at the home of Mrs. Jay Molyneaux, for members of the Guild and their families.

The Rev. Cornelius Hayes and Father O'Brien of Phoenicia are conducting Sunday morning Masses at the Boiceville Catholic Church. The attendance is about 200 persons during the summer season.

The state landscaping project along 9.59 miles of the Onteora Trail between Kingston and Mt. Tremper already is showing results as the good growth of clover and other grasses on the steep banks of numerous cuts attests. The bright idea of spreading hay on this rocky terrain to prevent erosion and to get a good catch of vegetation appears to be working out all right.

Mr. and Mrs. Caetano and two children of Long Island City have been visiting their Ashokan relatives, the Macaluso and Iapoce families. The Caetanos are looking for a place to rent in this section with a view to making their permanent home here.

Saturday, July 26, marks another birthday for Burr Elmendorf, retired Catskill Watershed inspector and resident of Shokan for more than 50 years. Burr is married to the former Laura Moe of Ashokan and they have three daughters and a grandson...Tuesday, July 29, marks the 82nd birthday of William J. Greene, native of Olive and Ashokan resident for many years. Will was born and brought up on the farm of his parents, George and Mary (Tyler) Greene, near the present railroad viaduct here. He formerly operated barber shops at West Shokan and Woodstock.

Mr. and Mrs. Holger Fagenstrom of New York, one time summer resident of Shokan, were here during the weekend. The former Shirley Olson and her husband would like to rent a bungalow or buy a building site in Shokan.

Ben Swanson of Brooklyn has built a total of five summer cottages on his property, the old Black place along the mountainside. Ben puts up the buildings himself and then sells or rents them. He has also had a 300-ft. well driven and has placed the half-mile road through the woods in excellent shape for cars. This was the David Perry place of a century ago.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Real Answer Isn't Always Easily Found

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

How would you play the South hand at six hearts against the opening lead of the three of diamonds? Suppose you try it with all of the cards in sight. The answer will not be easy to find.

When this hand was actually played, Ruth Sherman, one of the country's great bridge stars, managed to make her contract even though she could see only her own hand and the dummy. The bidding and the opening lead, however, located all the important cards for her.

It was clear, to begin with, that West had led a singleton diamond. This meant that East had three diamonds in addition to a seven-card or longer spade suit.

Armed with this information Miss Sherman managed to find the winning line of play. She won the first trick in dummy with the ace of diamonds and drew trumps with the ace and queen.

She continued by cashing the top spades and ruffing a spade, after which she cashed the ace and king of clubs, followed by a low club.

	NORTH 25 ♠ A K 5 ♥ Q 10 8 7 3 ♦ A J 7 6 ♣ J
WEST ♠ 9 6 3 ♥ 4 2 ♦ 3 ♣ Q 10 8 7 5 4 2		EAST (D) ♠ Q J 10 8 7 4 2 ♥ 5 ♦ K Q 9 ♣ 9 6
	SOUTH ♠ None ♥ A K J 9 6 ♦ 10 8 5 4 2 ♣ A K 3

Both sides vul.

East	South	West	North
3 ♠	4 ♥	Pass	6 ♥
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♦ 3

Dummy discarded the six of diamonds on the second round of clubs, and the seven of diamonds on the third round of clubs.

West had to win this trick and had to lead another club for lack of anything else. This enabled dummy to discard the last diamond, while declared ruffed. The rest was, of course, very easy.

Prisoner Issue Is Still Unchanged In Korean Talks

Munsan, Korea, July 25 (AP)—The three-week news blackout was lifted from the Korean armistice talks today, showing the deadlock over prisoner exchange—final issue blocking a truce—still unbroken.

Despite a United Nations offer to return an additional 13,000 captives to the Communists, 18 off-the-record meetings since July 4 proved "completely fruitless," said Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr.

"We are no nearer a solution of the problem today than we were on July 4," the chief allied delegate said, but added:

"As long as we continue negotiations there is always hope, when the enemy proposed this morning that we go back into open sessions, I agreed heartily."

Starting tomorrow proceedings will be made public daily as formerly. Tomorrow's session is set for 11 a. m. (9 a. m.,) Friday, EST).

Wouldn't Back Down

The UN command said it refused to back down on its decision not to return forcibly any prisoner to the Communists. Only 83,000 of 170,000 allied-held POWs want to be repatriated, Harrison said. This is an increase of 13,000 over the figure submitted to the Reds earlier, before screening of POWs was completed.

The allies said the Communists insisted on the return of 116,000 prisoners, these include 20,000 Chinese captives of whom only 6,400 will return voluntarily.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, the senior Red negotiator, conceded the prisoner exchange issue had become not a matter of principle, but of "lists and numbers." He urged the UN to present a figure "approaching reality." But the allies said Nam never reconciled his statements and proposals with the allied report that almost three fourths of the Chinese in allied prisoner camps would resist repatriation.

The Communists today proposed a meeting of staff officers to discuss "details" of the wording of an armistice agreement.

"We are going to consider the matter," Harrison said. All matters in agreement have been drafted, but approval of the wording has been held up for solution of the prisoner issue.

Air Guard to Begin Summer Training

White Plains, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—About 1,000 officers and airmen of the New York National Guard will leave this Sunday for two weeks training at Spaatz Field, Reading, Pa., it was announced today.

Col. Robert J. Kirsch, NYANG commanding officer and commander of the 107th Fighter Wing, Niagara Falls, N. Y., said the organization includes three fighter squadrons equipped with F-51 "Mustang" aircraft and their support units.

Units moving July 27 to Spaatz Field include:

Niagara Falls: 107th Fighter Wing, 107th Maintenance and Supply Group, 107th Air Base Group; 107th Medical Group, all from Niagara Falls Municipal Airport.

White Plains: Headquarters, NYANG; 137th Fighter Squadron 274th Communications Operating Squadron, all from Westchester county airport.

Syracuse: 107th Fighter Group and 138th Fighter Squadron, both from Hancock Field.

Hoosick Falls Defeats Legion Juniors in Tournament Opener, 4 to 3

Telepas Fans 13 Men In Losing Cause

Six errors that led to four unearned runs ruined a brilliant pitching performance by George Telepas as the Old Capital Motors Legion nine of Kingston bowed out of the Third District tournament, 4-3, at the hands of a Hoosick Falls nine, Thursday at Albany.

Telepas permitted only six hits in the extra-inning contest and struck out 13 batters. He should have been rewarded with a 3-0 triumph in regulation time but instead was forced to sweat through 11 innings to eventual defeat.

The heartbreaker occurred in the bottom of the 11th when a double play ball that would have ended the contest went astray and enabled Hoosick Falls to score the winning run.

Secreto Hits Triple

As late as the seventh inning the Old Capitals appeared to have the contest won in regulation time when Frank Secreto blasted a triple with one aboard. That put Kingston ahead 2-1 but the Hoosick Falls squad tied it at 2-2 in their half on a wild throw in the infield.

Kingston forged ahead 3-2 in the top of the ninth but again the fifth Old Capital miscue permitted a third unearned run and a 3-3 deadlock that sent the clubs into overtime.

The locals collected eight hits off Johnson, the Hoosick flinger who fanned six and was backed up by faultless support.

Secreto led the local batters with a single in addition to his triple, while Hoosick Falls' clean-up batter—Frederickson—pounded two singles.

Al Besselink's 65 Tops Sioux City Open

Sioux City, Ia., July 25 (AP)—Al Besselink may be on his way to picking up some big money along professional golf's tournament trails.

The Merchantville, N. J., native, making his first full-year swing over the PGA route, went into the second round of the $15,000 Sioux City Open today with a two-stroke lead over his nearest foe. He got there with a 65, seven under par, for the 6,506-yard Elmwood course.

But there is plenty of trouble ahead for Al in this 72-hole test. Right behind him with 67's were Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y., who is the sixth best moneymaker among the professionals this season, and Iverson Martin of Maplewood, N. J.

Double Bill

A special attraction known as the "Team Race of Doom" in which six cars are smashed into complete wrecks will augment the regular Saturday night stock car program at Arlington Speedway this week. A strong field will vie against Doug Benjamin, seasonal point leader, in the 25-lap stock feature.

Derby Repeated

The Demolition Derby introduced by Rhinebeck Speedway two weeks ago will be repeated Saturday night with modifications that will add further excitement to the spectacular event. The derby will be presented after the 25-lap stock car feature race.

Russians Lead Olympic Points

Helsinki, July 25 (AP)—Thanks to a near sweep by her men and women gymnasts, Russia holds a 323½ to 221 lead over the United States today in the unofficial Olympic point standing.

The Soviet athletes pulled farther ahead yesterday when their women gymnasts picked up 95½ points and added more in track and field. The U. S. had to settle for 19—the first three places in the 110-meter hurdles.

In gymnastics, which the Russians have dominated, one nation can sweep all 25 possible points in an event on the customary basis of 10 points for first place followed by 5-4-3-2-1 for the next five finishers.

A country is permitted to enter eight competitors in each event of the gymnastic competition and there are 15 of them. In other types of individual competition countries are limited to three entries.

The top leaders:

1. Russia 323½
2. United States 221
3. Hungary 87
4. Sweden 67½
5. Switzerland 58
6. Czechoslovakia 56½
7. Germany 54
8. Great Britain 53
9. Japan 46
10. France 45

American Cagers Trip Hungarians, 66 to 48

Helsinki, July 25 (AP)—The United States basketball team started defense of its Olympic title today by defeating Hungary, 66-48, in a slow game.

Coach Warren Womble started his AAU five against the Communist quintet.

The Americans quickly took an 8-4 lead in the first three minutes and were never headed throughout the game.

At the half the United States led, 37-23.

Dan Pippin of the Peoria (Ill.) Caterpillar Diesels paced the American attack with 15 points. Pippin racked up seven field goals and one free throw.

Hungary showed a smooth floor game, but was at a loss under the basket.

A fast breaking Argentina team smothered the Philippines' outclassed little scrappers, 85-59, in the opening round.

Mathias Trails Milton Campbell In Early Events of Decathlon

Trails by Ten Points After First Two Events

Helsinki, July 25 (AP)—The tall United States basketball team and Bob Mathias took the center of the Olympic spotlight today, temporarily shoving aside the record-breakers of the regular track and field program.

America's two-platoon basketball squad, opened its defense of the title the United States has always won since the sport was added to the Olympic program, by whipping Hungary 66 to 48 with an unimpressive performance.

Mathias, defending champion in the decathlon who set a new world record for the ten events in winning the American tryouts, scored 1,725 points in the first two events.

That left Mathias, at that stage, ten points behind Milton Campbell, the Plainfield, N. J., schoolboy, but the handsome Tulare, Calif., athlete held the favorite's role.

Campbell scored 1,028 points in the 100 meter dash, in which he turned in the fastest time, 10.7 seconds. He added 707 more in the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet 1.35 inches.

Mathias ran the 100 in 10.9 for 946 points and broad jumped 22 feet 10.80 inches to score 779 more. This left him well behind the pace he set in the tryouts, where he rolled up the record total of 7,825 points. At the same stage in the trials, Mathias had 1,821 points.

Carlos Vera of Chile held third place with 1,644 points.

Floyd Simmons of Los Angeles, third American decathlon performer, scored 1,540 points for the first two events. He held seventh place. Three more decathlon events—the shot put, high jump and 400 meters, will be run off this afternoon. The program will be completed tomorrow.

Basketball coach Warren Womble characterized his team as "awfully rusty" in its first appearance but Big Clyde Lovellette, who was held to nine points, called it "lousy."

Argentina's speedy team looked very good in the opening game as it whipped the Philippines, 85 to 59.

The United States advanced to the second round in the epee fencing team competition, winning eight bouts in the first round and edging out Russia, 29-31 on hits, in its pool. Russia also qualified for the next round.

The water polo competition also began with Egypt, Hungary, Germany and Yugoslavia scoring easy victories in early matches.

The main events in track and field were scheduled to resume this afternoon and there was every indication that the record-breaking pace of the first five days would be continued. In 20 events so far, 18 world or Olympic records have been broken or equalled.

Are the New York Giants starting their big push?

Two straight over the red hot St. Louis Cardinals while Brooklyn split four with their "cousins" from Cincinnati has revived pennant talk at the Polo Grounds.

Not that they ever gave up. But the sight of the Dodgers vanishing into the distance with no sign of help from the Reds, Braves and Pirates was enough to discourage the struggling Giants.

Still 6½ games behind the Brooks, the Giants can draw new hope from the performance of Max Lanier, the ex-Cardinal. A sad disappointment in early spring, Lanier appears to be rounding into his old hot weather form. At least he has the weather running his way.

Lanier's six-hitter against his old St. Louis mates yesterday for a 9-5 decision was his fourth win in his last five games. The 36-year-old lefty had been beaten the last three times he faced the Cards.

Bobby Thomson, Dave Williams, Sal Yvars and Jim Rhodes hit home runs in the Giants' 11-hit attack on loser Harry Brecheen and three others.

Brooks Get Split

The Giants almost made up more ground but Brooklyn came back to shade Cincinnati, 2-1, on Duke Snider's 11th inning homer after the Reds had won the first half of a doubleheader, 3-2. As a result the Dodgers now have a 14-3 edge in season play over the Reds.

Snider's smash was the 100th homer of his big league career. It came off Frank Smith who took up the pitching job after Ewell Blackwell was lifted for a pinchhitter in the 10th.

Bubba Church, the ex-Phil who had yielded the Dodgers 49 runs in 48 innings since the start of the 1951 season, shut them out until the seventh inning of the opener. Despite Rube Walker's run-scoring double in the seventh and Jackie Robinson's 11th homer in the eighth, he went the route for his second win. Andy Seminick homered for the Reds.

Ed Mathews, a top candidate for National League "Rookie of the Year" hit his 16th homer and later scored on Walker Cooper's double in Boston's 3-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Sid Gordon also homered for the Braves.

The Phillies and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

Talk of a New York Yankee runaway in the American faded as Cleveland handed Tom Morgan a 4-2 loss in his last ball game before joining the Army. The win squared the series between the two contenders, leaving the fourth-place Tribe 5½ games back of the Yanks and only one percentage point behind third-place Washington.

Garcia Cops 14th

Mike Garcia registered his 14th win and third over the Yanks with a seven hitter. He had a shutout until the sixth when Yogi Berra's 21st homer tied the score. Homers by Joe Tipton and Dale Mitchell and a two-run single by Johnny Berardino off reliefer Ed Lopat accounted for the Cleveland scores.

With a chance to gain on the Yanks, both the runnerup Boston Red Sox and Washington fell down. Boston was shut out by Chicago's Lou Kretlow, 3-0, winning his first game of the season. Kretlow allowed only two hits and struck out nine. Sam White doubled in the second and Faye Throneberry beat out a bunt in the third for the only hits.

Walt Dropo continued his long distance hitting for Detroit with a two-run tie-breaking homer in the eighth inning for a 4-2 edge over Washington.

New World Record For Trotters

Westbury, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—A new world trotting record for one and one-quarter miles is on the books today but the name of the holder of the mark comes as something of surprise.

If a record was to be set in last night's $25,000 American Trotting championship at Roosevelt Raceway it figured to be by Pronto Don, generally rated the country's No. 1 trotter from the Hayes Fair Acres stable of Duquoin, Ill.

But the surprise came when Silver Riddle, owned by George B. Begol of Clandeboye, Ont., beat the great Pronto by a half-length in 2:37 2/5. The old record for the rarely raced distance was 2:40¼ set by Sonny Boy in 1941.

So instead of picking up the winner's share of $11,250, Pronto Don had to be satisfied with $6,250, which boosted his total earnings to $224,766. He is the third leading money winning harness horse.

Driven by Clint Hodgins, Silver Riddle caught the pace setting Pronto in the stretch and won going away. Roland Harriman's Florican was third.

The winner paid $12.50, $2.60, and $2.60. Pronto Don paid $2.20 and $2.10 and Florican, $3.30.

Hoosick Falls Defeats Legion Juniors in Tournament Opener, 4 to 3

Telepas Fans 13 Men In Losing Cause

Six errors that led to four unearned runs ruined a brilliant pitching performance by George Telepas as the Old Capital Motors Legion nine of Kingston bowed out of the Third District tournament, 4-3, at the hands of a Hoosick Falls nine, Thursday at Albany.

Telepas permitted only six hits in the extra-inning contest and struck out 13 batters. He should have been rewarded with a 3-0 triumph in regulation time but instead was forced to sweat through 11 innings to eventual defeat.

The heartbreaker occurred in the bottom of the 11th when a double play ball that would have ended the contest went astray and enabled Hoosick Falls to score the winning run.

Secreto Hits Triple

As late as the seventh inning the Old Capitals appeared to have the contest won in regulation time when Frank Secreto blasted a triple with one aboard. That put Kingston ahead 2-1 but the Hoosick Falls squad tied it at 2-2 in their half on a wild throw in the infield.

Kingston forged ahead 3-2 in the top of the ninth but again the fifth Old Capital miscue permitted a third unearned run and a 3-3 deadlock that sent the clubs into overtime.

The locals collected eight hits off Johnson, the Hoosick flinger who fanned six and was backed up by faultless support.

Secreto led the local batters with a single in addition to his triple, while Hoosick Falls' clean-up batter—Frederickson—pounded two singles.

Sioux City, Ia., July 25 (AP)—Al Besselink may be on his way to picking up some big money along professional golf's tournament trails.

The Merchantville, N. J., native, making his first full-year swing over the PGA route, went into the second round of the $15,000 Sioux City Open today with a two-stroke lead over his nearest foe. He got there with a 65, seven under par, for the 6,506-yard Elmwood course.

But there is plenty of trouble ahead for Al in this 72-hole test. Right behind him with 67's were Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y., who is the sixth best moneymaker among the professionals this season, and Iverson Martin of Maplewood, N. J.

Double Bill

A special attraction known as the "Team Race of Doom" in which six cars are smashed into complete wrecks will augment the regular Saturday night stock car program at Arlington Speedway this week. A strong field will vie against Doug Benjamin, seasonal point leader, in the 25-lap stock feature.

Derby Repeated

The Demolition Derby introduced by Rhinebeck Speedway two weeks ago will be repeated Saturday night with modifications that will add further excitement to the spectacular event. The derby will be presented after the 25-lap stock car feature race.

Women's Gymnastics

Nine Exercises Combined — Russia.

Individual Eight Exercises Combined — Marie Gorokhovskaja, Russia.

Field Hockey

Team—India (defeated Holland in finals).

Russians Lead Olympic Points

Helsinki, July 25 (AP)—Thanks to a near sweep by her men and women gymnasts, Russia holds a 323½ to 221 lead over the United States today in the unofficial Olympic point standing.

The Soviet athletes pulled farther ahead yesterday when their women gymnasts picked up 95½ points and added more in track and field. The U. S. had to settle for 19—the first three places in the 110-meter hurdles.

In gymnastics, which the Russians have dominated, one nation can sweep all 25 possible points in an event on the customary basis of 10 points for first place followed by 5-4-3-2-1 for the next five finishers.

A country is permitted to enter eight competitors in each event of the gymnastic competition and there are 15 of them. In other types of individual competition countries are limited to three entries.

The top leaders:

1. Russia 323½
2. United States 221
3. Hungary 87
4. Sweden 67½
5. Switzerland 58
6. Czechoslovakia 56½
7. Germany 54
8. Great Britain 53
9. Japan 46
10. France 45

American Cagers Trip Hungarians, 66 to 48

Helsinki, July 25 (AP)—The United States basketball team started defense of its Olympic title today by defeating Hungary, 66-48, in a slow game.

Coach Warren Womble started his AAU five against the Communist quintet.

The Americans quickly took an 8-4 lead in the first three minutes and were never headed throughout the game.

At the half the United States led, 37-23.

Dan Pippin of the Peoria (Ill.) Caterpillar Diesels paced the American attack with 15 points. Pippin racked up seven field goals and one free throw.

Hungary showed a smooth floor game, but was at a loss under the basket.

A fast breaking Argentina team smothered the Philippines' outclassed little scrappers, 85-59, in the opening round.

Trails by Ten Points After First Two Events

Helsinki, July 25 (AP)—The tall United States basketball team and Bob Mathias took the center of the Olympic spotlight today, temporarily shoving aside the record-breakers of the regular track and field program.

America's two-platoon basketball squad, opened its defense of the title the United States has always won since the sport was added to the Olympic program, by whipping Hungary 66 to 48 with an unimpressive performance.

Mathias, defending champion in the decathlon who set a new world record for the ten events in winning the American tryouts, scored 1,725 points in the first two events.

That left Mathias, at that stage, ten points behind Milton Campbell, the Plainfield, N. J., schoolboy, but the handsome Tulare, Calif., athlete held the favorite's role.

Campbell scored 1,028 points in the 100 meter dash, in which he turned in the fastest time, 10.7 seconds. He added 707 more in the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet 1.35 inches.

Mathias ran the 100 in 10.9 for 946 points and broad jumped 22 feet 10.80 inches to score 779 more. This left him well behind the pace he set in the tryouts, where he rolled up the record total of 7,825 points. At the same stage in the trials, Mathias had 1,821 points.

Carlos Vera of Chile held third place with 1,644 points.

Floyd Simmons of Los Angeles, third American decathlon performer, scored 1,540 points for the first two events. He held seventh place. Three more decathlon events—the shot put, high jump and 400 meters, will be run off this afternoon. The program will be completed tomorrow.

Basketball coach Warren Womble characterized his team as "awfully rusty" in its first appearance but Big Clyde Lovellette, who was held to nine points, called it "lousy."

Argentina's speedy team looked very good in the opening game as it whipped the Philippines, 85 to 59.

The United States advanced to the second round in the epee fencing team competition, winning eight bouts in the first round and edging out Russia, 29-31 on hits, in its pool. Russia also qualified for the next round.

The water polo competition also began with Egypt, Hungary, Germany and Yugoslavia scoring easy victories in early matches.

The main events in track and field were scheduled to resume this afternoon and there was every indication that the record-breaking pace of the first five days would be continued. In 20 events so far, 18 world or Olympic records have been broken or equalled.

Esopus Playoff Slated Saturday

The Giants and Yankees of the Town of Esopus Little League will meet in a single game playoff for the first round title Saturday at 10 a. m. at Ross Field in Port Ewen. The Yankees defeated the Giants, 9-6, Wednesday to create a tie between the teams at 4 wins and 2 losses each.

Clean Sweep in 110-Meter High Hurdles

Are the New York Giants starting their big push?

Two straight over the red hot St. Louis Cardinals while Brooklyn split four with their "cousins" from Cincinnati has revived pennant talk at the Polo Grounds.

Not that they ever gave up. But the sight of the Dodgers vanishing into the distance with no sign of help from the Reds, Braves and Pirates was enough to discourage the struggling Giants.

Still 6½ games behind the Brooks, the Giants can draw new hope from the performance of Max Lanier, the ex-Cardinal. A sad disappointment in early spring, Lanier appears to be rounding into his old hot weather form. At least he has the weather running his way.

Lanier's six-hitter against his old St. Louis mates yesterday for a 9-5 decision was his fourth win in his last five games. The 36-year-old lefty had been beaten the last three times he faced the Cards.

Bobby Thomson, Dave Williams, Sal Yvars and Jim Rhodes hit home runs in the Giants' 11-hit attack on loser Harry Brecheen and three others.

Brooks Get Split

The Giants almost made up more ground but Brooklyn came back to shade Cincinnati, 2-1, on Duke Snider's 11th inning homer after the Reds had won the first half of a doubleheader, 3-2. As a result the Dodgers now have a 14-3 edge in season play over the Reds.

Snider's smash was the 100th homer of his big league career. It came off Frank Smith who took up the pitching job after Ewell Blackwell was lifted for a pinchhitter in the 10th.

Bubba Church, the ex-Phil who had yielded the Dodgers 49 runs in 48 innings since the start of the 1951 season, shut them out until the seventh inning of the opener. Despite Rube Walker's run-scoring double in the seventh and Jackie Robinson's 11th homer in the eighth, he went the route for his second win. Andy Seminick homered for the Reds.

Ed Mathews, a top candidate for National League "Rookie of the Year" hit his 16th homer and later scored on Walker Cooper's double in Boston's 3-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Sid Gordon also homered for the Braves.

The Phillies and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

Talk of a New York Yankee runaway in the American faded as Cleveland handed Tom Morgan a 4-2 loss in his last ball game before joining the Army. The win squared the series between the two contenders, leaving the fourth-place Tribe 5½ games back of the Yanks and only one percentage point behind third-place Washington.

Garcia Cops 14th

Mike Garcia registered his 14th win and third over the Yanks with a seven hitter. He had a shutout until the sixth when Yogi Berra's 21st homer tied the score. Homers by Joe Tipton and Dale Mitchell and a two-run single by Johnny Berardino off reliefer Ed Lopat accounted for the Cleveland scores.

With a chance to gain on the Yanks, both the runnerup Boston Red Sox and Washington fell down. Boston was shut out by Chicago's Lou Kretlow, 3-0, winning his first game of the season. Kretlow allowed only two hits and struck out nine. Sam White doubled in the second and Faye Throneberry beat out a bunt in the third for the only hits.

New World Record For Trotters

Westbury, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—A new world trotting record for one and one-quarter miles is on the books today but the name of the holder of the mark comes as something of surprise.

If a record was to be set in last night's $25,000 American Trotting championship at Roosevelt Raceway it figured to be by Pronto Don, generally rated the country's No. 1 trotter from the Hayes Fair Acres stable of Duquoin, Ill.

But the surprise came when Silver Riddle, owned by George B. Begol of Clandeboye, Ont., beat the great Pronto by a half-length in 2:37 2/5. The old record for the rarely raced distance was 2:40¼ set by Sonny Boy in 1941.

So instead of picking up the winner's share of $11,250, Pronto Don had to be satisfied with $6,250, which boosted his total earnings to $224,766. He is the third leading money winning harness horse.

Driven by Clint Hodgins, Silver Riddle caught the pace setting Pronto in the stretch and won going away. Roland Harriman's Florican was third.

The winner paid $12.50, $2.60, and $2.60. Pronto Don paid $2.20 and $2.10 and Florican, $3.30.

Little League District Tournament Runs Eleven Days

12 Teams Compete For Berth in State Finals

Dutchess County Sends Nine Teams

The District 3 Little League baseball tournament scheduled to open at the 156th FA diamond on Tuesday, July 29, will run for 11 days with the finals set for Aug. 7, Bob Umpleby, KAA Little League and district tournament director, said today.

The winner of the District 3 tournament will play in the Eastern New York tournament at Scotia Little League stadium, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 15-16. The Scotia stadium is regarded as one of the finest in the country.

The single elimination tournament embraces 12 teams, including nine from Dutchess county, Highland, Kingston and Saugerties.

The quarter-finals will start on Aug. 4 and conclude on Aug. 6 and the semi-finals and finals are to be played on Aug. 7 and Aug. 9.

Pawling meets the Poughkeepsie American All Stars in next Tuesday's opener at 5:45 p. m.

All single weekday contests will start at 4:45 p. m., with the first contest of the Saturday, Aug. 2 doubleheader set for 2 p. m.

Rules Announced

The team first mentioned in the schedule will be designated as the "home" team. For practice purposes, the "visiting" team will take the field at 4:45 p. m. and have it until 5:10 p. m. The "home" team will have the field from 5:10 p. m. to 5:35 p. m.

Baseball and umpires will be furnished by the Kingston Athletic Association which is responsible for the conduct of the tournament.

With 12 teams scheduled to play in 11 days, one of the clubs, of necessity, must draw a bye and this fortunate turn of events goes to Saugerties. The upriver contingent which features a brilliant kid pitcher has drawn Millerton as its first opponent on Wednesday, July 30.

The complete, official schedule released today by Director Umpleby follows:

First Round

July 29—Pawling vs. Poughkeepsie Americans

July 30—Saugerties vs. Millerton

July 31—Highland vs. Queen City, Poughkeepsie

Aug. 1—Kingston vs. Poughkeepsie Nationals

Aug. 2—Town of Poughkeepsie Nationals vs. Hyde Park; Hopewell Junction vs. Town of Poughkeepsie Americans

Quarter Finals

(Winners Bracket)

Aug. 4—Game No. 1 vs. Game No. 2

Aug. 5—Game No. 3 vs. Game No. 4

Aug. 6—Game No. 5 vs. Game No. 6

Finals

Aug. 7—Game No. 8 vs. Game No. 9

Aug. 9—Game No. 7 vs. Game No. 10

Dodgers Beat Giants In KAA League, 8 - 4

First Half Champs Gain First Win

Just when everybody was beginning to suspect that their first half triumph in the KAA Little League was a fluke, the Dodgers started the long road back toward respectability due a champion.

With their southpaw star, Glenn Newell, tossing a six hitter, the Dodgers knocked off the Giants, 8 to 4, yesterday for their first win after three losses in the second round.

Newell struck out six and walked only one batter as the Dodgers ran up an early lead. They were in front 3-1 at the end of the first and scored three in the third and a couple in the fourth to move ahead, 8-1, at the end of four rounds. George Uhl worked in relief for the Dodgers and fanned two.

Giants rallied with a pair in the fifth and staged a mild threat for a single marker in the sixth.

The Dodgers collected 10 hits off Tom Bradford, with George Uhl, Hobart Armstrong and Pete Showers getting two each. George Norton accounted for two Giant safeties with a single and double.

Pete Showers conked a triple for the longest blow of the game. Bob Pratt, Uhl and Timmy Fisher hit doubles.

Vets Trip Elks, 10-3 In Fraternal League

Noel Bonacci Hurls Four-Hitter

Noel Bonacci unfurled a four-hitter and struck out seven to lead the VFW nine to a decisive 10-3 victory over the Elks in yesterday"s Fraternal Youth League action at the municipal stadium.

One of the largest crowds of the season saw the Vets break the game apart with a four-run cluster in fourth and five more in the next two innings.

At end of the third, Bonacci held a slim 1-0 lead over Alo Saluste, the Elks starter. The Antlers staged a mild threat in the top of the fifth but the VFW pulled one of the best double plays of the season to check the uprising.

Ron Jansen of the Elks clouted the second homer of the FYL season in the sixth inning. Joe Hoffman's double for the VFW was the only other extra base blow of the game.

Charlie Bishop stroked two singles to pace the 10-hit VFW drive on two Elks flingers. Frank Turck and Bill Cragin both worked in relief of starter Saluste. No other player besides Bishop had more than one hit.

By a quirk of the schedule, the Rotary club has played only one game and leads the league with one victory. The Legion and VFW each carry a 2-1 record.

Winners Pull Off Triple Play

Coming up with a big six-run rally in the sixth inning, Subway Grill scored a 9 to 3 victory over Beicherts in the City Softball League Wednesday night at Block Park.

The game, a free-hitting affair with 24 hits in all, also was featured by an unusual triple play by the winners.

The three-ply killing started on a ground ball to Ken Hornbeck, the Subway shortstop who stepped on second for one out and rifled the ball to Al Hunt at first for the second killing. The first sacker relayed the ball to Hornbeck who fired to Joe Scholar at the plate. Scholar tagged the runner coming in from third for the third out.

Beicherts held a 3-2 edge until the Subways exploded with their six runs in the sixth frame.

Joe Amato went the route for the winners while Joe Enright, also pitching the distance, was charged with the loss.

Hornbeck unleashed a homer for the winners.

Draft Boards Issue Warning

Selective Service boards 19 (county), and 18 (city), today issued a warning that young men who reach their 18th birthday are required to register.

"Failure to register on the birthday, or within a reasonable number of days thereafter," the announcement said, "makes the individual subject to a severe penalty. Parents, teachers, and employes are urged to cooperate in this matter. A reminder can help to avoid subsequent trouble."

The following revised list of county registration places was announced: Kingston, Draft Board 19 at 519 Broadway; Accord, Howard Anderson, town clerk, telephone Kerhonkson 2211; Ellenville, R. E. Haley, Veterans Service Agency, Ellenville, 865-M; Woodstock, Grant B. Elwyn, town clerk, tel. 2383; Highland, L. S. Callahan, town clerk, Highland 3401; New Paltz, Raymond Terpenning, town clerk, 58 Mohonk avenue, New Paltz 2951; Wallkill, Mrs. Catherine E. Miller, town clerk, Wallkill Box 45; Saugerties, Miss Marion E. Newkirk, town clerk, RFD No. 3, Box 3, Saugerties 683-F-23; Port Ewen, Mrs. Alice Tinnie, town clerk, Port Ewen 406-R; Marlborough, Fred S. Fowler, town clerk, Marlborough 4701; Gardiner, John M. The following home telephone numbers of those in charge of registration were given: Haley, Ellenville 520; Elwyn, Woodstock 2113; Callahan, Highland 5171; Terpening, New Paltz 6511; Miller, Wallkill 3-1791; Newkirk, Saug. 38; Tinnie, King. 3709; Fowler, Marlborough 3531; and Harcourt, New Paltz 4692.

Trial Is Begun

Munich, Germany, July 25 (AP)—An American soldier, who disappeared from his regiment in West Germany in 1950 and turned up nearly 16 months later in Poland, went on trial before a military court today. Cpl. Alexander S. Czarnecki, Ozone Park, L. I., N. Y., applied to the American embassy in Warsaw for help last April. It returned him to army control. A month earlier, Prague, radio declared Czarnecki had sought asylum in Czechoslovakia because he was "dissatisfied with American imperialism." Because of his Polish birth, the Czechs said, they sent him on to Poland.

Ruest Executed In Montreal Jail

Montreal, Canada, July 25—A crippled Quebec watchmaker, convicted of fashioning the time-bomb which brought death to 23 airliner passengers and crew in September 1949, died early today on the gallows in Montreal's Bordeaux jail.

Generaux Ruest, 54, helpless from the waist down but described as a "wizard with his hands," went to his death for "deliberately helping" jeweler J. Albert Guay murder the latter's 28 year-old wife by means of the explosion in flight. Ruest was carried to the scaffold in a wheelchair.

Three New York executives of the Kennecott Copper Corp. also were killed in the crash of the blasted plane.

Guay was hanged Jan. 12, 1951, for master-minding the bombing plot. He concocted the scheme for love of a young waitress and to collect $10,000 insurance on his wife's life.

Ruest admitted making the bomb but claimed he thought it was for clearing stumps on Guay's farm. The Quebec Court of Appeals, the Canadian Supreme Court and the Canadian cabinet all rejected his appeals against the sentence.

The third person sentenced to death for participating in the bombing, Mrs. Arthur Pitre, 43, is scheduled to be hanged Oct. 17. Mrs. Pitre, Ruest's sister, was convicted of placing the bomb aboard the ill-fated plane.

Collazo Sentence Changed to Life

Washington, July 25 (AP)—President Truman is sparing the life of the Puerto Rican who tried to assassinate him at Blair House in 1950.

Presidential Secretary Joseph Short announced—without comment—late yesterday that the death sentence of Oscar Collazo had been commuted to life imprisonment.

The 38-year-old Puerto Rican had been scheduled to die in the electric chair here on Aug. 1 for his part in the death plot.

Collazo's fight for life had been rebuffed by the highest federal courts. Truman, the man he tried to kill, was his last source of clemency.

Collazo was wounded and a companion, Griselio Torresola, was killed in a furious gun battle with the President's guards on Nov, 1, 1950. A White House policeman, Private Leslie Coffelt, was killed but Collazo's attorney said it was Torresola's gun which shot the guard.

However, the law makes no distinction between companions in a felony which results in a murder.

Collazo, who has refused personally to ask clemency, testified at his trial that he and Torresola did not intend to kill anyone but came here to demonstrate on behalf of Puerto Rican independence.

There was no indication of whether it was significant that the President's action came on the eve of Puerto Rico becoming a self-governing "free commonwealth." Collazo and Torresola were members of an extremist group in the island.

Will Give Ring Away

Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jackson Turnley, Richmond, Va., honeymoon couple who are visiting Kingston following their TV wedding last Wednesday, will be present at the Safford & Scudder jewelry store, 310 Wall street. At that time Mrs. Turnley will make public the name of the person who will be awarded the diamond ring which the firm is giving away to one of the persons who visit the opening of their newly renocated store and gift department today. The public is invited to inspect the new gift department today and register at the store.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Library Fair Is Planned July 31

Woodstock, July 25—Announcement concerning the music for the Library Fair, to be held Thursday, July 31, on the library grounds from 1 to 6 p. m., was made Thursday. A troup of Mexican Beachcombers will rove the fair grounds in native costumes, and although several of the musicians will come from distant parts, there will be a number of familiar faces under the sombreroes—Clementine Nessel, accordionist; John Pike, guitarist, both long-time fair favorites, and Holly Cantine, Jr., who will perform on trombone. In the absence of Dave Huffine, washtub bass rhythmist, Francesco de Costa Dalmada will take over the gaudy tub. Another newcomer will be Jack Carter, singer and banjoist.

The fair committee reports that contributions are now being received daily at the collection center in the Methodist Church Hall, and it has been noted this year that a particularly fine collection of toys and toy animals has been received thus far.

Historical Society Visits Kingston Show

Woodstock, July 25—The second meeting of the season of the Woodstock Historical Society was held in the form of a trip to Kingston to view the art exhibition at the George Washington School, as part of Kingston's 300th Anniversary celebration. Members of the Society went by car Saturday, July 19. The exhibition, however, will remain open until August 17, so that all who missed this meeting or all those who would like to go again, have ample time to do so.

Of particular interest to the Woodstock visitors was the painting Adirondack Brook by Worthington Whittredge (1820-1910), whose daughter, Miss Effie Whittredge, was long a beloved resident of this village. Her former home in Lewis Hollow is still one of the local show places. Whittredge was at one time president of the National Academy of Design, New York, and his painting was lent to the exhibition by the Robert C. Vose Galleries, New York.

The collection is of extraordinary historical and artistic interest and is worthy of many repeated visits, according to Mrs. Margaret R. Kenyon, secretary of the Historical Society.

The next meeting of the society will be held Saturday, August 23, time and place to be announced. The subject will be the late Lewis Edson, composer who lived and died in Shady, a number of whose books were published between 1794 and 1798. There also will be a talk on forestry in this area.

Handwrought Jewelry Is Featured at Shop

Woodstock, July 25—Crafts Cooperative is featuring this week a new display counter of the distinctive silver handwrought jewelry by Eleanor N. McCaffrey, who also is noted for her enameling on copper. Miss McCaffrey's new line of jewelry is distinctly modern, employing delicate silver wire coils as the basis of many of her pieces. This new jewelry has much the quality of an airy mobile, particularly in the whirling motifs of her silver necklace.

Adapting an old Chinese artifice, Miss McCaffrey has also included in the collection several extremely novel adjustable silver rings, which blend harmoniously with her various bracelets in unusual designs. Also distinctly new are her angular dangle ear rings, as well as those which combine silver wire coils and twinkling glass stars. Included also are mobile patterned pins and wide circlet type bracelets.

Crafts Co-operative located on the village green next to the Woodstock post office is open each weekday afternoon.

Lithograph Display Now at Playhouse

Woodstock, July 25—The current exhibition in the lobby of the Woodstock Playhouse, arranged by Jerry Jerominek, is from the collection of lithographs formerly on view at the Graphic Workshop, under the direction of Margaret Lowengrund at the Art Gallery.

The lithographs, both in black and white and in color, vividly illustrate the remarkable versatility of the medium, and in addition has brought to this village the work of a number of artists seen for the first time here. Included in the show are lithographs by Arthur Deshales, Roco Lebrun, Helen Gerardia, Adolf Dehn, Gabor Peterdi, Boris Margo, Sue Fuller, John Von Wicht, Margaret Lowengrund, Dony Pierce, Caroline Durieux, Minna Citroen, Peter Lepman-Wolff, Michael Ponce de Leon, Pr. R. Hultberg, Cecile Forman, Leon Flettrich, Adolph Gottlieb, Werner Drewes and Riette Meuller.

Age Limit Extended

Woodstock, July 15—Agnes Hart has extended the age limit of her children's classes in creative painting, held every Saturday morning throughout the summer at Parnassus Square, to include boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 16. Special emphasis will be given to the interests of this new group, which will have classes from 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

Village Notes

Woodstock, July 25—Anthony J. De Lisio returned to his home on the West Hurley road Wednesday from a trip to France and Italy.

Alexander Peacock celebrated his 90th birthday Wednesday.

Marian Russell, Martin Ashe and Harry Mehaffey, of the current Woodstock Playhouse comedy, Jenny Kissed Me, will leave the village after the final curtain Sunday night. Already departed is another favorite, Robert Baines. Ashe, Mehaffey and Baines plan to return to various television shows, while Marion Russell plans to enter a musical comedy school in New York.

The members of the Brownie Troop and Girl Scout Troops of this village who have been at Camp Wendy returned to this village Saturday, via Fred Ohl's school bus, which was made available for the trip through the auspices of the Masonic Square Club.

New arrivals at the Woodstock Playhouse for next week's comedy are Best Winburn, of this season's Broadway drama, One Bright Day, and Franklyn Fox, British born and one of the busiest character actors on Broadway.

Nash Case Adjourned To August 25 Date

An adjourned session of county court was held this morning at 10 o'clock to which time the matter of probation violation in the case of Joseph F. Nash was scheduled to be heard. Charles Saccoman appeared for Nash and the case was further adjourned to August 25 at 10 o'clock. Nash was placed on prohabtion last February following a plea of guilty to violation of Section 483.

On August 25 it is expected the grand jury will make a further report. A partial report has already been received by the court. The jurors were held in session and District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn has presented additional matters for consideration.

Dividends Are Declared

The board of directors of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation, at its monthly meeting held at its South road office, Poughkeepsie, today, declared a dividend of $1.12½ per share on its 4½% cumulative preferred stock; a dividend of $1.18¾ per share on its 4.75% cumulative preferred stock; and a dividend of $1.31¼ per share on its 5.25% cumulative preferred stock, 1951 series; payable October 1, to stockholders of record September 10.

Boys Are Released

Police took two boys to police headquarters and confiscated a .22 calibre rifle after a report from The Rosenbaum Co., 155 Green street said a shot had been fired through a window there. Officers Gurnsey Burger, Jr., and Thomas Tomshaw investigated following the report at 4:40 p. m. The boys were released in the custody of their parents.

Woodstock Man Taken to Hospital

Lee Clark, 52, Woodstock, was taken to the Kingston Hospital Thursday afternoon for treatment of what was termed self-inflicted wounds which Deputy George Reynolds reported had been inflicted with a razor blade. Clark, who was reported despondent over inability to secure and hold a job, was found in bed bleeding profusely from wounds on the wrists and throat.

Mrs. Norman Smith notified Deputy Reynolds Thursday afternoon and Dr. Cohn was called. Clark told officers he was "tired of living" and had attempted to take his life. After treatment by Dr. Cohn, Clark was brought to the Kingston Hospital. Deputies William Churchill and Chester Wolven of the sheriff's office investigated. The wounds had apparently been inflicted Thursday morning and Clark's condition was not disclosed until afternoon. He had lost considerable blood in the meantime.

How It's Done

Little League District Tournament Runs Eleven Days

Dutchess County Sends Nine Teams

The District 3 Little League baseball tournament scheduled to open at the 156th FA diamond on Tuesday, July 29, will run for 11 days with the finals set for Aug. 7, Bob Umpleby, KAA Little League and district tournament director, said today.

The winner of the District 3 tournament will play in the Eastern New York tournament at Scotia Little League stadium, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 15-16. The Scotia stadium is regarded as one of the finest in the country.

The single elimination tournament embraces 12 teams, including nine from Dutchess county, Highland, Kingston and Saugerties.

The quarter-finals will start on Aug. 4 and conclude on Aug. 6 and the semi-finals and finals are to be played on Aug. 7 and Aug. 9.

Pawling meets the Poughkeepsie American All Stars in next Tuesday's opener at 5:45 p. m.

All single weekday contests will start at 4:45 p. m., with the first contest of the Saturday, Aug. 2 doubleheader set for 2 p. m.

Rules Announced

The team first mentioned in the schedule will be designated as the "home" team. For practice purposes, the "visiting" team will take the field at 4:45 p. m. and have it until 5:10 p. m. The "home" team will have the field from 5:10 p. m. to 5:35 p. m.

Baseball and umpires will be furnished by the Kingston Athletic Association which is responsible for the conduct of the tournament.

When the Kingston team plays, the umpires will be furnished by the Saugerties Little League.

With 12 teams scheduled to play in 11 days, one of the clubs, of necessity, must draw a bye and this fortunate turn of events goes to Saugerties. The upriver contingent which features a brilliant kid pitcher has drawn Millerton as its first opponent on Wednesday, July 30.

The complete, official schedule released today by Director Umpleby follows:

First Round

July 29—Pawling vs. Poughkeepsie Americans

July 30—Saugerties vs. Millerton

July 31—Highland vs. Queen City, Poughkeepsie

Aug. 1—Kingston vs. Poughkeepsie Nationals

Aug. 2—Town of Poughkeepsie Nationals vs. Hyde Park; Hopewell Junction vs. Town of Poughkeepsie Americans

Quarter Finals

(Winners Bracket)

Aug. 4—Game No. 1 vs. Game No. 2

Aug. 5—Game No. 3 vs. Game No. 4

Aug. 6—Game No. 5 vs. Game No. 6

Finals

Aug. 7—Game No. 8 vs. Game No. 9

Aug. 9—Game No. 7 vs. Game No. 10

Dodgers Beat Giants In KAA League, 8 - 4

First Half Champs Gain First Win

Just when everybody was beginning to suspect that their first half triumph in the KAA Little League was a fluke, the Dodgers started the long road back toward respectability due a champion.

With their southpaw star, Glenn Newell, tossing a six hitter, the Dodgers knocked off the Giants, 8 to 4, yesterday for their first win after three losses in the second round.

Newell struck out six and walked only one batter as the Dodgers ran up an early lead. They were in front 3-1 at the end of the first and scored three in the third and a couple in the fourth to move ahead, 8-1, at the end of four rounds. George Uhl worked in relief for the Dodgers and fanned two.

Giants rallied with a pair in the fifth and staged a mild threat for a single marker in the sixth.

The Dodgers collected 10 hits off Tom Bradford, with George Uhl, Hobart Armstrong and Pete Showers getting two each. George Norton accounted for two Giant safeties with a single and double.

Pete Showers conked a triple for the longest blow of the game. Bob Pratt, Uhl and Timmy Fisher hit doubles.

Vets Trip Elks, 10-3 In Fraternal League

Noel Bonacci Hurls Four-Hitter

Noel Bonacci unfurled a four-hitter and struck out seven to lead the VFW nine to a decisive 10-3 victory over the Elks in yesterday's Fraternal Youth League action at the municipal stadium.

One of the largest crowds of the season saw the Vets break the game apart with a four-run cluster in fourth and five more in the next two innings.

At end of the third, Bonacci held a slim 1-0 lead over Alo Saluste, the Elks starter. The Antlers staged a mild threat in the top of the fifth but the VFW pulled one of the best double plays of the season to check the uprising.

Ron Jansen of the Elks clouted the second homer of the FYL season in the sixth inning. Joe Hoffman's double for the VFW was the only other extra base blow of the game.

Charlie Bishop stroked two singles to pace the 10-hit VFW drive on two Elks flingers. Frank Turck and Bill Cragin both worked in relief of starter Saluste. No other player besides Bishop had more than one hit.

By a quirk of the schedule, the Rotary club has played only one game and leads the league with one victory. The Legion and VFW each carry a 2-1 record.

The Rotary club plays in today's game at the Athletic Field.

Winners Pull Off Triple Play

Coming up with a big six-run rally in the sixth inning, Subway Grill scored a 9 to 3 victory over Beicherts in the City Softball League Wednesday night at Block Park.

The game, a free-hitting affair with 24 hits in all, also was featured by an unusual triple play by the winners.

The three-ply killing started on a ground ball to Ken Hornbeck, the Subway shortstop who stepped on second for one out and rifled the ball to Al Hunt at first for the second killing. The first sacker relayed the ball to Hornbeck who fired to Joe Scholar at the plate. Scholar tagged the runner coming in from third for the third out.

Beicherts held a 3-2 edge until the Subways exploded with their six runs in the sixth frame.

Joe Amato went the route for the winners while Joe Enright, also pitching the distance, was charged with the loss.

Hornbeck unleashed a homer for the winners.

Trial Is Begun

Munich, Germany, July 25 (AP)—An American soldier, who disappeared from his regiment in West Germany in 1950 and turned up nearly 16 months later in Poland, went on trial before a military court today. Cpl. Alexander S. Czarnecki, Ozone Park, L. I., N. Y., applied to the American embassy in Warsaw for help last April. It returned him to army control. A month earlier, Prague, radio declared Czarnecki had sought asylum in Czechoslovakia because he was "dissatisfied with American imperialism." Because of his Polish birth, the Czechs said, they sent him on to Poland.

Ruest Executed In Montreal Jail

Montreal, Canada, July 25—A crippled Quebec watchmaker, convicted of fashioning the time-bomb which brought death to 23 airliner passengers and crew in September 1949, died early today on the gallows in Montreal's Bordeaux jail.

Generaux Ruest, 54, helpless from the waist down but described as a "wizard with his hands," went to his death for "deliberately helping" jeweler J. Albert Guay murder the latter's 28 year-old wife by means of the explosion in flight. Ruest was carried to the scaffold in a wheelchair.

Three New York executives of the Kennecott Copper Corp. also were killed in the crash of the blasted plane.

Guay was hanged Jan. 12, 1951, for master-minding the bombing plot. He concocted the scheme for love of a young waitress and to collect $10,000 insurance on his wife's life.

Ruest admitted making the bomb but claimed he thought it was for clearing stumps on Guay's farm. The Quebec Court of Appeals, the Canadian Supreme Court and the Canadian cabinet all rejected his appeals against the sentence.

The third person sentenced to death for participating in the bombing, Mrs. Arthur Pitre, 43, is scheduled to be hanged Oct. 17. Mrs. Pitre, Ruest's sister, was convicted of placing the bomb aboard the ill-fated plane.

Collazo Sentence Changed to Life

Washington, July 25 (AP)—President Truman is sparing the life of the Puerto Rican who tried to assassinate him at Blair House in 1950.

Presidential Secretary Joseph Short announced—without comment—late yesterday that the death sentence of Oscar Collazo had been commuted to life imprisonment.

The 38-year-old Puerto Rican had been scheduled to die in the electric chair here on Aug. 1 for his part in the death plot.

Collazo's fight for life had been rebuffed by the highest federal courts. Truman, the man he tried to kill, was his last source of clemency.

Collazo was wounded and a companion, Griselio Torresola, was killed in a furious gun battle with the President's guards on Nov. 1, 1950. A White House policeman, Private Leslie Coffelt, was killed but Collazo's attorney said it was Torresola's gun which shot the guard.

However, the law makes no distinction between companions in a felony which results in a murder.

Collazo, who has refused personally to ask clemency, testified at his trial that he and Torresola did not intend to kill anyone but came here to demonstrate on behalf of Puerto Rican independence.

There was no indication of whether it was significant that the President's action came on the eve of Puerto Rico becoming a self-governing "free commonwealth." Collazo and Torresola were members of an extremist group in the island.

Will Give Ring Away

Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jackson Turnley, Richmond, Va., honeymoon couple who are visiting Kingston following their TV wedding last Wednesday, will be present at the Safford & Scudder jewelry store, 310 Wall street. At that time Mrs. Turnley will make public the name of the person who will be awarded the diamond ring which the firm is giving away to one of the persons who visit the opening of their newly renovated store and gift department today. The public is invited to inspect the new gift department today and register at the store.

Library Fair Is Planned July 31

Woodstock, July 25—Announcement concerning the music for the Library Fair, to be held Thursday, July 31, on the library grounds from 1 to 6 p. m., was made Thursday. A troup of Mexican Beachcombers will rove the fair grounds in native costumes, and although several of the musicians will come from distant parts, there will be a number of familiar faces under the sombreroes—Clementine Nessel, accordionist; John Pike, guitarist, both long-time fair favorites, and Holly Cantine, Jr., who will perform on trombone. In the absence of Dave Huffine, washtub bass rhythmist, Francesco de Costa Dalmada will take over the gaudy tub. Another newcomer will be Jack Carter, singer and banjoist.

The fair committee reports that contributions are now being received daily at the collection center in the Methodist Church Hall, and it has been noted this year that a particularly fine collection of toys and toy animals has been received thus far.

Historical Society Visits Kingston Show

Woodstock, July 25—The second meeting of the season of the Woodstock Historical Society was held in the form of a trip to Kingston to view the art exhibition at the George Washington School, as part of Kingston's 300th Anniversary celebration. Members of the Society went by car Saturday, July 19. The exhibition, however, will remain open until August 17, so that all who missed this meeting or all those who would like to go again, have ample time to do so.

Of particular interest to the Woodstock visitors was the painting Adirondack Brook by Worthington Whittredge (1820-1910), whose daughter, Miss Effie Whittredge, was long a beloved resident of this village. Her former home in Lewis Hollow is still one of the local show places. Whittredge was at one time president of the National Academy of Design, New York, and his painting was lent to the exhibition by the Robert C. Vose Galleries, New York.

The collection is of extraordinary historical and artistic interest and is worthy of many repeated visits, according to Mrs. Margaret R. Kenyon, secretary of the Historical Society.

The next meeting of the society will be held Saturday, August 23, time and place to be announced. The subject will be the late Lewis Edson, composer who lived and died in Shady, a number of whose books were published between 1794 and 1798. There also will be a talk on forestry in this area.

Handwrought Jewelry Is Featured at Shop

Woodstock, July 25—Crafts Cooperative is featuring this week a new display counter of the distinctive silver handwrought jewelry by Eleanor N. McCaffrey, who also is noted for her enameling on copper. Miss McCaffrey's new line of jewelry is distinctly modern, employing delicate silver wire coils as the basis of many of her pieces. This new jewelry has much the quality of an airy mobile, particularly in the whirling motifs of her silver necklace.

Adapting an old Chinese artifice, Miss McCaffrey has also included in the collection several extremely novel adjustable silver rings, which blend harmoniously with her various bracelets in unusual designs. Also distinctly new are her angular dangle ear rings, as well as those which combine silver wire coils and twinkling glass stars. Included also are mobile patterned pins and wide circlet type bracelets.

Crafts Co-operative located on the village green next to the Woodstock post office is open each weekday afternoon.

Lithograph Display Now at Playhouse

Woodstock, July 25—The current exhibition in the lobby of the Woodstock Playhouse, arranged by Jerry Jerominek, is from the collection of lithographs formerly on view at the Graphic Workshop, under the direction of Margaret Lowengrund at the Art Gallery.

The lithographs, both in black and white and in color, vividly illustrate the remarkable versatility of the medium, and in addition has brought to this village the work of a number of artists seen for the first time here. Included in the show are lithographs by Arthur Deshaies, Roco Lebrun, Helen Gerardia, Adolf Dehn, Gabor Peterdi, Boris Margo, Sue Fuller, John Von Wicht, Margaret Lowengrund, Dony Pierce, Caroline Durieux, Minna Citroen, Peter Lepman-Wolff, Michael Ponce de Leon, Pr. R. Hultberg, Cecile Forman, Leon Flettrich, Adolph Gottlieb, Werner Drewes and Riette Meuller.

Age Limit Extended

Woodstock, July 15—Agnes Hart has extended the age limit of her children's classes in creative painting, held every Saturday morning throughout the summer at Parnassus Square, to include boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 16. Special emphasis will be given to the interests of this new group, which will have classes from 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

Village Notes

Woodstock, July 25—Anthony J. De Lisio returned to his home on the West Hurley road Wednesday from a trip to France and Italy.

Alexander Peacock celebrated his 90th birthday Wednesday.

Marian Russell, Martin Ashe and Harry Mehaffey, of the current Woodstock Playhouse comedy, Jenny Kissed Me, will leave the village after the final curtain Sunday night. Already departed is another favorite, Robert Baines. Ashe, Mehaffey and Baines plan to return to various television shows, while Marion Russell plans to enter a musical comedy school in New York.

The members of the Brownie Troop and Girl Scout Troops of this village who have been at Camp Wendy returned to this village Saturday, via Fred Ohl's school bus, which was made available for the trip through the auspices of the Masonic Square Club.

New arrivals at the Woodstock Playhouse for next week's comedy are Best Winburn, of this season's Broadway drama, One Bright Day, and Franklyn Fox, British born and one of the busiest character actors on Broadway.

Nash Case Adjourned To August 25 Date

An adjourned session of county court was held this morning at 10 o'clock to which time the matter of probation violation in the case of Joseph F. Nash was scheduled to be heard. Charles Saccoman appeared for Nash and the case was further adjourned to August 25 at 10 o'clock. Nash was placed on prohabtion last February following a plea of guilty to violation of Section 483.

On August 25 it is expected the grand jury will make a further report. A partial report has already been received by the court. The jurors were held in session and District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn has presented additional matters for consideration.

Dividends Are Declared

The board of directors of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation, at its monthly meeting held at its South road office, Poughkeepsie, today, declared a dividend of $1.12½ per share on its 4½% cumulative preferred stock; a dividend of $1.18¾ per share on its 4.75% cumulative preferred stock; and a dividend of $1.31¼ per share on its 5.25% cumulative preferred stock, 1951 series; payable October 1, to stockholders of record September 10.

Boys Are Released

Police took two boys to police headquarters and confiscated a .22 calibre rifle after a report from The Rosenbaum Co., 155 Green street said a shot had been fired through a window there. Officers Gurnsey Burger, Jr., and Thomas Tomshaw investigated following the report at 4:40 p. m. The boys were released in the custody of their parents.

Woodstock Man Taken to Hospital

Lee Clark, 52, Woodstock, was taken to the Kingston Hospital Thursday afternoon for treatment of what was termed self-inflicted wounds which Deputy George Reynolds reported had been inflicted with a razor blade. Clark, who was reported despondent over inability to secure and hold a job, was found in bed bleeding profusely from wounds on the wrists and throat.

Mrs. Norman Smith notified Deputy Reynolds Thursday afternoon and Dr. Cohn was called. Clark told officers he was "tired of living" and had attempted to take his life. After treatment by Dr. Cohn, Clark was brought to the Kingston Hospital. Deputies William Churchill and Chester Wolven of the sheriff's office investigated. The wounds had apparently been inflicted Thursday morning and Clark's condition was not disclosed until afternoon. He had lost considerable blood in the meantime.

How It's Done

New York, July 25 (AP)—It's done with mirrors and cash registers—the quick cumulative totals of convention votes flashed on television screens by the National Broadcasting Company. Tally clerks add up the votes the same way a grocery clerk adds up the bill on the machines, supplied by the National Cash Register Company. Mirrors placed left and right at a 45-degree angle in front of the machines reflect the totals to another mirror, from which the readings are picked up by the television camera and superimposed on the convention scene.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, BY THE GRACE OF GOD FREE AND INDEPENDENT. TO—

William Dee Hadash, an infant over the age of fourteen years, and John Hadash, father of said infant and the person with whom said infant resides, Rua Plaul, 413, Sao Paulo, Brazil, and to Frank Treshman, 771 Broadway, Kingston, New York, and to all persons interested in the estate of Anna D. Bock also known as Anna Bock, late of the City of Kingston, County of Ulster and State of New York, deceased, as creditors, legatees, distributees or otherwise,

GREETING:

YOU AND EACH OF YOU ARE HEREBY CITED TO SHOW CAUSE at a Surrogate's Court to be held in and for the County of Ulster at the Surrogate's Office in the City of Kingston, N. Y., on the 2nd day of September, 1952, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, why the account of proceedings of Kathe Winkler, of the Town of Kingston, County of Ulster and State of New York, as executrix of the last Will and Testament of said deceased, should not be judicially settled and allowed upon the petition of said executrix.

To Frank Treshman, claimant:

TAKE NOTICE, that on the return day above stated, the Court will hear and determine your claim against said estate.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have caused the seal of said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. WITNESS, HON. JOHN B. STERLEY, Surrogate of our said County of Ulster, at Kingston, N. Y., this 24th day of July, 1952.

At a Special Term of the County Court, State of New York, County of Ulster, at the Courthouse, Wall Street, City of Kingston, on the 23rd day of July, 1952.

PRESENT: HON. JOHN M. CASHIN, COUNTY JUDGE.

STATE OF NEW YORK, COUNTY COURT, COUNTY OF ULSTER.

In the Matter of the Application of PAUL JOSEPH STARZYNSKI for leave to change his name to PAUL JOSEPH STARK.

On reading and filing the petition of Paul Joseph STARZYNSKI, verified the 23rd day of July, 1952, praying for a change of name of Paul Joseph Starzynski, it being requested that he be permitted to assume the name of Paul Joseph Stark in the place and stead of his present name, and the court being satisfied that said petition is true and it appearing from the said petition, and the court being satisfied that there is no reasonable objection to the change of the name proposed, and it further duly appearing that the petitioner is duly registered under said name of Paul Joseph Starzynski in Local Board No. 22 of the United States Selective Service at Franklin and Bridge Streets, Catskill, New York, and it further appearing from the order that the Tanners National Bank of Catskill, Catskill, New York holds a chattel mortgage against a 1951 Ford, License GR-2115,

NOW, on motion of James J. Abernethy, Attorney for the said petitioner, it is

ORDERED, that the said Paul Joseph Starzynski be and hereby is authorized to assume the name of Paul J. Stark in place and stead of his present name upon complying with the provisions of Article 6 of the Civil Rights Law and of this order, namely,

That this order be entered and the said petition upon which it was granted be filed within ten days from the date hereof in the office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster; that, within ten days from the date of entry hereof, a copy of this order shall be published in the Kingston Daily Freeman, a newspaper published in the County of Ulster, New York; and that, within forty days after the making of this order, proof of such publication by affidavit shall be filed with the Clerk of the County of Ulster;

That a copy of this order and the papers upon which it is based shall be served by registered mail upon the Chairman of Local Board No. 22 of the United States Selective Service at which the said applicant is registered for selective service within twenty days after entry of this order, and that proof of such service shall be filed with the said Clerk of the County of Ulster within ten days after such service;

That a copy of this order shall be served upon the Tanners National Bank of Catskill, Catskill, New York, by registered mail and within twenty days after the entry of this order and that proof of such service will be filed with the Clerk of the County of Ulster within ten days after such service;

That, following the due filing of the said petition and entry of said order as hereinbefore directed, the publication of such order, and the filing of proof of publication thereof, and the service of a copy of said order and said papers as herebefore directed, and, on and after the 2nd day of September, 1952, the petitioner, Paul Joseph Starzynski, shall be known as and by the name of Paul Joseph Stark, which he is hereby authorized to assume and by no other name.

Noted Professor Dies

Belmont, Mass., July 25 (AP)—Harvard men everywhere mourned their beloved "Copey" today. Professor emeritus Charles Townsend Copeland, scholar and student of English and American literature and Cambridge legend to three generations of Harvard students, died yesterday at 92. A native of Calais, Me., he graduated from Harvard in 1882. Ten years later he was back at the Cambridge University as a lecturer in English literature. This time he stayed 60 years.

Population of the Federation of Malaya has increased 30 per cent in the last 20 years.

Death Called Accidental

Following an investigation by state police from the Kingston station yesterday and an autopsy performed at the Seamon Brothers funeral parlors in Saugerties, it was announced that the death of Virgil Smith, 61, employed on a farm at Mt. Marion was due to accidental causes. The body was found floating in the Esopus creek near the junction of the Muddy Creek a mile and a half from the farm where he was employed. Coroner Michael Galietta ordered an autopsy. Drowning was given as the cause of death.

Six Polio Cases

Ulster county has had six polio cases reported to date this year, the health department reported today. A report from Albany yesterday said new cases reported in the upstate area for the week ending July 19 totaled 51. During the week ending July 21, 1951 the total was 33. One case was reported in Ulster county during the week ending last July 19.

On reading and filing the petition of Paul Joseph STARZYNSKI, verified the 23rd day of July, 1952, praying for a change of name of Paul Joseph Starzynski, it being requested that he be permitted to assume the name of Paul Joseph Stark in the place and stead of his present name, and the court being satisfied that said petition is true and it appearing from the said petition, and the court being satisfied that there is no reasonable objection to the change of the name proposed, and it further duly appearing that the petitioner is duly registered under said name of Paul Joseph Starzynski in Local Board No. 22 of the United States Selective Service at Franklin and Bridge Streets, Catskill, New York, and it further appearing from the order that the Tanners National Bank of Catskill, Catskill, New York holds a chattel mortgage against a 1951 Ford, License GR-2115,
NOW, on motion of James J. Abernethy, Attorney for the said petitioner, it is ORDERED, that the said Paul Joseph Starzynski be and hereby is authorized to assume the name of Paul J. Stark in place and stead of his present name upon complying with the provisions of Article 6 of the Civil Rights Law and of this order, namely,
That this order be entered and the said petition upon which it was granted be filed within ten days from the date hereof in the office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster; that, within ten days from the date of entry hereof, a copy of this order shall be published in the Kingston Daily Freeman, a newspaper published in the County of Ulster, New York; and that, within forty days after the making of this order, proof of such publication by affidavit shall be filed with the Clerk of the County of Ulster;
That a copy of this order and the papers upon which it is based shall be served by registered mail upon the Chairman of Local Board No. 22 of the United States Selective Service at which the said applicant is registered for selective service within twenty days after entry of this order, and that proof of such service shall be filed with the said Clerk of the County of Ulster within ten days after such service;
That a copy of this order shall be served upon the Tanners National Bank of Catskill, Catskill, New York, by registered mail and within twenty days after the entry of this order and that proof of such service will be filed with the Clerk of the County of Ulster within ten days after such service;
That, following the due filing of the said petition and entry of said order as hereinbefore directed, the publication of such order, and the filing of proof of publication thereof, and the service of a copy of said order and said papers as herebefore directed, and, on and after the 2nd day of September, 1952, the petitioner, Paul Joseph Starzynski, shall be known as and by the name of Paul Joseph Stark, which he is hereby authorized to assume and by no other name.

Noted Professor Dies

Belmont, Mass., July 25 (AP)—Harvard men everywhere mourned their beloved "Copey" today. Professor emeritus Charles Townsend Copeland, scholar and student of English and American literature and Cambridge legend to three generations of Harvard students, died yesterday at 92. A native of Calais, Me., he graduated from Harvard in 1882. Ten years later he was back at the Cambridge University as a lecturer in English literature. This time he stayed 60 years.

Population of the Federation of Malaya has increased 30 per cent in the last 20 years.

Death Called Accidental

Following an investigation by state police from the Kingston station yesterday and an autopsy performed at the Seamon Brothers funeral parlors in Saugerties, it was announced that the death of Virgil Smith, 61, employed on a farm at Mt. Marion was due to accidental causes. The body was found floating in the Esopus creek near the junction of the Muddy Creek a mile and a half from the farm where he was employed. Coroner Michael Galietta ordered an autopsy. Drowning was given as the cause of death.

Six Polio Cases

Ulster county has had six polio cases reported to date this year, the health department reported today. A report from Albany yesterday said new cases reported in the upstate area for the week ending July 19 totaled 51. During the week ending July 21, 1951 the total was 33. One case was reported in Ulster county during the week ending last July 19.

Sun rises at 4:29 a. m.; sun sets at 7:12 p. m., EST.

Weather, clear.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 61 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 80 degrees.

Weather Forecast

New York city and vicinity—Sunny and pleasant today, highest temperature in the lower 80's. Fair and continued pleasant tonight, lowest temperature in the 60's. Saturday mostly fair with no appreciable change in temperature, highest in the 80's.

Eastern New York—Sunny today, highest 75 to 80. Fair tonight, lowest 55 to 60. Saturday partly cloudy and warmer with scattered thundershowers likely west and north portions by late afternoon or night.

The city engineer's weather records today showed a temperature of 76 degrees at 10 a. m., a barometic pressure of 30.20 inche, a humidity of 82 per cent, and a northeast wind with a velocity of two miles an hour. The high temperature yesterday was 85 at 3 p. m., and the low 67 at 11 p. m. The mean temperature was 76 and the normal is 75. The humidity was 92 at 1 a. m., and 63 at 2 p. m. The barometic pressure was 30:05 at 10 p. m., and 29.80 at 2 p. m. The top velocity of a north wind was 27 miles an hour.

More Observers Needed in City

Local civil defense leaders today stressed the need for more ground observers, both men and women, and announced that registration will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., in the civil defense quarters, city hall today.

It was announced that women have been filling in on the night and early morning shifts because the men have not been sufficiently responsive, but it was also reported that more women are needed for the afternoon shifts.

Mrs. Barbara Matthews, chief observer, emphasized that during the two weeks that observers have been on duty for 24 hours, the volunteers have cooperated to the best of their ability. Many have served more than their two-hour shifts, however, she said, and in addition to the officers, some have served six or more hours during the day or night.

Leith Harrison, Vincent Coons, and Robert Pratt, three young men, she said, have reported every day for one or more shifts. Because of the shortage of men Mrs. George Bigler, Mrs. Catherine McAndrew, Mrs. Alice Hart, Mrs. Dorothea Blume, Mrs. Marjorie Jansen and Mrs. Matthews, herself, have been serving on the 2 to 4 and 4 to 6 a. m., shifts

Mrs. G. D. Logan, supervisor of the ground observer corps, said that the citizens of Kingston will be showing their gratitude to the patriotic observers who are now serving by enrolling and relieving the spotters who are doing double duty. She expressed her thanks to the chief observer, officers and observers for their work.

Women are needed on the shifts from 12 to 2, from 2 to 4, and from 4 to 6 p. m., the chief observer said.

Pasha Government Arrests Police

Cairo, Egypt, July 25 (AP)—A new Egyptian government pledged to sweeping reforms began to govern today under Premier Ala Maher Pasha and five high-ranking police officers were arrested.

The arrests were ordered by the new Army Commander in Chief, Gen. Mohamed Naguib Bey, whose military coup Wednesday put Maher Pasha back into office. Naguib said the police officers conspired "to arouse trouble and undermine public security."

The new non-party cabinet was sworn in yesterday in Alexandria where King Farouk is summering. It is Egypt's sixth government since riots in Cairo last January touched off a series of government crises and left the kingdom unstable politically.

The premier kept the key interior, foreign affairs and war portfolios for himself.

Inspects Famed Engine

County Judge John M. Cashin, local railroad fan and son of the late Martin J. Cashin, engineer of the West Shore Railroad, inspects the famous engine 999 at the current exhibition of railroad equipment on Greenkill avenue. The exhibition, featured as part of the 300th Anniversary celebration of Kingston, shows both old and modern railroad equipment. At the Kingston station is the "Memory Lane" picture exhibit and scale models of New York Central rolling stock. The exhibitions will close Sunday evening following the railroad fan trip on the former Ulster & Delaware Railroad. (Freeman photo)

Pro-Harriman

Franklin D. Roosevelt in the White House, helped to cook the goose of FDR Jr., and associates.

It happened on the Virginia issue, which arose when hundreds of delegates had slipped away from the convention for dinner.

Lehman, chairman of the New York delegation had announced New York's vote as 90-4 against permitting Virginia to remain, because it had not signed a "loyalty" pledge in accordance with a new rule put across by the "liberals."

They Hurry Back

Farley and other delegates saw the situation on television screens and hurried back to the hall. Farley got into a stiff argument with Lehman. He told the senator that more than four New Yorkers should be recorded in favor of Virginia.

Lehman said he had counted only two but generously gave the opposition four.

Farley asked that he be recorded in favor of keeping Virginia in. He went hunting for more "yes" votes. Four from the Rochester area— Roy Bush, Mrs. Anna May Rush, Louis A. Wehle and Clifford J. Ennis—arrived and told Lehman they were for the Virginians. So did William H. Morgan of Cortland.

Lehman then announced the revised vote as 87-7 against retaining Virginia.

Lehman Stands on Vote

Shortly afterward, Mayor Erastus Corning of Albany rushed into the hall pushed his way up to Lehman and asked to be recorded as voting "yes." But the senator stood on the 87-7 tally.

Lehman declined to name the seven. Still later, Fred C. Casey of Troy, John A. English of Schenectady, John A. Kosinski of Amsterdam and Jesse Sharlette of Lake Placid arrived. They told reporters they were retaining for Virginia, but whether they made this known to Lehman was not determined.

Meanwhile, Farley moved among delegations looking for support. He said he got some, too.

For Farley the decision of the convention not to bounce Virginia's 28 delegates was a triple triumph. He helped Stevenson, he hurt a couple of fellows he didn't mind poking politically—Roosevelt and Lehman—and he showed he still had friends.

Earlier in the session, Roosevelt placed Harriman's name in nomination. It evoked a 21-minute demonstration.

A few minutes later, Mayor Corning placed Ocar R. Ewing in nomination. This produced a brief demonstration. Ewing wasn't going anywhere—and, as far as Farley and Corning was concerned, neither was Roosevelt or Harriman.

U. S. Asks Better

abide by the 1949 convention, neither had done so. It cited three examples of failure to make good on the pledges. The U. S. said the Reds have:

1. Never permitted "inspection of prison of war camps by an impartial international body."
2. Failed to provide for delivery of relief parcels to prisoners.
3. Placed "prisoner of war camps * * * in areas in proximity to military objectives, exposing the prisoners to danger of attack."

By contrast, the American note to the Kremlin said, the UN command "has consistenly abided by the provisions of the Geneva Convention."

Arrives From Germany

New York, July 25 (AP)—Brig. Gen. John H. (Iron Mike) Michaelis, 39, veteran of the Korean war and more recently on the staff of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway in Paris, arrived here from Germany yesterday to become commandant of cadets at West Point. The young general came from Bremerhaven aboard the navy liner LaGuardia with his wife, Mary, and two daughters, Maureen, two, born in Japan, and Marie, two months, born in Paris.

O'Donnell Moves In To Assist Governor

Albany, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—A former Associated Press reporter, Harry J. O'Donnell, is acting as Gov. Dewey's secretary.

Dewey appointed O'Donnell yesterday to serve while James C. Hagerty is handling press affairs for Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican presidential candidate.

O'Donnell, 37, resigned from the Associated Press last month to become public information officer for State Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern and the State Department of Audit and Control. The job, from which he will be given leave, paid $10,700 annually.

WE hear tell that there's a Maharajah or something in Asia who is paid as much gold as he weighs. No doubt he has money to burn. But for us more ordinary people money is pretty hard to come by. That's why bank savings are so important, because when money is put into a bank it draws interest. The Maharajah needn't worry about interest, but we ordinary folks can't let this get away either. We welcome the good news that comes several times a year . . . when the interest on deposits are compounded and put into our account. Don't let your money go up in smoke. Because of the shortage of men Mrs. George Bigler, Mrs. Catherine McAndrew, Mrs. Alice Hart, Mrs. Dorothea Blume, Mrs. Marjorie Jansen and Mrs. Matthews, herself, have been serving on the 2 to 4 and 4 to 6 a. m., shifts

Mrs. G. D. Logan, supervisor of the ground observer corps, said that the citizens of Kingston will be showing their gratitude to the patriotic observers who are now serving by enrolling and relieving the spotters who are doing double duty. She expressed her thanks to the chief observer, officers and observers for their work.

Women are needed on the shifts from 12 to 2, from 2 to 4, and from 4 to 6 p. m., the chief observer said.

Inspects Famed Engine

County Judge John M. Cashin, local railroad fan and son of the late Martin J. Cashin, engineer of the West Shore Railroad, inspects the famous engine 999 at the current exhibition of railroad equipment on Greenkill avenue. The exhibition, featured as part of the 300th Anniversary celebration of Kingston, shows both old and modern railroad equipment. At the Kingston station is the "Memory Lane" picture exhibit and scale models of New York Central rolling stock. The exhibitions will close Sunday evening following the railroad fan trip on the former Ulster & Delaware Railroad. (Freeman photo)

Pro-Harriman

Franklin D. Roosevelt in the White House, helped to cook the goose of FDR Jr., and associates.

It happened on the Virginia issue, which arose when hundreds of delegates had slipped away from the convention for dinner.

Lehman, chairman of the New York delegation had announced New York's vote as 90-4 against permitting Virginia to remain, because it had not signed a "loyalty" pledge in accordance with a new rule put across by the "liberals."

They Hurry Back

Farley and other delegates saw the situation on television screens and hurried back to the hall. Farley got into a stiff argument with Lehman. He told the senator that more than four New Yorkers should be recorded in favor of Virginia.

Lehman said he had counted only two but generously gave the opposition four.

Farley asked that he be recorded in favor of keeping Virginia in. He went hunting for more "yes" votes. Four from the Rochester area— Roy Bush, Mrs. Anna May Rush, Louis A. Wehle and Clifford J. Ennis—arrived and told Lehman they were for the Virginians. So did William H. Morgan of Cortland.

Lehman then announced the revised vote as 87-7 against retaining Virginia.

Lehman Stands on Vote

Shortly afterward, Mayor Erastus Corning of Albany rushed into the hall pushed his way up to Lehman and asked to be recorded as voting "yes." But the senator stood on the 87-7 tally.

Lehman declined to name the seven. Still later, Fred C. Casey of Troy, John A. English of Schenectady, John A. Kosinski of Amsterdam and Jesse Sharlette of Lake Placid arrived. They told reporters they were retaining for Virginia, but whether they made this known to Lehman was not determined.

Meanwhile, Farley moved among delegations looking for support. He said he got some, too.

For Farley the decision of the convention not to bounce Virginia's 28 delegates was a triple triumph. He helped Stevenson, he hurt a couple of fellows he didn't mind poking politically—Roosevelt and Lehman—and he showed he still had friends.

Earlier in the session, Roosevelt placed Harriman's name in nomination. It evoked a 21-minute demonstration.

A few minutes later, Mayor Corning placed Ocar R. Ewing in nomination. This produced a brief demonstration. Ewing wasn't going anywhere—and, as far as Farley and Corning was concerned, neither was Roosevelt or Harriman.

U. S. Asks Better

abide by the 1949 convention, neither had done so. It cited three examples of failure to make good on the pledges. The U. S. said the Reds have:

1. Never permitted "inspection of prison of war camps by an impartial international body."
2. Failed to provide for delivery of relief parcels to prisoners.
3. Placed "prisoner of war camps * * * in areas in proximity to military objectives, exposing the prisoners to danger of attack."

By contrast, the American note to the Kremlin said, the UN command "has consistenly abided by the provisions of the Geneva Convention."

Pasha Government Arrests Police

Cairo, Egypt, July 25 (AP)—A new Egyptian government pledged to sweeping reforms began to govern today under Premier Ala Maher Pasha and five high-ranking police officers were arrested.

The arrests were ordered by the new Army Commander in Chief, Gen. Mohamed Naguib Bey, whose military coup Wednesday put Maher Pasha back into office. Naguib said the police officers conspired "to arouse trouble and undermine public security."

The new non-party cabinet was sworn in yesterday in Alexandria where King Farouk is summering. It is Egypt's sixth government since riots in Cairo last January touched off a series of government crises and left the kingdom unstable politically.

The premier kept the key interior, foreign affairs and war portfolios for himself.

Arrives From Germany

New York, July 25 (AP)—Brig. Gen. John H. (Iron Mike) Michaelis, 39, veteran of the Korean war and more recently on the staff of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway in Paris, arrived here from Germany yesterday to become commandant of cadets at West Point. The young general came from Bremerhaven aboard the navy liner LaGuardia with his wife, Mary, and two daughters, Maureen, two, born in Japan, and Marie, two months, born in Paris.

O'Donnell Moves In To Assist Governor

Albany, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—A former Associated Press reporter, Harry J. O'Donnell, is acting as Gov. Dewey's secretary.

Dewey appointed O'Donnell yesterday to serve while James C. Hagerty is handling press affairs for Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican presidential candidate.

Hagerty, a veteran member of the Dewey "team," took leave June 23 from the $18,500-a-year job. O'Donnell's salary was not announced.

O'Donnell, 37, resigned from the Associated Press last month to become public information officer for State Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern and the State Department of Audit and Control. The job, from which he will be given leave, paid $10,700 annually.

WE hear tell that there's a Maharajah or something in Asia who is paid as much gold as he weighs. No doubt he has money to burn. But for us more ordinary people money is pretty hard to come by. That's why bank savings are so important, because when money is put into a bank it draws interest. The Maharajah needn't worry about interest, but we ordinary folks can't let this get away either. We welcome the good news that comes several times a year . . . when the interest on deposits are compounded and put into our account. Don't let your money go up in smoke. Come on in today and open a savings account. Your passbook will be your visual record of your financial progress.
